San Rafael To Vote On Attorney, Police Chief

FALLS FROM BRIDGE

An unidentified young man leaped today into the Monongahela River in Pittsburgh from the superstructure of the Fort Pitt Bridge. A photographer snapped this picture just seconds before the man landed in the water. He was fished out by a police boat crew and taken to a hospital in critical condition. (AP Wirephoto)

Novatan Shot As He Chases San Francisco Shoplifters

A Novato garage attendant was shot in the abdomen last evening as he pursued a shoplifting suspect in a downtown San Francisco garage.

Ronald Perry, 26, of 3 Diablo Court underwent surgery at Mission Emergency Hospital for removal of the bullet. He was reported in fair condition today, with possibility of transfer to Novato Hospital.

Andrew Carl Prescott, 30, and Betty Jean Jones, 31, both of San Francisco were arrested today and booked as suspects in the shooting.

The affair started as a shoplifting spree at the City of Paris, a half-block from the Ellis-O'Farrell Garage, where Perry has been at attendant for a year and one-half.

Burt Henderson, 29, of Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, a security officer at the store, was called to the men's department after a clerk saw a dusky man and woman leave with a $120 man's overcoat.

Minutes later, the pair reentered the store and began looking at women's knit dresses.

City Hall Site To Be Bought By San Rafael

Immediate Action On 'Pay-As-Go' Basis Ordered

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Immediate purchase of property needed for a new city hall, and a program to finance its construction on a pay-as-you-go basis, were ordered last night by the San Rafael City Council.

Both actions were unanimous.

City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson and City Clerk W. L. Morgan were instructed to prepare within 30 days a program for financing.

AT LIBRARY LOT

The property to be purchased—through condemnation if necessary—is approximately two and one-half acres between Fifth and Mission avenues extending from the city library lot to C Street. This was the city hall site recommended by Ebasco Services last spring after a survey.

City Manager Andersen has been in preliminary discussions with the property owners for some time. He was instructed to negotiate for immediate purchase. The council also adopted a resolution declaring acquisition of the property a public necessity and authorizing City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw to at once file preliminary condemnation suits.

FROM SURPLUS

Councilman Louis H. Baar, reporting on a meeting he and Councilman Fred E. Jensen held with Andersen and Morgan on city hall financing, recited figures which showed that the city could finance all but $222,112 of the expected $1,204,000 cost of site and construction from its present unappropriated surplus and the sale of city property no longer needed.

The property sold would include the present city hall, five acres of the 7.8-acre canalside property where the city's corporation yard is located, and a parcel at Fourth and Mary streets recently rezoned for commercial use with the idea of selling it.

Basr recommended that relocating the central fire station adjacent to the new city hall be postponed until later. All councilmen concurred in this.

"I believe in the next year we could finance the city hall without a bond issue," said Baar. He proposed that Andersen and Morgan "get together and work out a program of financing to pay as we go."

Jensen, who had proposed a $500,000 bond issue toward the new city hall, objected: "I hate to see us deplete everything . . . If an emergency came, we wouldn't have any money."

"If we needed extra money next year, we could increase the tax rate," argued Baar. "All we legally should tax is for the amount of money we intend to spend. We shouldn't be carrying a big surplus."

"I'm not going to oppose it if the majority of the council want to do it one way or another," said Jensen.

Mayor John F. McInnis then instructed Andersen and Morgan to prepare the financing program suggested by Baar.

And it was Jensen who moved adoption of the resolution for immediate acquisition of the property.

HONEST MAN: 'JURY FEE IS NOT FOR ME'

Without even the lantern of a Diogenes, Marin County supervisors found an honest man today and the county benefitted $5.45 in the process.

A letter was received by the board from Edward J. Gilmore of Ross, returning the county's check for jury duty which he hadn't performed.

"This check was sent to me," wrote Gilmore, "because I appeared for jury duty one day in July and learned that the jury had been dismissed. Due to a mixup in communications I did not receive prior notice of the dismissal.

"In any event, I did nothing to earn this $5.45 — merely inconvenienced a trifle. Since I am a firm believer in the old adage of 'no work—no pay,' I am applying the rule to myself.

"The $5.45 won't put much of a dent in next year's tax rate, but is indicative of my feelings about giving money away."

No Decision Reached On Net Depot

Two letters from Washington received by Marin County supervisors today said no decision has been reached as to the future of the former Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula.

"The future utilization of the Tiburon facility is presently under study," said a letter to Chairman Walter R. Castro from Rear Adm. W. T. Hines. He said he'd write again when he knew more.

Interior Sec. Stewart L. Udall wrote in specific reply to the supervisors' letter of Oct. 24 urging consideration of the International Science Foundation proposal for establishment of an International Science Center.

Udall said inquiry revealed that "no final determination has yet been reached by the Navy Department" as to further utilization of the property and that until it was transferred to Interior, there could be no more discussion.

"There are four bureaus in this department which have a strong interest in using Tiburon as an oceanographic research base," Udall added.

"Should we receive jurisdiction of the property by transfer, it will be our primary responsibility to insure that the operational needs of these bureaus are satisfied."

Special Election Funds Authorized

Marin County supervisors today authorized a transfer of $25,500 from the appropriated reserve to pay costs of the special congressional election next Jan. 22 resulting from the death of Rep. Clem Miller.

Of this amount asked by Clerk George H. Gnoss, $20,000 will be spent for fees of election officials and the remaining $2,500 will go to freight and moving costs.

Gnoss told the board he had cut costs by consolidation of precincts wherever possible.

Controversial Talk At Schools Backed

Tamalpais High School District trustees declared unanimously last night that they will continue to encourage classroom discussion of controversial issues by controversial people.

In two formal statements of policy, the board outlined its plan for "selection and use of outside speakers" and "school study of controversial issues."

The policy statements were the board's final reply to parents who objected to the appearance of pacifist Dr. Monte G. Steadman last month before Redwood High School history classes.

Stating policy for the study of controversy, the board said the "effective conduct of public affairs in our way of life depends upon development of informed, competent, loyal and responsible citizens.

"Intelligent study of the American way of life, both its history and its contemporary affairs must often involve a consideration of vital issues which have found, or must yet find, their resolution in labor and heat of public controversy.

"Any effective education . . . must deal with such issues frankly and honestly whenever they are appropriate in the educational program of the school."

Outside speakers are "desirable for sound educational practice," the board stated.

Ross School To Test State Unification Laws

Trustees of the Ross School District last night authorized a $3,000 contract with a San Francisco law firm to test the legality of the state school unification laws.

The contract is with the firm of Barnett and Robertson, which is being hired by the California Assn. of Small School Districts to test the law which requires unification either by local or state action.

About 50 persons attending last night's meeting gave general endorsement to the board's action, said Supt. Donald D. Leister.

The Ross trustees authorized a Saturday morning science program to begin in January, with the first eight sessions emphasizing biology.

They accepted with regret the resignation of Superintendent Leister, who will leave the district June 30 to work for his doctorate in education.

Jan. 22 Decided As Date

San Rafael residents will vote Jan. 22 on city charter amendments to make the city attorney and police chief appointive.

The San Rafael City Council voted unanimously last night to place both proposals on the ballot for an election to be combined with the special First Congressional District election.

On the same day, residents of Terra Linda Oaks 9 will vote on annexation to San Rafael.

City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw proposed the January vote on his own office, announcing that he would not seek another term anyhow.

'MOVE NOW'

He told the council: "You must move now if you want a charter amendment. If it is left for the April ballot, it could not take effect until the end of another four-year term, as it would have to go to the legislature for approval after passage by the voters."

Bagshaw said the council should be in a position to regulate the amount of time spent by a city attorney on his job, and the amount of his pay. "You cannot do that with an elective city attorney," he said.

"Municipal law is a specialized field," he went on. "Most attorneys know little about it. It would be far better to employ some young fellow who wishes to specialize in that field."

DOUBTS TOLD

Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Louis H. Baar expressed doubt whether the city now needs fulltime services of an attorney, but all councilmen agreed the time may not be far off when the job will be full time.

David Menary Jr., only attorney on the council, moved the charter amendment be placed on the Jan. 22 ballot.

Noting that the same time element would apply to the chief of police job, since Chief Charles J. Chiesa's term expires in April, Mayor McInnis said:

NOT PERSONAL

"There is no personal problem involved here; but we followed Chief Simpson's report in all areas but this. I think we should follow through by presenting the proposal for an appointive police chief for an electorate expression." (Chief Charles E. Simpson of Monterey police made an extended study of the San Rafael Police Department for the council, and recommended various improvements. He urged that a charter amendment providing for an appointive police chief be placed before the people.)

Councilman Fred E. Jensen asked Chief Chiesa, "How do you feel about this?"

"I'm satisfied with the way it is now," said Chiesa. "I in-

Teeners Wreck Speeding Car; 'Wonder They Weren't Killed'

Two runaway boys from Fortuna wrecked a car stolen in San Rafael at the Shoreline Highway turnoff from Highway 101 early today after a 70-mile-an-hour chase by Sausalito police.

The 14-year-old driver suffered a fractured left hip; his 15-year-old passenger, chest injuries. "It's a wonder they weren't killed," declared Officer Bennie H. Barrett, who was roaring after them in a Sausalito police car.

Barrett, patroling at 12:45 a.m., spotted a 1962 red Corvair parked with its lights on at the Sausalito Shell Service Station at 900 Bridgeway Boulevard. He made a U-turn to investigate. The car raced north on Bridgeway.

Barrett turned on red light and siren and sped in pursuit, radioing for help. Officer Herbert Smith in another police car tried to stop the speeding Corvair near Marinship Gate 3. "They passed him as if he were standing still," said Barrett.

The fleeing car roared up Highway 101, then swung sharply for the Shoreline turnoff. It left the road, skidded about 100 feet broadside, hit the right shoulder, flipped end-over-end, plummeted against a utility pole in a ditch beside the road.

The boys climbed out of the wreckage.

The car, police learned, was owned by Richard L. Crespin of Napa but was being used by Harriet Brenner of 217 Laurel Place, San Rafael, and was stolen from in front of her home shortly before last midnight.

Sausalito police placed a hold on the runaways at Marin General Hospital.

Hub In Mourning, But For No One

San Anselmo was in mourning briefly this morning, but it was a slip.

The flag at the firehouse was flying at halfstaff until about 10 a.m. when a passing motorist stopped to ask why.

Firemen explained that the flag flies on a nylon rope which sometimes slips a little if not tied just right. The flag was raised again and the rope tied right.

OLD SCHOONER GALILEE

Sausalito Might Get A Maritime Museum

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's sunken schooner Galilee was once a mail and fruit packet, once a codfish carrier, and once chartered to make geographical surveys in the Pacific. Now the ship, or part of it, has a good chance to become a small Sausalito maritime museum.

The Sausalito City Council had declared the Galilee a public nuisance, threatening it with destruction. But the sunken craft was bought yesterday by Belvedere architect John Lord King from Walter Leaskin.

Leaskin and his family have lived aboard the ship, sunk in the mud at the end of Mono Street, for four years.

King is a director of Sausalito Properties Inc., which plans apartments and shops in the vicinity of the Galilee. He said he has no specific plan for the Galilee.

"The important thing," he said, "is I want to preserve as much of the ship as we can for Sausalito. She will be used to keep some of the nostalgia of the waterfront, either in connection with Sausalito Properties Inc. or possibly in connection with the San Francisco Maritime Museum." King is a trustee of the Maritime Museum.

"I don't think it will be physically possible to move her in toto," said the architect. "If we can, we will use her stern as an exhibit. We might use her deck for a restaurant and use the cannon house as a nucleus for a small waterfront maritime museum in Sausalito."

King did not disclose the price of the ship but said it was "nominal."

Austin Keegan, who is making a four-foot model of the ship at his San Francisco home, gave this brief history of the vessel:

It was built as a brigantine and ran for many years to Tahiti, carrying mail and returning with oranges, limes and other citrus fruits. "One of the fastest things that ever sailed in the Pacific," Keegan declared.

In 1907 the ship was chartered by the Carnegie Institute for a geographical survey of the Pacific.

On the death in about 1910 of its owner, Capt. Matthew Turner, the ship was rigged down to a three-masted schooner. It was then used as a fishing boat, bringing codfish from the Bering Sea to San Francisco and to a cannery at Belvedere where the fish were dried.

"A Captain Quinn brought the Galilee to Sausalito in 1936," Keegan said, and lived aboard it for years.

Keegan said the Galilee was the last of six packets which sailed to the South Seas.

Laborer Is Hit Over Head With Tire Iron

A Mill Valley laborer complained last night he was hit over the head with a tire iron outside a liquor store at Tamalpais Junction.

Frank H. Anderson, 45, of 213 Morning Sun Avenue, told Deputy Sheriff George Johnsen that the incident stemmed from an argument over moving of cars in the lot outside Dan's Liquors. Anderson said the other man, a Negro, got a tire iron and struck him on the back of the head, then drove away.

Miller's Will Is Filed For Probate Here

The late Rep. Clem Miller's will, which leaves all his holdings to his wife and to a trust fund for the support of his family, was filed today in Marin Superior Court.

A hearing was set for 10 a.m. Dec. 3 for admission of the will for probate and for appointment of Mrs. Katharine Miller, the widow, and Wells Fargo Bank as co-executors of the estate.

Wayne H. White of San Francisco, one of three attorneys representing the executors, said he did not know the worth of Miller's estate except that "it is in excess of $60,000."

Miller died in an airplane crash Oct. 7, too late to have his name deleted from the Nov. 6 ballot. He won re-election to the House of Representatives posthumously. A special election will be held on Jan. 22 to name his successor.

The late congressman's will is dated March 13, 1956. He names his wife as primary beneficiary and the rest goes to a family trust fund for the support of Mrs. Miller and their five daughters, ranging in age from 7 to 15. Former residents of Corte Madera, they now live at 2400 Tilden Street N.W., Washington, D.C.

The only specific amount mentioned in the will is a $15,000 insurance policy on his life.

Car In San Rafael Damaged By Vandals

It seems someone doesn't like Curtis H. Brown Jr.

Brown, of 2167 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, reported to police that during last night someone smashed eggs inside his car which was parked in front of his home and gouged the upholstery with a sharp instrument.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Strike Against Lockheed Set Nov. 28

BURBANK (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Co., the aerospace industry's lone holdout against an employee vote on the union shop, faces a strike Nov. 28.

Lockheed's missile-making division produces the Polaris missile. Presidential intervention has been demanded. The company says it expects work on the submarine-launched Polaris and other defense projects will be slowed, but not stopped.

The International Assn. of Machinists set the walkout yesterday, claiming 21,500 members will leave their jobs. Nearly all are in California, with about 100 at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Brothers Get Life In Trailer Slaying

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Two brothers were sentenced to life in prison yesterday for the murder of Thomas Shuttleton, 22, of Long Beach.

Superior Court Judge Leonard M. Friedman said he spared Bobby Lokey, 23, and his brother Galen E. Lokey, 20, from the gas chamber because he was convinced the crime was not premeditated.

Bobby, who fired the fatal shot, was sentenced to life without possibility of parole. Galen got life with parole possible after seven years.

The brothers forced their way into Shuttleton's trailer home parked on U.S. 99 last Aug. 15. Mrs. Shuttleton said they locked her husband in a closet and Bobby molested her while Galen drove the car.

Shuttleton broke out of the closet and was shot while scuffling with Bobby.

15 Defect To West

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — Fifteen passengers aboard a Polish tourist liner have defected to the West, police sources said today.

Police said nine have asked for political asylum and the other six are expected to do so within the next 24 hours.

The 15 were said to have been among 80 passengers who arrived here aboard the Polish liner Mazowze. The liner sailed back to Poland last night with only 65 passengers aboard.

Weissmuller Kin Dies

LAGUNA BEACH (AP) — The 19year-old daughter of former movie Tarzan Johnny Weissmuller was fatally injured yesterday when her car overturned on Highway 101 just north of Laguna Beach.

California highway patrol investigators said Heidi Weissmuller Hauso of Los Angeles apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Her husband, Mike, 19, and another passenger, Frank Brownell, 17, both were tossed to the pavement.

Mrs. Hauso was driving the men to their naval base in San Diego.

Negro Seeking Entry

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP) — Lawyers for a Negro seeking entry to all-white Clemson College have drawn an admission that a card relating to his application was put away in a vault instead of handled normally.

The college contends that Harvey Gantt, 19, was denied admission because his application was not in proper order.

In U.S. District Court, however, Kenneth Vickery, director of admissions and Clemson registrar, testified yesterday that a card relating to the application was put in the vault "because of the prospect of litigation."

Exile Home Bombed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A bomb exploded in front of the home of Cuban Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona today, destroying his automobile.

The blast occurred an hour after the exile leader had returned from Washington where he conferred with U.S. officials and Latin-American diplomats on the Cuban situation.

Socialist Mayor Dies

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Jasper McLevy, 84, mayor of Bridgeport for 24 years and a man who carried the Socialist banner for more than half a century, died at his home yesterday. He had been in failing health since he suffered a stroke two years ago.

McLevy had run for governor, U.S. senator, mayor, legislator and alderman.

Bout With Bottle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 15-year-old boy, who drank the equivalent of nearly 50 normal drinks, was in good condition today after a near fatal bout with death.

Doctors disclosed yesterday that his breathing stopped six times and at one point a tracheotomy was performed so his windpipe could be opened to restore normal breathing.

The teen-ager began drinking Saturday night after a half dozen friends joked about getting drunk. He was not identified.

Mrs. America Divorce

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. William G. Giesse of suburban Mayfield Heights, who won the Mrs. America title in 1958, is seeking a divorce. Her husband blames pressures of a modern life for their breakup.

Mrs. Giesse, 38, gave incompatibility as her grounds for divorce in a suit filed Saturday in Common Pleas Court by her attorneys.

Maritime Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Matson Navigation Co. has accused States Steamship Co. of unfair competition in its bid for increased ship service to Hawaii.

Matson filed the charge yesterday with the Maritime Subsidy Board, now considering States' request to double its annual calls in Hawaii from 13 to 26.

Matson operates as a domestic carrier and gets no federal subsidy for its California-Hawaii trips. The complaint asserted that States would be using vessels subsidized for foreign trade routes to raid Matson cargo.

A spokesman for States Steamship Co. said the refund was paid to the shipyard — not States — and "was recognized by Congress in 1936 as eliminating any unfair advantage over unsubsidized domestic operators."

G. J. CHAUDHURI
New Indian Army chief

Chinese Hit Near Plains

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today named a new army chief of staff and told Parliament the battered Indian Army is ready for a desperate stand against Chinese Communist warriors rushing toward the rich plains of Assam.

Nehru also declared the Chinese "have sent many suggestions (for talks) but we are not going to accept any one of them. We shall continue the war until we win."

Gen. Joyanto Natch Chaudhuri, 54, commander of the Indian troops that seized Portuguese Goa last December in lightning conquest, was named to succeed Gen. P. N. Thapar.

Nehru said Thapar was relieved for health reasons and is going on a long leave.

VETERAN CO

Like Thapar, the new commander is a graduate of Britain's famed Sandhurst military school and a veteran of World War II.

Nehru said the Chinese are advancing from captured Bomdila, only 80 road miles from the plains, along a road which leaves the mountains and runs through a strip of jungle before emerging onto rich rice fields and tea estates.

He said the Chinese were "a few miles beyond Bomdila."

Between Bobdila and the plains there is one last mountain pass, 9,300-foot Eagle's Nest, that would offer a good defensive position.

The American consul general in Calcutta, William Baxter, recommended that dependents of Americans on the north bank of the Brahmaputra River in Assam be evacuated. The Chinese are less than 50 air miles north of the river.

EVACUATION

Baxter also recommended that Americans on the south bank urgently consider evacuation. There are about 100 Americans known to be living in Assam, mostly Baptist missionaries.

The populous plains of Assam, which produce much of India's tea, rice and oil, were also threatened by a second Chinese drive bursting southward across India's northeast frontier district.

As bad news continued to pour in from the Himalayan battlefronts, informed sources said the Indian government may ask the United States and Britain for fighter planes.

Nehru sent an urgent personal plea yesterday to President John F. Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes.

$10-Billion Tax Slash Advised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Upturns in home construction, factory orders and personal income during October brightened the economic outlook today as a presidential advisory committee recommended a 10-billion-dollar tax cut early next year.

In separate reports, the Commerce Department announced yesterday:

Personal income rose 2.1 billion dollars last month to a record annual rate of 445.6 billion dollars.

Construction was started on 129,100 privately owned houses and apartment units, for a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,497,000, up 17 per cent from September and 4 per cent above October of last year.

Orders for durable goods climbed 3 per cent to a new high, exceeding the previous peak last January attributed in part to a heavy surge of steel orders.

Durable goods sales in October held steady at 16.4 billion dollars; matching manufacturers' sales during August and September and equaling the peak of last spring.

The president's 21-member Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy informed him yesterday that a majority favors a 10-billion-dollar tax cut early next year to strengthen the economy and expand production.

In its report on fiscal policy, the committee outlined a double objective—to increase immediate demand for both consumption and investment, and, in the long run, to step up the rate of expansion of the nation's productive capacity.

"The United States can and must improve its recent record of economic progress," the report said.

The committee, composed of business and labor executives and public representatives, met last Friday to draft its report.

The report was delivered to the White House by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Wirtz said a distinct majority favored an early 10-billion-dollar tax cut, although some preferred spacing the reduction over two or three years. Two wanted to hold the cut to four or five billion dollars during the next year.

End Special Districts? Legislators Say No

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A legislative report today condemned a widely publicized plan to eliminate most of the 3,178 special districts now trying to solve the complicated problems of growing metropolitan areas.

The proposal, defeated in the 1961 legislature, would permit the formation of multiple purpose districts, stretching across county boundaries and having the power to run transit systems, sewage disposal plants, law enforcement and fire protection agencies and civil defense.

With lawmakers under pressure to do something about improving area-wide services, the plan is expected to be revived in the 1963 session and provoke a lively fight.

A tentative report approved by Chairman Clark L. Bradley for consideration by his Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee flatly recommended the legislature turn it down.

Local governments are opposed, the report said, and the plan's only apparent backing comes from "a small, closed group of planners who have been successful in presenting their ideas to legislative and executive study groups at the state level."

The report said committee hearings indicate "present laws provide a substantial number of organizational devices which may be used in coming to grips with area wide needs."

State Probing Drugs Sales

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state is ready to move against two pharmacists for overcharging the state on prescriptions given to welfare recipients, Fiscal Officer Robert C. James of the Social Welfare Department said last night.

James said the two cases are the first uncovered in a welfare drug fraud investigation ordered by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last August. He said he still expects to find that up to 10 per cent of the 12.5 million dollars spent annually by the state for welfare drugs is illegal profits by pharmacists.

The two cases involve a Los Angeles druggist who has overcharged $18,000 during several years, and a "North Coast area" pharmasist who dispensed short quantities of drugs but charged the state for full measure, James said.

He said a half dozen other cases are under study now, and he expects at least three of them to result in disciplinary action—which could be suspension from the state program, civil action for damages or criminal fraud charges.

James said the department's lawyer, Rudolph Michaels, will be asked to decide on what action to take when he returns from vacation next Monday.

Brown appropriated $40,000 for the investigation—partly, at least, because the suspicion of fraud threatened cancellation of a 10 per cent rebate granted the state by certain drug manufacturers because of mass sales to the state welfare program. The rebate amounts to about $180,000 annually.

Daughter Can't Use Apartment In Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Mishkind cannot let their daughter and son-in-law live in an apartment in their home on Corinthian Island.

The decision was made last night by the Belvedere Planning Commission which recommended the city council deny a variance from single-family zoning of the home.

The commission as well as about half the audience were sympathetic to Mishkind but stuck by the letter of the law which prohibits apartments in single residence zones. Mishkind's attorney, Jerome A. Duffy, argued that exceptions could be made.

Mishkind claimed he had purchased the dwelling from Charles Yates in April, 1961, for $39,500, and that it was then a dual unit with separate kitchens and separate entrances.

On representation by the real estate agent, Donald Geddes, that the second unit could be rented for $160, Mishkind said he listed it for rent. He was then informed by City Mgr. Britton Rey that this was unlawful.

He withdrew his advertisement and, upon the accidental death of his son, permitted friends of his son to occupy it rent-free. In May he was ordered by the city council to desist.

The variance request specified Mishkind would charge no rent.

Letters of objections were received from Dr. and Mrs. Stuart B. Stephens of Alameda, S. E. Best, William T. Griswold, Mrs. Richard E. Doyle, Ruth A. Harris and Agnes Conrad, many of whom attended the meeting.

Richard J. MacLaury, representing the Corinthian Island Assn., which claims a membership of over 50 per cent of island residents, said its directors met last evening and decided they would not object to use of the unit by family members. He suggested this as a "good neighbor" compromise.

A motion by commissioner Berton C. Jacobson that the daughter be permitted to use the apartment with the promise that it be remodeled to a single-family dwelling within four years died for lack of a second.

The Corte Madera Town Council last night continued its ban on utility connections to the Madera Village Motel on Highway 101 until a parking plan is approved.

Karp Development Co. of San Francisco was told to redraw parking plans to conform with the zoning ordinance's requirement that spaces be a minimum eight-by-18 feet.

Representatives of the developers said 16 spaces on the parking plan, designated for sports car parking and under the minimum measurements, should be counted in the required 128 parking spaces.

The council, by 3-1 vote, ordered the plans resubmitted to the planning commission at a special meeting next week. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst was the dissenter. Resignation of Raymond L. DeYoung left the council with only four members.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS ENDS IN THE DOGHOUSE

Edward Satchell surveyed his charred Novato carport today and sadly reflected that kindness to animals can be carried too far.

Satchell's dog has been sick. Last night he put an electric heating pad in the doghouse, which was underneath the carport at 1117 Ferris Drive.

At 4:30 a.m. today, neighbors awakened him to tell him the carport was in flames. He saved the car, but the fire did $1,500 damage to carport and contents.

The dog kept warm watching the carport burn.

Youth Says He Jumped From Car, But Was Not Beaten

A San Anselmo youth found injured in the street Sunday night was not beaten, as he told police; he jumped from a moving car, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today.

Attendants at Marin General Hospital said the victim, Donald Dearman, 19, of 1612 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was in satisfactory condition today and might be released soon. He had head cuts, bruises and concussion.

Dearman had told Sgt. John Orr of San Anselmo Police Department that he had been "walked over by five guys from Sausalito." He was found lying semi-conscious on Center Boulevard near the Fairfax line.

Another account of Dearman's mishap was told by Donald Cox of 16 Myrtle Avenue, San Anselmo, who returned to the scene. Cox said Dearman and Rosalie Kemp, 20, of 252 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, were riding in Cox's car, with Dearman seated on the right. Cox told officers Dearman opened the door and rolled out despite the girl's attempt to grab him. The car was westbound at about 35 miles an hour.

Cox took the girl home and then returned to help Dearman, Buchignani said.

Two Marin School Aides On Sick List

Two members of the county superintendent of schools office were on the sick list today.

Mrs. Dorothy McMahon, secretary to Supt. Virgil Hollis, entered Marin General Hospital yesterday for a general checkup which is expected to keep her hospitalized for two weeks.

Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent who underwent surgery again two weeks ago in a San Francisco hospital, has returned to his San Rafael home to recuperate.

Baroque Concert Success

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's concert of German baroque music, the third in the current Dominican College concert artist series, was an outstanding success.

It would be difficult to select a more ideal group of musicians, especially the solo artists, for their kind of music.

Enthusiasm of the audience that nearly filled Angelico Hall on the campus in San Rafael was reflected not only in acclaim but in the unprecedented degree of animated discussion during intermission. Attending were mainly adults—including many distinguished musicians—though the student body was well represented.

Alden Gilcrist was a skillful conductor of the concert, which provided a rich variety of musical fare within the baroque style. Soloists making it a memorable occasion were soprano Carole Bogard, mezzo-soprano Margot Blum, tenor James Schwabacher, and bass-baritone James Standard.

Often singing mezza voce, the Camerata Singers played a secondary role compared with the soloists. This chorus of eight female and seven male voices was well balanced and of good tonal quality. Adding much to the tonal fabric of the ensemble was a small orchestra of four strings, two oboes, a trumpet and harpsichord or organ.

Garlic was known and used by the Chinese more than 2,000 years B.C.

HUB SAVINGS FIRM BUILDING DELAYED

Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. won't be able to get a city permit to construct its new building at 305 San Anselmo Avenue until after another meeting of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, City Engineer Richard Sypher said today.

Sypher said nobody represented the savings firm at last night's commission meeting, at which an application to reduce the number of parking spaces for the building was to have been considered. The commission tabled the matter.

The commission forwarded to the city council the new zoning ordinance which has been under consideration for two years. No one was present to argue for or against the measure. A few final changes were made, Sypher said, including addition of a 2,000-square-foot minimum size for commercial lots.

A controversy which arose last month over Fred Lanceolotti's proposal to move a house from 121 Woodland Avenue to 256 Crescent Road was resolved when Lanceolotti withdrew his application for a permit.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

1. Approved final map for a subdivision at the end of Kendrick Drive for Kenneth Shaffer.
2. Tabled an application by Russel Teasdale to subdivide property in the Rosenthal Tract, pending study of the entire area.
3. Approved a site plan for an addition to the First Baptist Church at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sais Avenue.
4. Rejected an application by Mrs. Marie Carriers to subdivide property at 310 to 330 San Anselmo Avenue into three parcels.

Corte Madera Fears Assessment For Creek

Corte Madera town councilmen last night expressed fears that the town might be assessed for a share of the costs of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said, "I see no benefit in the project to Corte Madera."

He said he was concerned because he had heard discussion of creation of a special assessment district to pay the county's share of the project cost.

Councilmen voted to ask Supervisor William D. Fusselman for clarification.

(Cost of the project has been estimated by the Army Corps of Engineers at $6,872,000. Of this, the federal government would pay $5,692,000, and the State of California would pay the remainder. The county would be obligated for maintenance, estimated at $26,000 per year for 50 years—a total of $1,300,000. Recreational development, aside from flood control itself, would have to be financed separately.)

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Put over to Dec. 1 signing a contract with architect Eugene Crawford to design a public safety building.
2. Revoked the final map of the Sunnyside Terrace subdivision since no improvements have been made in two years.
3. Put over consideration of creating a volunteer organization for civil defense to Dec. 3.
4. Put off introduction of an ordinance requiring shatterproof glass in glass doors and partitions in residences until the Dec. 17 meeting.
5. Put off indefinitely a decision on moving playground equipment on the San Clemente School grounds.
6. Approved a resolution asking for a special census estimate by the State Department of Finance.
7. Directed J. R. DeGrace to resubmit to the planning commission his plan for conversion of a single family residence at 70 Corte Madera Avenue to a duplex.
8. Approved a request for construction of a retaining wall and sidewalk from Harbor Drive to Seawolf Passage, with the contract to be negotiated by Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow.

Marin Fire Mechanic Is Injured In Fall

Manuel Thomas, 57, of 154 Morning Sun Avenue, Mill Valley, a warden mechanic for the Marin County Fire Department, suffered a minor concussion yesterday when he fell while working on a motor in a fire engine at the headquarters station in Woodacre.

Thomas was pulling on a crescent wrench when it slipped. He fell backward, hitting his head on another fire engine, at 11:30 a.m. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and sent home to convalesce.

Cadillac

TAKE A LOOK AT THE BEST-LIKED CADILLAC OF ALL TIME!

There's no question about it—America has fallen in love with this one.

It's the Cadillac car of 1963—and it is already attracting more attention—and more owners—than any other motor car in Cadillac history. And to be perfectly honest with you, we aren't a bit surprised.

You see, good news about cars travels fast. And the news about Cadillac has never been better . . . nor its owners more vocal.

Give a new Cadillac owner half a minute and he'll tell you how much he likes the new Cadillac look. Clean. Majestic. Substantial. Elegant.

Give him a full minute and he'll talk about the car's new luxury and comfort—and about the incredible range of models, colors and interior appointments.

Show just a little more interest and he'll have you in the driver's seat and out on the highway—reciting the roll call of Cadillac's engineering feats. A smoother, quieter engine. A new true center drive line. A triple braking system.

We're glad our owners are demonstrative. And even if you subtract the usual new car fervor—you'll find that what's left over is reason enough to visit your dealer without delay.

If you see him fast—maybe you can be the first in your neighborhood with a 1963 Cadillac.

An early move, you know, gives you a full year at the wheel.

Jurors Enter Quentin All In Line Of Duty

A Marin Superior Court jury, including 10 women, spent more than two hours behind the walls of San Quentin Prison yesterday—all in the line of duty.

Curious inmates gathered to watch the rare visit, but the entire tour wound up without incident. Armed guards followed the jurors throughout the visit.

The jurors, led by Judge N. Charles Brusatori, toured the prison upper and lower yards to get a look at the scene of a murder which took place on Oct. 3, 1961. The jury of 10 women and four men, including two alternates, will decide whether convict Taylor N. Chambers, 27, is guilty of clubbing to death Richard M. Rios, 31.

Chambers is accused under a section of the Penal Code which makes death mandatory for a life termer who commits fatal assault.

The trial, which started five weeks ago, is expected to wind up late next week.

Novato Poll Shows 'J,' 'K' Are Favored

Novato residents favor a freeway route east of the present one, according to the first results in a junior chamber of commerce poll.

The poll, originally scheduled to end tonight, has been extended to Friday, announced David Douglass, chairman. Blanks may be obtained at the chamber office in the Patio Building, or from any junior chamber member, Douglass said.

Of those counted this morning, 398 favored the "J" route just east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, while just one fewer, or 397, favored the "K" route still farther east.

The "E" route, present highway line favored by the Novato City Council in a 4-to-1 vote Nov. 8, was favored by 318, Douglass reported.

Other routes received a scattering of votes totaling 73.

Worker Files $150,000 Suit For Damages

A rigger, who was injured last May while working at the north of Golden Gate Bridge, filed a $150,000 damage suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against Bigge Drayage Co. of San Leandro.

James Gillespie of South San Francisco charges the company and several John Does with carelessness and negligence and failing to provide adequate safeguards for workers.

Goldstein, Barceloux and Goldstein of San Francisco, attorneys for Gillespie, contend that a boom was being used to load mats onto a flat bed truck. Gillespie was standing on a high load of mats when the boom brushed him and knocked him down to the truck.

Gillespie was employed by R. C. Mahon Co. of San Francisco. His attorneys allege that he had one operation on his back and may need more surgery.

For Cuba Friendship

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Some Mobile children have dispatched letters of friendship to Cuba—in bottles via ocean waves.

The project came to light after a red, white and blue bottle washed ashore at Pompano Beach Fla. It contained an American flag and a note written on stationery from St. Paul's Episcopal church in Mobile.

The church said the note and 59 others like it were drafted by children during summer Bible classes. The bottled letters were given to a steamship captain, who dropped them in the Gulf of Mexico.

for "recognized competence" in their subject, and their presentation "shall be objective, factual and informative."

Persons shall not be invited to the school, trustees said, to speak for "partisan political purposes, sectarian or dogmatic purposes, or to advocate overthrow of the government."

Trustees added: "Any child may choose not to hear a guest speaker whose presentation deals with a topic which violates his personal, moral or religious convictions."

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle read a letter from Mrs. Eleanor Kapousouz of 3 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, who commented on the board's intended policy. She was a signer of the original petition from parents who objected to Steadman's talk.

Calling the trustees "guardians of the children's minds," she asked them to be "aware of quacks, not Quakers; anarchists, not Americans." She said Steadman was "sectarian and partisan" and asked the board for a statement of policy "that our boys and girls will be protected as of this moment."

In another letter, Mr. and Mrs. Anshall Nelson of 261 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, expressed appreciation of the board's proposal to declare the necessity of discussion of controversy. "We are continually impressed with the intelligent concern you have shown," they wrote, "in providing the district with a program which recognizes the responsibility of educating students on all the vital issues of the day.

Arrested For Being Drunk

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Arrested in Tucson on drunk charges during one day were:

A woman who hooked a garden hose to her kitchen faucet and sprayed persons entering and leaving a nearby grocery store.

A University of Arizona student who walked down a main street trying to balance a basketball on his nose.

An under-age youth who leaned on an unmarked police car to drink a can of beer.

And a man who staggered by mistake into the downtown police station.

Officers Have Beastly Time On Highway

Six wayward horses on Highway 101 gave a bad time to Corte Madera and Larkspur police and California Highway Patrolmen early today.

Corte Madera Patrolman Howard Bailey spotted the riderless beasts at about 4:15 a.m. on Tamalpais Drive.

He tried to herd them toward the Meadowsweet area, but they had other ideas and galloped on to Highway 101. Bailey radioed for help and several Larkspur police and highway patrolmen arrived.

While some officers blocked the highway to the north with their cars, others tried to herd the horses south. After about a half hour, they managed to drive the herd into the Meadowsweet area. There they left them.

Mill Valley Schools Budget Told

Mill Valley School District trustees last night set a 1963-64 preliminary budget figure at $1,517,730. It compares with $1,400,490 for this year or an increase of $117,240.

The budget estimate, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell, is based on a teachers' salary schedule of $5,150-$9,530. Present schedule is $5,000-$9,000.

Expected tax rate discussed by the board is $2.20 plus an override tax which has not yet been computed, McConnell added.

This year's tax rate is $2.21 per $100 assessed valuation plus 62 cents in override tax to total $2.83. Voters last April approved a 75-cent tax increase limit allowing a total of $2.25 plus override taxes.

Trustees will again discuss the preliminary budget on Dec. 3.

'Foot' Second Edition Now On Sale In Marin

"Foot," a magazine of poetry and prose, has been published in its second edition by former Sausalitan Richard Duerden and his colleague, William Brown, at Berkeley.

Contributing to the annual magazine, now on sale at the Tides Bookshop in Sausalito and the Greyhound depot, Mill Valley, are Philip Whalen, Leslie Thompson, both of Mill Valley; Gary and Joanne Snyder, former Mill Valleyans now living in Japan; Duerden and his wife, Suzanne, and Brown.

Ex-Corte Maderan Faces Check Charge

Joseph A. Poole, 38, a painter and decorator formerly of Corte Madera, faced arraignment in Marin Municipal Court late today on a charge of cashing about $850 in worthless checks.

Corte Madera Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett said Poole cashed the checks during a two-month period in Corte Madera before vanishing about Aug. 25. He was returned from Phoenix, Ariz., over the weekend and booked into Marin County jail in lieu of $2,625 bail.

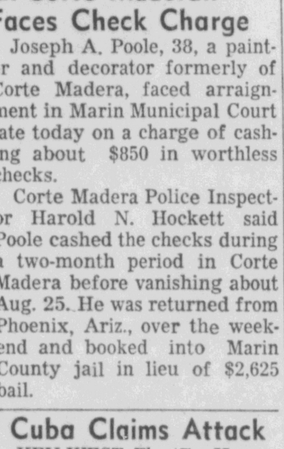

Cuba Claims Attack

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio claimed today a Cuban merchant ship sailing in international waters southwest of Bermuda was attacked yesterday afternoon by a "North American plane."

The broadcast said the plane aimed 11 bombs at the Rio Domuji but all of them missed the target.

The vessel, said the radio, then "continued its voyage towards Cuba with the crew maintaining the same high morale of all the Cuban people."

There have been no reports on the alleged incident from other sources.

tend to run in April."

"I feel that since we accepted Simpson's report, we're just about duty bound to put this up to the people," said Menary.

"I do, too," said Jensen. "I had only hoped Charlie (Chiesa) was in favor of it."

Councilman Charles W. Aby proposed the appointive police chief matter be placed on the April municipal election ballot instead of the January ballot.

Pointing out it would then not be effective for four years, Menary declared: "That seems like kind of delayed action. It's too long for me. . . . Putting it in January, you won't have personalities involved."

Mayor McInnis said voting on candidates for police chief and at the same time on making the chief appointive would result in voter confusion. Jensen and Baar agreed.

"I'm convinced," said Aby. "I move we put it on the Jan. 22 ballot."

The council voted to ask the county board of supervisors to consolidate the two San Rafael charter amendment issues and the Terra Linda annexation election with the special congressional election, with the same precincts and polling places.

BULLET

Henderson called H. Edward Bacon, 47, of Burlingame, security officer at Joseph Magnin's across O'Farrell Street, for aid. They followed the pair to the fourth floor of the garage, picking up Perry en route.

The man and woman locked themselves in the car, with the woman behind the wheel. Perry ran up and started to raise the hood to disconnect the ignition wires.

The man leaped out and ran. The woman started the car down the ramp, Perry in pursuit.

As car and pursuer neared the first floor, a shot rang out and Perry crumpled. Police said the woman apparently fired a small caliber pistol.

Presscott and Miss Jones were traced through the car license number to a Golden Gate Avenue apartment, where police arrested them. Officers said Prescott had just completed a nine-year prison term for robbery.

Perry has lived in Novato only two months, previously residing at 201 Locust Street in San Rafael. He and his wife, Selma, have three children, aged 2 to 6.

City Hall Space On Mill Valley's Agenda

The Mill Valley city council is to hear a report on city hall space requirements at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

It will also hear a report on a proposal to acquire the Ezekiel property on Corte Madera Avenue north of the city hall.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants will report on civil defense. The council will discuss the capital improvement program and hear a progress report by City Engineer Stanley M. Bala on the small craft harbor.

Health Council May Join Services

Members of the Marin County Health Facilities Council, in a breakfast meeting today, agreed that their group should become part of the Marin County Council of Community Services.

The decision came after a talk by Dr. Harry Weinstein, director of home services for Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco. He emphasized that a home care program to meet the rehabilitation needs of convalescing patients must be centralized in administration and is best organized through a hospital.

Health Facilities Council chairman Fred F. Enemark said joining with the council of community services would be a step toward centralization.

Falls Asleep At Wheel; Crashes

A sergeant from Hamilton Air Force Base who said he went to sleep at the wheel wrecked his car and hurt himself as he entered Entrada Drive, Ignacio, from Highway 101 last night.

T/Sgt. Jerome E. Coppom was northbound from the Nave Lanes at 9 p.m. when he turned left. At this point "I must have fallen asleep," he told the California Highway Patrol. His car ran off the road.

He was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for minor cuts.

Chula Vista Sewer Assessment District Is Approved By Council

The Chula Vista sewer assessment district got the go-ahead last night from the San Rafael City Council, but street improvements that were to have been combined with it may have to wait until later.

Edwin Ness of Belvedere, of the Oakland firm of Sturgis, Den Dulk, Douglass and Anderson, attorneys for the district, told the council that the street engineering "has proved extremely difficult" for engineer Warren Nute, because of many street encroachments and other problems. Meantime, property owners — particularly some who have been refused permission to install septic tanks for new homes— are pressing for the sewer, he said.

The council accepted the preliminary engineer's report for sewers only in the district, which includes Chula Vista Avenue and Fair and Coleman Drives, and set public hearing on it for Jan. 7.

Ness said he hoped he would be able to present the engineer's report on the street portion of the project at the council's Dec. 3 meeting, so it could be combined with the sewer project. If not, he suggested, the street work might be "piggy-backed" with some other assessment district.

One that might provide the "piggy-back" was proposed last night. Jack MacPhee presented a petition for an assessment district to improve Ross Street Terrace (also known as Buena Vista Street and Clayton Street). He said the street, which starts from Ross Street, was dedicated to the city in 1886 but has never been paved. He said the petition had signatures of owners of 67 per cent of the property, asking street improvements and a six-inch water line. He said engineer Nute had given a preliminary cost estimate of $20,000 to $25,000.

Jess Rudolph, owner of lots at 51 and 53 Clayton Street (also known as Ross Street Terrace and Buena Vista Street) objected the estimate was far too low.

Ness proposed that the district be combined with some other proceeding to save in legal and engineering costs. He and MacPhee took back the petition, with instructions to ask Nute to do preliminary engineering.

The San Rafael Council Also:

1. Passed to print an ordinance to rezone the south side of Woodland Avenue, east of DuBois Street, from commercial to multiple dwelling.

2. Heard Edward Wachsman, president of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, object that filling of sidewalk holes drilled for flagpoles hampered the jaycees in their placement of flags on holidays, and told Wachsman and Public Works Director Norris Rawles to try to work out some other method for holding the flag poles. Rawles said there had been objections that the holes constituted a hazard, and a woman had sued because she caught her heel in one of them.

3. Called for bids, to be opened Dec. 3, on a drainage project to drain Forbes Avenue below White Oaks, estimated to cost $10,000.

4. Approved the final map of Northgate Regional Shopping Center, with a provision for double left-turn lanes off Manuel Freitas Parkway.

5. Approved a contract with the San Rafael school districts for joint operation of the city recreation programs, on the same basis as for this year. The contract has yet to be presented to the board of education.

6. Approved agreement with the San Rafael Elementary School District for the city to provide fire protection for San Pedro School, just outside the city line, at $1 per year.

7. Over-ruled the planning commission to permit Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy to end an eight-inch water line serving his Terra Linda Convalescent Hospital midway of the property. The planning commission had held the subdivision ordinance required that he install the lines all the way to the far end of the property — an additional 480 feet. Dufficy said an abrupt slope is beyond that and the extension would have no use.

8. Voted final adoption of an ordinance rezoning property on Woodland Avenue, between Bungalow and Irwin Streets for multiple dwellings.

9. Set for Dec. 3 hearing on William R. Batey's request for rezoning from duplex to garden apartment district a parcel on Bungalow Avenue between Woodland and Picnic avenues. Batey is appealing a planning commission turndown.

10. Referred to the public works department and city attorney a letter from 11 residents of the 200 block of Mountain View Avenue protesting drainage conditions.

11. Authorized hiring of George Kearnes Jr. of San Rafael as planning technician at $453 per month, effective yesterday.

Time Something Was Done About S.F. Bridge Approach

There seems to be general agreement among those most concerned—the commuters—that the Golden Gate Bridge's new four-lane rush hour traffic experiment is a huge success. They like it, say it moves cars much more quickly across the bridge and through the toll gates.

But just as unanimously they condemn the gigantic traffic jam which now has been intensified at the Funston Avenue on-ramp each morning.

Because of this on-ramp, used by San Franciscans going down town from the northwestern parts of the city without paying any bridge toll, four lanes of commuter traffic are suddenly bottlenecked into two lanes. The traffic snarl is a glory to behold.

Happily the bridge directors are aware of this situation and are trying to work it out with the state division of highways, which operates the San Francisco approach to the bridge as a part of the state highway system.

The temporary solution, which seems fairly evident, is to extend the round rubber traffic lane dividers on down the San Francisco approach, thus increasing to at least three lanes the space for commuter cars. The highway engineers are looking at this simple and inexpensive solution quite favorably.

They aren't so happy about a second bridge board suggestion—that the Funston Avenue on-ramp be closed. That's part of the state highway, they say. And they're pretty touchy about closing state highways.

Of course the permanent solution has been available all of the time. Because of footdragging on the part of military authorities, because of stubbornness on the part of San Francisco's supervisors, millions of dollars in the state highway budget have laid idle, although earmarked for reconstructing the approach into an eight-lane divided freeway.

We're with the bridge board! We think the dividsion of highways should immediately install the dividers on the approach (the bridge district said it would do it for them). We think the state engineers should seriously consider closing that on-ramp for two hours each morning.

And we think that the military, the bridge board and the San Francisco supervisors should get together right away to iron out misunderstands, to unwrap some red tape and get construction under way on an adequate approach to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Nature, The Great Conserver

Nothing goes to waste in Nature. Things are merely transformed. In a sense, everything is immortal under Nature's plan.

Autumn is the traditional season of death and decay. Trees are dropping their leaves and Marin's gardens are full of dead and dying perennials. Left alone, this trash would decay into humus or be converted into fertilizer by grazing animals.

Except for the few people who keep compost heaps, most Marinites burn their garden trash. Burning converts most of the organic matter to gas and leaves a mineral residue. However, some of the gases are reabsorbed and the minerals reenter the soil.

When viewed in a large perspective, Nature is an intricate merry-go-round of birth, growth, fruiting, death, decay and rebirth. The Buddhists call it the Wheel of Life.

If Nature wastes nothing, then every life has some purpose.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Not Everybody Is Happy With Results Of Democrats' Convention

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Saturday's endorsing convention of the Democratic Party in Santa Rosa has left some scars. Some of those who were there (I wasn't) tell me they were appalled at the thoroughness with which the supporters of Bill Grader had organized their backers.

There were all the trappings of a national convention—lapel ribbons (when Izzy Barlas of Petaluma read a seconding speech for Lewis H. DeCastle of Santa Rosa, he was wearing a Grader ribbon and got a laugh by making a thing of taking it off), signs to wave when Grader was nominated, and even 12-year-old Rick Conner of Tiburon and his trumpet to give appropriate Grader applause accompaniment.

This didn't set right with some of the delegates or even with some of the candidates or prospective candidates. Even though they should have known they were in the big leagues now and that organization behind a candidate is a real and necessary thing, they didn't like it.

It may mean one or possibly two extra Democratic candidates in the race without endorsement.

AN OBSERVER might predict from the convention what the Democratic Party would offer in the campaign. Not only was the convention overwhelmingly for Grader, after Sen. Joseph Rattigan, Roger Kent and Dr. George McCabe dropped out, but in addition the hall was decorated to point up Clem Miller and the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Behind the convention chairman, Senator Rattigan, was a huge enlargement of President Kennedy signing the Point Reyes bill. Among the six legislators in the front row of six, was Miller.

Grader in his acceptance speech also left no doubt but that he hoped to "save our district's seat in the House of Representatives for positive, progressive, and far-sighted policies and programs and projects for which Clem Miller worked and fought."

It would take no miracle man to guess that the Democratic party leaders had decided to run Miller in absentia on a platform of "save my program."

MEANWHILE, UP in Eureka (I wasn't there either), the Republican executive committee, 18 strong, faced a different sort of problem — whether they should or should not make an endorsing recommendation to the party's endorsing convention next Saturday in Ukiah, where 150 are expected to gather.

Marin County and Sonoma County delegations both went to the affair with mixed feelings. But the other four counties were so overwhelmingly in favor of endorsing Don Clausen, that neither Marin nor Sonoma made much protest.

THE EMERGENCE of Sal Burke, long-time secretary of the Eureka Teamsters Union local, as a Republican hopeful, caused some GOP leaders to raise their eyebrows.

They see in Burke an attempt to neutralize some of the strong bi-partisan support Clausen showed in carrying Humboldt and Del Norte Counties for a Republican congressional candidate for the first time in 40 or more years.

Burke insists he hasn't made up his mind whether he will run if he doesn't get the party endorsement Saturday. But he talks like a man "deluged with telephone calls" to run and a man "very serious" about being a candidate. Those quotes are his words.

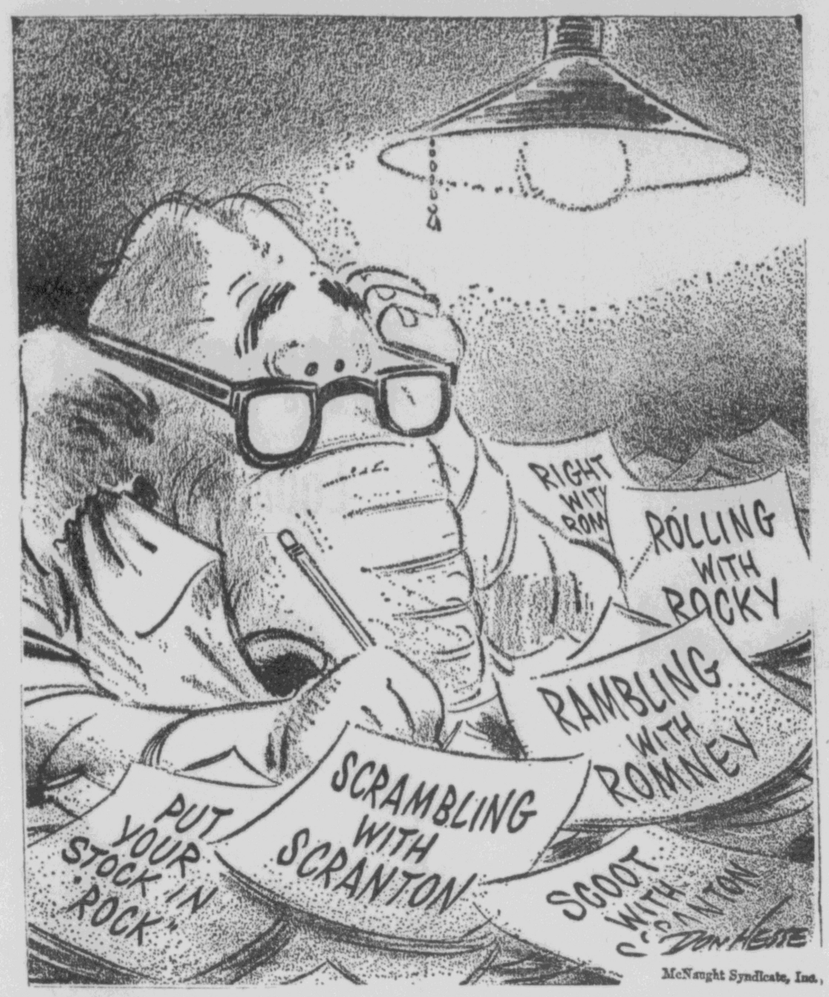

So with Grader, Clausen, Burke, Mendocino's Ted Watkins and San Francisco's Harold B. Treskunoff all acting like candidates for sure, there will be a long ballot, especially if a couple others decide to run.

Some time ago I guessed there would be eight names on the Jan. 22 ballot. It looks like I won't be far wrong.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Street Segregation In Mill Valley

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

An open letter to Mill Valley Councilman Michael Wornum:

You were quoted in the report of the Mill Valley council meeting of Nov. 7, as having stated, "Lovell Ave. was getting pretty shabby." That was all inclusive and in view of the fact that I have resided on Lovell Ave. for over 30 years it is believed that it was an irresponsible, absurd, impolitic, and perhaps libelous statement. Incidentally, Lovell Ave. is over three miles in length.

It is also a published fact that councilmen, yourself included, refer to streets in Mill Valley by letters of the alphabet, with Lovell Ave. being in class "B," whatever that indicates.

However, when you as a councilman start spelling it out in words construed as being detrimental to the residents of Lovell Ave. you have overstepped your bounds and should be so advised. In this connection it has been noted that the current tax bills do not segregate Mill Valley streets as Alphabetical Boulevards.

"As an architect" you wrote a letter that was published on Oct. 20, 1962. In that letter you defended that which you termed "the much maligned pole houses in Marin City." The houses that you defended had been termed by many people as the forerunner of a future blight and slum area. In the letter you censured the president of the Real Estate Board for statements that he made which you stated were "unsubstantiated" and suggested that he take a certain course of action if he was "genuinely concerned" over the welfare of the purchasers of the "pole houses."

You also stated, "As a resident of the county, I would also question the merits of the attack by some of the intending purchasers." You also included in your letter such phrases as "DE FACTO segregation" and "minority groups."

However, a contrariety is now apparent between your thoughts as "an architect" and in your actions as a councilman in the City of Mill Valley.

Is it not fact that the City of Mill Valley, where you are an elected councilman, is publicly establishing "DE FACTO segregation" of city streets through the use of letters of the alphabet?

Does not such a system create a feeling of superiority among people who reside on an "A" street over people who reside on "B-C-D-streets" and thereby through such labeling isn't a minority group created? . . .

If you are "genuinely concerned" with the purchasers of homes in Marin City you should be equally concerned with purchasers of homes in Mill Valley where you are an elected city official.

It is now suggested that you as a councilman introduce an ordinance (for the protection of purchasers of property) that would require real estate brokers to incorporate into all ads, brochures, or other matter relative to the sale of property in Mill Valley, the type of street that the property is situated on . . .

Of course I don't actually believe that such an ordinance will ever be necessary because the city council of Mill Valley may, with the assistance of the public, recognize how foolish they are beginning to look and stop playing with children's blocks . . .

And it should not be overlooked—Lovell Ave. is not "pretty shabby" BUT—it is PRETTY RURAL—and I like it that way.

No Donnybrook In Mill Valley

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is not pleasant to be depicted as rowdies or hoodlums when we citizens exercise the rights basic to all of us in our democracy. Yet that is the impression conveyed by the Independent-Journal's report of the Mill Valley City Council meeting of Nov. 7. This false impression should be corrected.

According to the Nov. 8 Independent-Journal, a group of home owners on Ethel Avenue created a "donnybrook" at the council meeting, and the mayor "threatened to have Mrs. Montgomery removed by force."

Mrs. Montgomery, a writer and magazine editor, has taken a leading part in the struggle of a group of Ethel Avenue residents to keep Mill Valley's second oldest street open to the public. She does not engage in "donnybrooks," nor do the rest of us.

On the afternoon of the council meeting, Ethel Avenue had been suddenly closed by barricades placed across the bridge. A number of home owners on Ethel went to the meeting to warn the council of the hazards to life and property created by the closing of the bridge and to inquire why the city had done so despite warnings that their act would be illegal.

Only four weeks earlier, Mill Valley's mayor, Joseph Sheeks, had consumed nearly half an hour at the opening of the council meeting with a diatribe against the Independent-Journal's report on secret (illegal) meetings of the city council. He did so on a point of "personal privilege." We citizens felt entitled to the same privilege as Sheeks, our servant, had used.

On trying to make that point, however, we were rudely cut off. Mrs. Montgomery persisted in a dignified manner and completely in keeping with recognized parliamentary procedure, in demanding a ruling from the chair on the point of order.

Any opposition to its set program sends some of our council members into a tantrum. In this case, Sheeks, who customarily turns livid at any mention of what he calls "the Ethel Avenue people," so far forgot himself as to threaten force and violence against our representative. Before Sheeks could carry out his threat of police action, cooler heads prevailed. Mrs. Montgomery was ruled out of order. Mrs. Montgomery accepted the ruling.

There was no "donnybrook."

There was, however, a demonstration of the city council's refusal to recognize the right of the people of Mill Valley to be heard on matters vitally affecting their lives and property.

Threat Of Recall Takes Heart Out Of Novato City Council Meet

Sitting in on last Tuesday night's Novato City Council meeting, one could sense a different approach to the city's problems by the city council.

In the past, one could feel that the council members were honestly trying to do their best for the city. Sometimes they disagreed with the members of the audience and sometimes they disagreed with each other.

But underneath this, one could feel the sincerity of the council members as they went about conducting the city business.

I won't say that all of this was gone Tuesday night, but there surely was something missing. The council had been criticized before about its action, or lack of it. However, now three members of the council are faced with recall.

It seemed the heart had gone out of the council. Mayor Babe Silva let the meeting drag on and on. Residents of the Lynwood area argued with the council and back and forth among themselves. It took nearly three hours of arguing for a matter that should have required much less than one hour. The council had to hold another meeting Thursday night to finish the business it should have completed in two to three hours.

Working for no pay on a city council like Novato's has its rewards in seeing the city progress; but in this case, it looks as if those rewards do not equal the bad effects.

I wonder who will run against the councilmen if the recall petitions are successful.

AT THE THURSDAY night meeting of the Novato City Council, Councilman Howard Schoof made a slip. He called City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. "Mr. Clark."

After the laughter of everyone made him realize his mistake, he remedied it.

Edwin Ness, attorney who does special work for the city, probably was watching not to make the same mistake. So sure enough, he also slipped and called him "Mr. Clark."

By that time, the joke was too good to keep. Before the meeting was over, Mayor Silva jokingly referred to Palmer as "Mr. Clark."

MORRIS FINLAY, one of the developers of the 40 million dollar Bahia Del Norte in Novato, was showing a big map of the proposed development. He showed the lots on the peninsula surrounded by water, the lots in the valleys, the sites for schools, shopping centers, etc.

Finally one of the councilmen asked him to explain the red and green areas on the map.

"I was afraid someone would ask that," he said. "I am color blind and I can't tell which of the areas are red and which are green." They turned out to be the greenbelts (colored green) and the unstable swamp areas beside the Petaluma River (red).

ONCE EVERY SIX months, the Novato City Council changes the positions which the council members sit around the mayor. This is done so that in roll call voting, the same councilman is not always faced with casting the deciding vote if there is a split.

Mayor Silva assigned the new seats at the beginning of the Tuesday meeting, immediately after the roll call. After the assignment, each councilman had to get up and change chairs with another.

Councilman Howard Schoof asked: "Where's the music?"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Free World Better Wake Up To War Between Egypt And Yemen

WASHINGTON — Almost unnoticed in the anxious preoccupation with the Soviet arms build-up in Cuba, the Red Chinese thrust into India, and Khrushchev's next move in Berlin, is a menacing Egyptian invasion of Yemen which the free world had better wake up to before it is too late.

Already some 10,000 to 11,000 Egyptian troops, including two airborne battalions, bombers, and naval units, are inside Yemenite territory, fighting Yemenite tribesmen who are resisting the recent military coup which Nasser so eagerly wants to impose upon them.

CLEARLY, THE Egyptians, whose invading troops represent half the military forces seeking to prop up the coup, are acting to take over this little backward kingdom's civil war exactly as the Nazis and the Communists sought to take over the Spanish Republic's fight for survival.

At first, some weeks ago, the events in Yemen appeared to be a simple struggle of an "enlightened" group of military leaders to overthrow a medieval and repressive regime. But the coup, apparently successful in the beginning, failed in its effort to kill the young Imam. It has sputtered and stalled. Today it controls three small cities and the access roads to them.

THE IMPLICATIONS are these:

1—Their internal social and economic order should be a matter for the Yemenis themselves who should certainly be free to undertake far-reaching reforms so urgently needed without loss of their national independence. This is that premise of the UN presence in the Congo. It is equally applicable to Yemen.

2—The Egyptian intervention in Yemen, which has now reached the dimension of a full-scale invasion, is not serving to help a popularly-based new order through its first days. Rather, it is serving to impose a regime which has not earned popular support and which is being resisted by most of the Yemenite population.

3—IF THE EGYPTIAN intrusion into Yemen is to be accepted as a precedent, then any small rebel group in Arab countries that refuse to bow to Nasser's claim of hegemony in the Arab world may now be encouraged to proclaim itself a revolutionary government in the hope that Egypt will supply the troops to put it in pawer or keep it in power.

4—The events in Yemen are a threat to the very delicate equilibrium in the Arab Middle East and hold a particular peril to Saudi Arabia, Jordan, and other independent Arab countries.

This is the road to an expanding Egyptian imperialism.

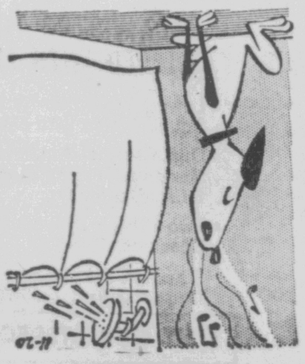

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

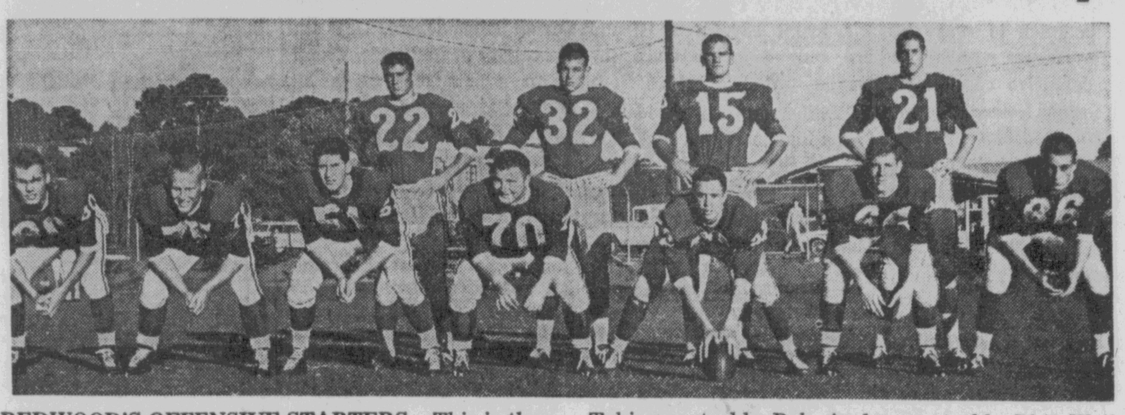

An odd-ball came into a local radio station recently with a "singing dog" in tow. He explained, however, that the dog would only sing while his master was in the bathroom.

Used to just about everything by this time, studio executives obligingly stashed the man away in a hall bathroom—and, sure enough, the dog began to sing—or wail. That's when the lock on the bathroom door got stuck. By the time they got the door open, the dog's "singing" had been heard over a cooking program, and advice-to-youngmothers session, and a discussion about Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer."

Harlan Miller reports that the 14-year-old son of one of his colleagues has purchased a little black book for addresses and telephone numbers. On the outside, the lad, no blushing violet he, has confidently written "Volume One."

Tam, Redwood As Evenly Matched As Teams Can Get

REDWOOD'S OFFENSIVE STARTERS—This is the offensive starting lineup the Redwood Giants will throw at the Tamalpais Indians when the two teams meet Thanksgiving morning in the game for the Marin Athletic League title. Front row is end Joel Tobiason, tackle Bob Anderson, tackle Phil Weil, tackle Larry Koontz, center Fred Bunker, guard Paul Leslie and end Doug Houston. Rear row is halfback Jerry Rumsey, wingback Steve Solinsky, quarterback Jim Troppmann and halfback Dave Auerbach. (Independent-Journal photos)

TAM'S DEFENSIVE STARTERS—Here is the starting defensive team for the Tam Indians, with one change due to an injury, which will face the Redwood Giants in the Turkey Day battle. Front row is end Jim Durbin, tackle Tim Broome, middle guard Tony Houston (who will be replaced by either Donn or Dale Johnson because of an injury), tackle Bob Washington, and end Art Foster. Back row is Steve Hewett, Don Johnston, Bill McIntyre, Richard Hamilton, Ellis Williams and Warren Domino.

Looks Like Tossup In Prep Showdown

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Tam and Redwood are about as evenly matched as any two football teams can be as the two squads get ready for the Marin Athletic League grid championship battle Thanksgiving morning at 10:30 o'clock in College of Marin stadium.

According to statistics compiled by the Independent-Journal, only 48 yards separate the two teams in total offense and only seven points divide the two in the point-making column.

Tam, in winning its first five games in the league, scored 89 points and allowed only six. Those six points were to Novato in their game Saturday when the Indians whipped the Hornets 15-6.

Redwood also won its first five games this year in league competition, scoring 82 points and allowing only six. Drake was the only team to score against the Giants in the battle which Redwood won, 12-6.

TAM'S EDGE

In total offense, Tam has a slight advantage over Redwood, 1,168 to 1,120. And we mean slight!

Redwood has picked up quite a few yards in the air, passing for 322 as compared to Tam's 143. Tam has a big margin in the rushing department, running for 1,025 yards as compared to Redwood's 798.

Redwood's running game has improved more and more as the league has progressed. In their last game—a 30-0 whitewash over Marin Catholic—the Giants rushed for 206 yards.

And as the single touchdowns scored against the two teams indicate, both Redwood and Tam are rugged on defense. Tam has the advantage in rushing defense, allowing 277 yards in five games to Redwood's 291.

Redwood's defensive secondary tops Tam by 151 to 290. The impressive pass defense record for Redwood boosts the Giants in front of Tam in total defense, 442 to 567.

Individually, Tam's rushing game is led by hard-running Warren Domino who leads the league in rushing with 473 yards gained. Tracy Oldham, another of Tam's speedy backs, has been in the shadow of Domino but is an outstanding runner who has picked up 254 yards rushing in league play this year.

For Redwood, Dave Auerbach is the leading groundgainer, picking up 259 yards in the MCAL so far. Wingback Steve Solinsky has rushed for 214 yards for the Giants and is one of the best blockers on the squad.

Auerbach has scored six touchdowns to lead the league in points with 36. His only other rival for the scoring title is Tam's Warren Domino who has scored five touchdowns and four extra points for a total of 34 points.

Thursday's game may decide the biggest point-maker.

Redwood's quarterback, Jim Troppmann, is the third leading passer in the league, hitting his targets for 322 yards in league play.

CHIEF TARGET

Troppmann's chief target is end Joel Tobiason, who has received 104 yards worth of aerials. Second leading pass receiver on the Giant team is the other end, Doug Houston, who has caught 71 yards of passing from Troppmann.

Tam will be greatly hampered by the loss of two key players in its quest for the crown. Quarterback Bill Gillingham, who has picked up 128 yards on the ground while demonstrating a pretty change of pace on his sweeps around the ends, will be definitely out of the game because of pulled ligaments in his leg.

Another key man out of the lineup is defensive middle guard Tony Houston who suffered an ankle injury during the Novato game Saturday. Linebacker Rich Hamilton has been termed a "question mark" by head Tam coach Pete Belden after suffering an ankle injury in the Novato battle.

GIANTS HEALTHY

On the other side of the fence, head grid coach Bob Troppmann said his Redwood chargers are 100 per cent ready for the Tam battle. He reported no injuries from the Giants' game with Marin Catholic Friday as the regulars got a lot of rest when the Giants walked over the Wildcats 30-0.

The injury situation may have a big bearing on the outcome of the clash when the two undefeated teams meet to answer the question: "Which high school in the MCAL has the best team?"

TAM DISTRICT TROPHY ALSO UP FOR GRABS

Besides the championship crown going to the winner when Tam meets Redwood in the turkey day clash Thursday, the Tamalpais Union High School District perpetual trophy will go to the winning school since the battle will be between schools in the district.

The trophy was started in 1953 when the district consisted of two schools, Tam and Drake. In 1958 Redwood was added to the district and became eligible for the trophy which goes to the high school in the district which finishes highest in the Marin Athletic League.

The record of the trophy has been:

1953—Drake
1954—Tamalpais
1955—Tamalpais
1956—Drake
1957—Tam and Drake tied
1958—Redwood
1959—Redwood
1960—Redwood
1961—Drake

49ers Lose Jim Ridlon

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Defensive halfback Jim Ridlon cracked two vertebrae in San Francisco's 24-17 win over Los Angeles Sunday.

Coach Red Hickey said last night that Ridlon would definitely miss Sunday's game against the Cards in St. Louis. A replacement wasn't named but Eddie Dove and Jerry Mertens are potentials.

Hickey and other coaches were to view films today of the Los Angeles win, which snapped a four-game losing skein for the 49ers.

Redwood Has Series Edge

Thursday's battle between Redwood and Tamalpais for the football championship of the Marin Athletic League will be the fifth meeting between the two schools on the gridiron.

Redwood has the edge on victories, 3-1, as the Giants beat Tam in their first three meetings and lost in their fourth. Redwood has outscored the Indians 52-38, in the total points over the five-year span.

The past results were:

1958—Redwood 12, Tam 8
1959—Redwood 20, Tam 7
1960—Redwood 13, Tam 6
1961—Tam 17, Redwood 7

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

San Rafael Should Postpone Its Game For Tam-Redwood Title Tilt

San Rafael High School administrators can do Marin County sports fans a great service by postponing their Thanksgiving morning game against Novato to Friday or Saturday so as not to conflict with the Tam-Redwood championship battle.

Everyone will want to see the title game, but some Novato and S.R. fans will go to their mean-nothing contest out of loyalty. Why penalize them? It's not too late to change it.

Prep Grid Classic Thursday A Duel Of Two Immovable Objects

Seems like everyone's talking about the championship battle between Tam and Redwood—a Thanksgiving Day menu even more appealing to grid addicts than the one they'll consume at home later in the day—so we might well put in our two cents worth.

Defensvie records of both club indicate a scoreless tie—a battle of two immovable objects.

But, each team has its irresistable force — the dynamic running of Warren Domino and Tracy Oldham for Tam and the passing of Jim Troppmann and running Dave Auerbach for Redwood.

In yesterday's account of Tam's 15-6 win over Novato last Saturday we erroneously credited Domino as the Marin League's leading scorer with 34 points. Auerbach has 36 for Redwood; sorry, Dave.

DAVE SCOFIELD will be public address announcer at the Kentfield Klassic Thursday ayem. If you've seen a 49er game at Kezar Stadium during the past 16 years the voice will sound familiar. Scofield has handled the P.A. system at every 49er home game. One of the best in the business and we're lucky to have his talents for this big prep battle.

RADIO KTIM will broadcast the game starting at 10:30 a.m.

TAM WILL BE gunning for its first varsity grid title since 1951 when Ed Nordstrom coached the Indians to the North Bay League championship.

IF SCHOOL enrollment means anything, Redwood has the edge with 1,667 students to Tam's 1,601. The Redwood advantage in number of boys is 871 to 810.

IF YOU want to avoid a rush at the gate, advance ticket sales are available at both high schools and also at Taveggia-

CAL STILL UNCERTAIN OF MORTON CONDITION

OAKLAND (UPI) — University of California's Golden Bears didn't pick on any sissies this year.

Coach Marv Levy revealed today that the nine opponents his club played so far this season have a record of 46 wins and 12 losses so far.

"And of those 12 losses, seven were against each other," said Levy, as he recalled his team's 1-8 record. "Of course, they got seven wins from us, too.

Getting ready for the 65th "Big Game" against Stanford on Saturday, Levy ordered secret practice for his club—and said he isn't even going to let in reporters.

"We still don't know if Craig Morton's knee will be well enough so that he can play," said Levy. "We'll know by mid-week. But we have other problems. One of these is how to keep the other team from scoring so many points."

California has scored 130 points this season, but the opposition has chipped in with 217. Stanford, however, has scored only 91 against 161.

"I believe it will be a close game," said Levy. "It's always 50-50, no matter what the records. I don't even expect the role of underdog."

Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford told the Northern California Football Writers that it's all a matter of emotion when it comes to the Big Game.

"These will be two of the finest amateur college football teams in the country in action," the Stanford coach cracked. "And in an ancient rivalry like this one, everything is based on emotion.

"We have a big, strong line. But our weakness is lack of speed in the backfield."

Coach Bob Titchenall of San Jose State said his club played its best game of the year in dropping a 21-9 decision to the Indians Saturday.

"And we lost to California, 25-8, earlier in the season. But I couldn't choose between the two clubs," he added.

On The Sidelines—Rookie Belden Vs. Vet Troppmann

By JIM GILMARTIN

The "rookie" against the wise "old" veteran.

In this corner, Pete Belden, in his first year as head coach of the Tamalpais High School varsity football team. In the other corner, Robert Troppmann, dean of the Marin Athletic League's mentors at Redwood High.

They'll match wits Thursday morning when their teams clash for the undisputed Marin championship in what shapes up as a classic prep gridiron duel.

Let's take a look at these men whose teams have swept past all Marin opposition and look so evenly matched that it appears a script writer has cast them into their grand finale at Kentfield Thanksgiving morning.

Belden, 30, a former assistant at Tam, took over the head job in September from James Hanretty who stepped out of football to devote full time as athletic director and counsellor.

The soft-spoken Belden was graduated from Roosevelt High School in Fresno in 1950. There he was a halfback and guard on the football team and an outfielder in baseball.

After two years at Fresno Junior College he attended Fresno State College where he played two years as guard on the Bulldog team. He also performed a year of graduate work at Fresno State.

After college Belden joined the faculty of Clovis High School and was assistant to Hanretty with the Class B football team. After Hanretty left Clovis in 1957 and came to Tam, Belden stayed one year and followed his former boss to Mill Valley in 1958. This is his fifth year on the Tam faculty.

In this, his first year as head coach, Belden was placed squarely on the spot when coaches in the Marin League rated his Indians as title favorites. But he confidently assumed the role of favorite, switched Tam's offense from Hanretty's straight T to the Wing T, and his team went out and won seven games, losing none and tying in the other.

Pete is quick to share his credit for success with his assistant, defensive coach Mike Davlin, former Notre Dame and Washington Redskins' lineman. Last Saturday Novato became the first Marin team to score against Tam.

Troppmann, 39-year-old San Francisco native, is in his ninth year of coaching in Marin, four at Drake High and the last five at Redwood where he has compiled a great record by winning two of the last three Marin League championships. His teams have won 19 and lost only 4 games since the league started in 1959.

Troppmann, an ex-Marine Corps lieutenant, is considered one of the finest coaches in Northern California. He is a master organizer whose teams execute assignments with professional-like poise and polish. And, they usually rise to their greatest performances for important games such as Thursday's, a credit to the inspirational coaching.

A former star athlete at Lowell High School, USF and University of Redlands, Troppmann admits football is his hobby "12 months a year, 24 hours a day." He originated the tremendously successful Redwood Football Coaches Clinic, largest in California, and through this work has been named clinic manager for the San Francisco meeting of the American Football Coaches Assn. meeting scheduled next February.

He also has written at least eight articles for the Athletic Journal, a national sports magazine.

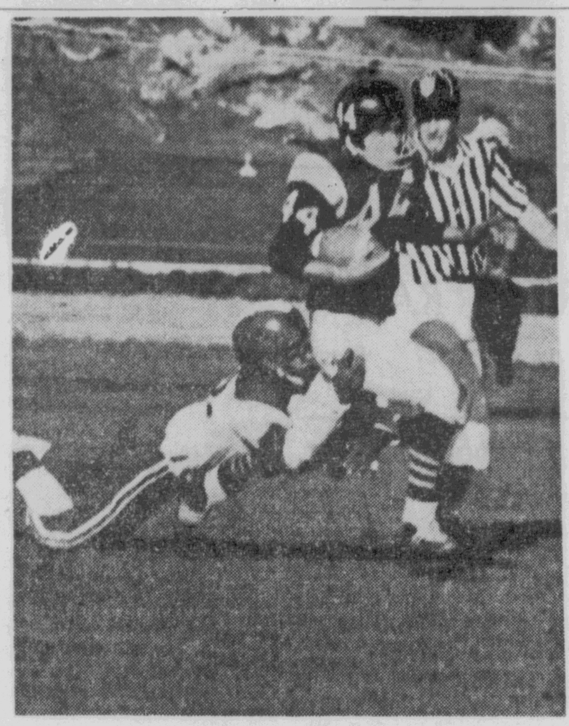

When asked to describe his biggest thrill in football, he said, "Every time I step on the field with my team it is a thrill."

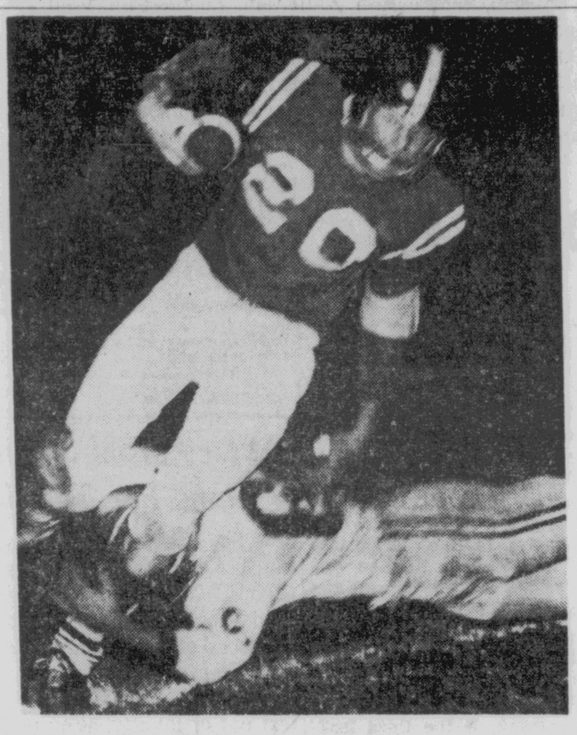

Troppmann's son Jim, the oldest of his five children, is Redwood's star quarterback.

And so, Thursday morning it will be the rookie Belden against the veteran Troppmann. It's too bad they both can't win, for Pete and Tropp have done outstanding jobs in their profession.

HIT 'EM LOW AND HIT 'EM HARD

Jinx-Loaded No. 1 Rating For Troy

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California rushed in today where angels fear to tread and took over the jinx-loaded No. 1 spot in The Associated Press major college football rankings in a tight finish with Mississippi, another unbeaten power.

The fall of Alabama, last week's leader, after its upset by Georgia Tech, opened the door for Southern California, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Texas and Minnesota to rush past the Crimson Tide which dropped to the No. 6 rung.

(The United Press International rankings also gave USC No. 1 spot for the second straight week.)

Southern California's unbeaten Trojans, who just did get past Navy 13-6, drew 20 first-place votes to 15 for Mississippi, a 19-6 winner over Tennessee.

FOUR OTHERS

The remainder of the 48 votes from the guest panel of sports writers and sportscasters participating in the weekly Associated Press poll were spread over four teams with Wisconsin, No. 3, getting seven firsts, Penn State three, Texas two and Minnesota one.

On a point score with 10 for a first place ballot, nine for second and so on down, Southern California had a 439-403 margin over Mississippi.

The top 10 with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Southern Cal. (20) 439;
2. Mississippi (15) 403;
3. Wisconsin (7) 384;
4. Texas (2) 326;
5. Minnesota (1) 235;
6. Alabama, 232;
7. Arkansas, 209;
8. Louisiana State, 140;
9. Penn State (3) 94;
10. Oklahoma, 43.

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arizona State, Dartmouth, Duke, Florida, Georgia Tech, Michigan State, Missouri, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, Washington.

YOU CAN THANK the weatherman for this attractive Thanksgiving Day sports feature. Tam and Redwood were originally scheduled to meet Oct. 13, but were rained out. This gave Redwood Coach Bob Troppmann his golden opportunity to play a Thanksgiving Day game," . . . Something I've always wanted." That both teams have gone undefeated makes it all the more appealing.

TAM COACH Pete Belden has more than casual interest in the progress of his guards—twin brothers Dale and Donn Johnson.

Belden himself is a twin and he and his identical-brudder, Tom, also were guards at Fresno State College. How's that for a coincidence?

The Tam coach and his lookalike brother caused confusion at Novato Saturday. His twin was here visiting from Fresno, attended the game and caused several double-takes. Couldn't tell who was the coach—even with a souvenir program.

Belden reluctantly admits his true moniker is Marion Orin Belden, but explains a sympathetic grandmother gave him the "Pete" nom de plume. "She felt sorry for me with a name like that," the grateful Pete says.

DOES ANYONE know the seating capacity at the Kentfield stadium. One college official guessed 7,000, another 5,000, I guessed 6,500.

REDWOOD will be the home team, will occupy the north stands and wear the red jerseys; Tam will wear white uppers. Look for a surprise when the Redwood players come out for introduction before the game. Coach Bob Troppmann, a born showman, has more tricks up his sleeve than Sam Goldwyn.

Mill Valley Golf Tourney Sunday

The semi-finals for the Director's Cup of the Mill Valley Golf Club will be held Sunday at the Mill Valley club.

The winners of the quarter-finals will be matched. The matches will be Dale Frady vs. Allan Walton and Keeler Nash vs. Lou Long.

The six winners of turkeys in the annual Mill Valley Men's Golf Club Turkey Shoot Tourney Sunday were Andre Hahn (who scored the low net of 51), Tom Wallace, Dr. S. V. Christierson, Jack Harrison, Syl Auteri and Charles Solvavini. Consolation prize went to Herb Davis.

DENVER (AP)—Bobby Yeager, 37-year-old jockey, won his fourth riding championship in seven years at Centennial Track this year.

GIANTS' HOME OPENER SET FOR APRIL 16

The San Francisco Giants, champions of the National League, open their schedule next year April 16 with the Houston Colts in the first of 81 home games.

The home schedule, which will end Sept. 29 against the Pittsburgh Pirates, will feature five double-headers, two of them against the Chicago Cubs, it was announced yesterday.

The Cubs will provide the opposition in the opening twin bill on Sunday, April 21, at Candlestick and again in the season's final doubleheader on Labor Day.

Of the 76 playing dates at home, 25 will be night games, including four against arch rival Los Angeles.

Box seats for next season are on sale at $266 per seat.

AFL Stars Will Play In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The second annual American Football League All-Star game, between the top performers of the eastern and western divisions, again will be held at San Diego.

Sponsors announced yesterday that the game would be held Jan. 13 in Balboa Stadium—home of the AFL San Diego Chargers—and site of the first game last year. The west won that one, 47-27.

The nationally televised game is sponsored by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce to benefit local charities. Coaches and players will be selected later.

New Worry For Coach

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Football Coach Fritz Brennecke, who seems to have more than his share of worries with the Colorado Mines team, learned that just before a recent game, an opposing player got sick and was given an anti-tetanus shot.

"What if that guy bites one of ours?" Fritz moaned.

Cal's Morton, Stanford End Patitucci Win Top Honors

OAKLAND (AP) — California quarterback Craig Morton, Stanford end Frank Patitucci and San Francisco State coach Vic Rowen were honored yesterday by the Northern California Football Writers Assn.

Morton, despite playing only four games to date, was named back of the year, Pattitucci the lineman and Rowen the coach for guiding his Gators to the Far Western Conference title.

Morton was out the first half of the season with a knee injury suffered on the first day of fall practice. He came back to play his first varsity ball against Penn State and has been guiding the California offense ever since.

He won out in close voting from Johnny Johnson and Ed Cummings, fullbacks for San Jose State and Stanford respectively.

Other nominees as the area's top backs were Aaron Youngblood of University of the Pacific, Ron Calcagno, Santa Clara, and Tom Manney of San Francisco State. Linemen nominated were Bill Turner, California, Roy Williams, University of the Pacific, Chuck Elder, San Jose State, Ron Cook, San ta Clara, and Don Briemle, San Francisco State.

All collegiate coaches in Northern California were eligible in the balloting for coach-of-the-year.

San Jose halfback Walt Roberts was named back-of-the-week for his play against Stanford while Cummings and Williams were co-linemen of the week. Cummings' honors came off his defensive linebacking.

Cougar End Is Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—End Hugh Campbell of Washington State, who tied an all-time college record last weekend, was named yesterday as the Big Six "lineman of the week."

In the Cougars' 22-14 victory over Idaho Saturday, Campbell caught four passes for a total of 63 yards and one touchdown and also snagged a two-point conversion pass.

The performance tied the all-time collegiate mark of Bill Klein of Hanover at 2,274 yards. Campbell should smash the old mark in Washington State's final game against Washington.

Stanford Runners Set New Record

BERKELEY (AP) — Five Stanford University runners completed the 3-mile team race in 70 minutes, 16 seconds for a national record at a cross country dual meet.

Their combined time in the meet against University of California yesterday eclipsed the old mark of 71 minutes, 20 seconds set by San Jose State. Cal won the meet, however, 47-15.

Stanford frosh Dave Debubner of Miramonte set the pace for the national record with a 13 minute, 57.7 second performance for the 3-mile event.

Russ Gals Whip Women Cagers Of Iowa Wesleyan

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa (AP)—Iowa girls definitely are no match for Russian women on the basketball court, and it's beginning to look as if the Soviet men may also win their duel with the Americans.

The Russian women overpowered the Iowa Wesleyan Tigerettes 88-38 last night, and the men nipped the NAIA All-Stars 83-82 on a desperation shot at the final buzzer.

The women's victory was their fifth straight over American girls, and the men's triumph was their third in a row and gave them a 3-2 edge with three games to play in the tour.

A crowd of 1,100 turned out for the exhibitions here and saw a blazing battle between the men with the lead changing hands three times in the last 40 seconds.

Pittsburgh Trades Groat To Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' long-time search for an experienced, good hitting shortstop has ended with the acquisition of veteran Dick Groat from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cards, the tradingest team so far in the off-season, obtained Groat yesterday in their second major swap since the 1962 season. Groat and relief pitcher Diomedes Olivo, 42, came to the Cards with right-hander Don Cardwell and young shortstop Julio Gotay going to Pittsburgh.

The deal came just 48 hours before the start tomorrow of baseball's annual three-week inter-league trading period.

The Cardinals have long had their eyes on Groat, 31, former Duke All-America basketball star who won the National League batting crown and was named the league's Most Valuable Player in 1960 when the Pirates won the pennant and beat the Yankees in the World Series.

CARD PROBLEM

Shortstop has been a Cardinal problem for years but St. Louis manager Johnny Keane believes Groat is the solution.

"He's one of the best in the league at handling the bat," said Keane. "He's as good as anyone in baseball in the No. 2 spot in the batting order. He can go to the opposite field, he can pull, he can hit and run as well as anyone and he can bunt. He's a real leader in every way."

Groat hit .294 last season, hit two homers and drove in 61 runs.

Gotay, 23, hit .255, also got two homers, and drove in 27 runs. His lack of experience, both at bat and in the field, had much to do with the failure of the Cards to play up to expectations as a pennant contender.

Joe L. Brown, Pirate general manager, said, "We regret losing Groat. But we are getting a great potential ball player in Cardwell. I feel we are strengthening our pitching staff."

Cardwell came to the Cardinals last month from the Chicago Cubs with George Altman and Moe Thacker. The Cards gave up pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

Cardwell, 27, had a 7-16 record last season and a 4.91 earned run average.

M.V. Weight-Lifter Places In AAU Meet

Joel Brower of Mill Valley bench-pressed 275 pounds and squatted with 400 pounds to place third in the annual Sacramento AAU Odd-Lift meet held last Saturday.

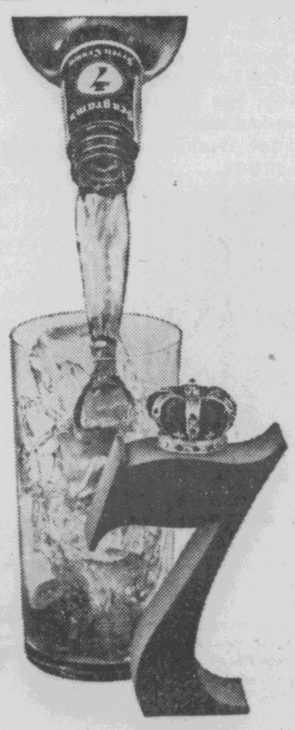

Frank Holton, a 12-year-older from San Anselmo, also participated but did not place as he bench pressed 170 pounds and squatted with 220 pounds.

Billy Cannon Says Raiders To Be Moved

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Houston Oiler halfback Billy Cannon says the sale of the Oakland Raiders for transfer to New Orleans has already been approved, but the club's president denies it.

Cannon told the Greenwood Quarterback Club here Monday night:

"I feel sure that Oakland will be playing in New Orleans next year. The sale has already been approved."

Cannon did not elaborate. But in Oakland, President F. Wayne Valley of the winless American Football League Raiders, said:

"No ball club has been sold. Period."

Valley said he had denied the same report five times in the past three weeks.

In Dallas, owner Lamar Hurt of the Dallas Texans, a member of the AFL executive committee said "I know the New Orleans people have been talking to the Oakland owners but I know nothing of what has been done."

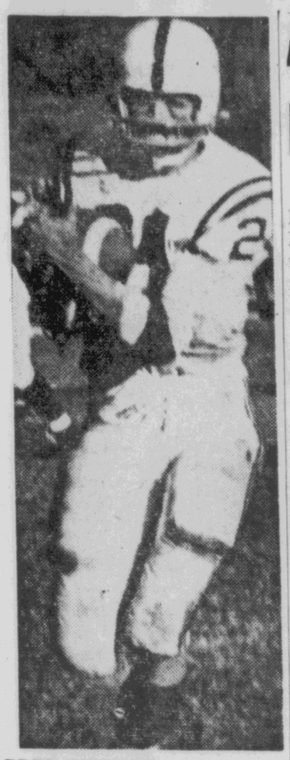

Hunt said he would favor the move if the Oakland people wanted to sell the franchise and got a satisfactory price.

The hapless Raiders have lost 10 straight games this season and are buried in the cellar of the AFL's Western Division.

A New Orleans syndicate headed by Dave Dixon has been trying to win an AFL franchise for the city. Its hopes were boosted when an exhibition game in August between Houston and Boston drew an overflow crowd of more than 31,000 to City Park Stadium.

PREP OF WEEK—Mike Shafer, dazzling halfback for the San Rafael Bulldogs, was chosen by the Independent-Journal as the Prep of the Week for his one-man show last Saturday when the Bulldogs fell to the Terra Linda Trojans 15-6. Mike, who stands 5-11 and weighs 173 pounds, picked up more yards in that game than the entire team netted. He rushed for 128 yards and the team netted only 126 yards. In the team's total yardage were 16 yards gained passing, and those 16 were on two passes caught by Shafer. The senior athlete accounted for 144 yards, scored the lone S.R. touchdown on an 85-yard run and averaged eight yards per carry. (Independent-Journal photo)

Morris Steals Spotlight In Nave Bowling With Big 288

Keith Morris' brilliant 288 league game was the talk of Nave Lanes during the past week, but some other fine performances gained recognition at the Ignacio bowling center.

Morris' big game started with a spare, but then he reeled off 10 straight strikes and on the final frame finished with an eight count. His three-game series was 644, tops at the Nave house for the week.

John Coffey was right behind Morris as he turned in a 637 total that featured games of 236 and 213. Rol Walberg was next in line with a 635-245-210.

The women also produced some nifty scores with Em Smith's 578-193-197-188 setting the pace, followed by Eunice Sedlar's 567 total and 236 solo which was high for the week. Barbara Ward hit a 542-198-190, LaVerne Backstedt had a 213 and Dottie Keaton picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Alley Kats League.

Tom O'Neill pitched the Saturday victory, getting support from Steve LeBeck's pair of singles. Terry Tadlock tripled for Iacopi.

Other leading hitters for the Dons in the two games were Larry Gerughty with a triple and two singles and Rich Podesta with three singles.

Plenty Of Fish On Both Sides Of Bay In Spite Of Rough Water

STEVENS

To paraphrase Kipling's famous saying—The east is east and the west is west, but it seems that now the twain has met. Certainly the east and the west sides of San Pablo Bay have met fishwise.

In spite of rough water, cold winds and generally miserable fishing conditions, fish in fairly copious quantities have been unloaded at China Camp and Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia. Grace (or Alice—I always get the two mixed up) Quan marveled at the many anglers who bucked the adverse conditions and came back to port with bass. That was true of both Saturday and Sunday. The latter day proved so tough that most skiffs had to call it a day and return to port, but several of said rowboats came in with fish. China Camp reported two boats in with limits before noon on the Sabbath.

JOE NERVIANI of Santa Venetia reported only a very few boats ventured forth on Sunday, but the few made the brade—mostly at or near the shell banks. Joe, himself, with a friend, was out last Wednesday and took limits in about six feet of water off the shell banks. "It was fun," said Joe, "Shallow water, very little sinker and light tackle."

ON THE Contra Costa side of the bay the story was similar, not all limits but a flock of hefty fish came in from buoys six, eight and ten. For example, the Happy Days unloaded 12 bass to 17 pounds on her afternoon trip, the Lange had 8 bass to 10 pounds and the Sunfish, which fished all day, netted 42 stripers to 13 pounds. That was on the windy Saturday. On Friday, the Happy Days netted 13 bass to 16 pounds on the morning trip and the Dowrelio No. 5 took four stripers that ran from 13 to 14 pounds.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Ed Luccia, dispenser of bait and tackle in San Leandro, called to cite Hal Miller, skipper of the Phil Ray party boat, for 21 fish to 20 pounds for his passengers and a pair of 18-pounders and a 27-pounder personally caught. Also, Luccia reported a nice 28-pound striper taken by Dennis Tiedade of San Leandro in the Sacramento River under the Towers.

George Mura reported Bob Naruo of the Hayward Area Reel Rod Benders topping the derby entrants with a 13-pounder. Joe Navarro of Sportsmen's Center, Castro Valley, told me his store was the scene of some rabid raving on the part of a bunch of locals reciting tales of hungry fish and fast limits in the area from Honker Bay to Sacramento Point.

LOUIE PATRICK bewailed the windy weather and rough, dirty water in the Sacramento and San Joaquin near his Three Mile Slough resort, and yet said "Too dirty to troll, Ralph, but the bait fishermen are cleaning up, even in all this bad weather. Doc Lorenz came in Sunday noon with a nice limit."

JOE NAVARRO reported easy limits of pheasants on Grizzly Island Wednesday. He hunted with the president of the Niles Sportsmen's Club and his buddy, Dick Kielty, behind Max, a wonderful dog.

Bolero's Lead Is Slipping

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Bolero's lead over the rapidly gaining Escapade had narrowed to only a few miles early today as the two craft slid through the water toward Mexico and the finish of the 1,000-mile Los Angeles-to-Mazatlan yacht race.

Late yesterday, the 73-foot-long Bolero was reported 329 miles out of Los Angeles—leading both in actual position and corrected time. However, the Escapade of Baldwin M. Baldwin had moved up and was only 14 miles behind in the boat-to-boat competition.

But the Escapade was listed third in corrected time, with Ben Williams' Capricious — leading among the Class C vessels—second in the corrected time. The Capricious was 256 miles out of Los Angeles Harbor.

PURSUIT THIRD

The Pursuit, owned by Ronald MacAnnan of the San Francisco Yacht Club, was in third place in actual position, 301 miles out.

Whipped on by winds ranging from 3 to 18 knots, the Bolero should reach Mazatlan late Thanksgiving Day — five days after the yawl left Los Angeles with the 29 other contestants.

Other yachts turned in these mileages (actual or corrected positions not available):

Morning Star 250 miles, Sirius II 257, Kamalii 280, Tenderfoot II 263, Kwan Yim 282, Santana 272, Khamsin 248, Westward 259, Ichiban 256, Bongo 241, Sqwall 237, Kitten 264, Gossip 223, Andale 238, Jinker 232, Cytee 250, Princess 256, Malobi 256, Poco Loco 256, Passat 202, Coronet II 248, Malad 238, Misty 230, Circe 228 and Tiki 223.

The Rascal, owned by Bill Wilson, was the only yacht not reporting her mileage. She was reported to have had some minor difficulties.

U.S. Waiting For Russ Word On Castro Giving Up Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. authorities said today the United States is holding the Soviet Union responsible for carrying out the withdrawal from Cuba of bombers which Prime Minister Fidel Castro now offers to give up as obsolete.

This wait-and-see attitude was an initial Washington reaction to a letter to the United Nations quoting Castro as saying he is ready to let the Soviets take back the jet bombers if the Soviet government "considers it convenient for the good development of negotiations and a resolution of the crisis to withdraw such airplanes." Castro said his government therefore will not block the Soviet decision.

Removal of the jets could mark a breakthrough in stalled U.S.-Soviet negotiations on a Cuban settlement. President John F. Kennedy has insisted the planes must go as part of the Cuba deal with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

But the United States has been holding the Soviet Union responsible for the presence of the bombers in Cuba. Therefore, U.S. officials said, the United States is looking to the Soviets—over the Cuban leader's head—to indicate that the bombers are going out.

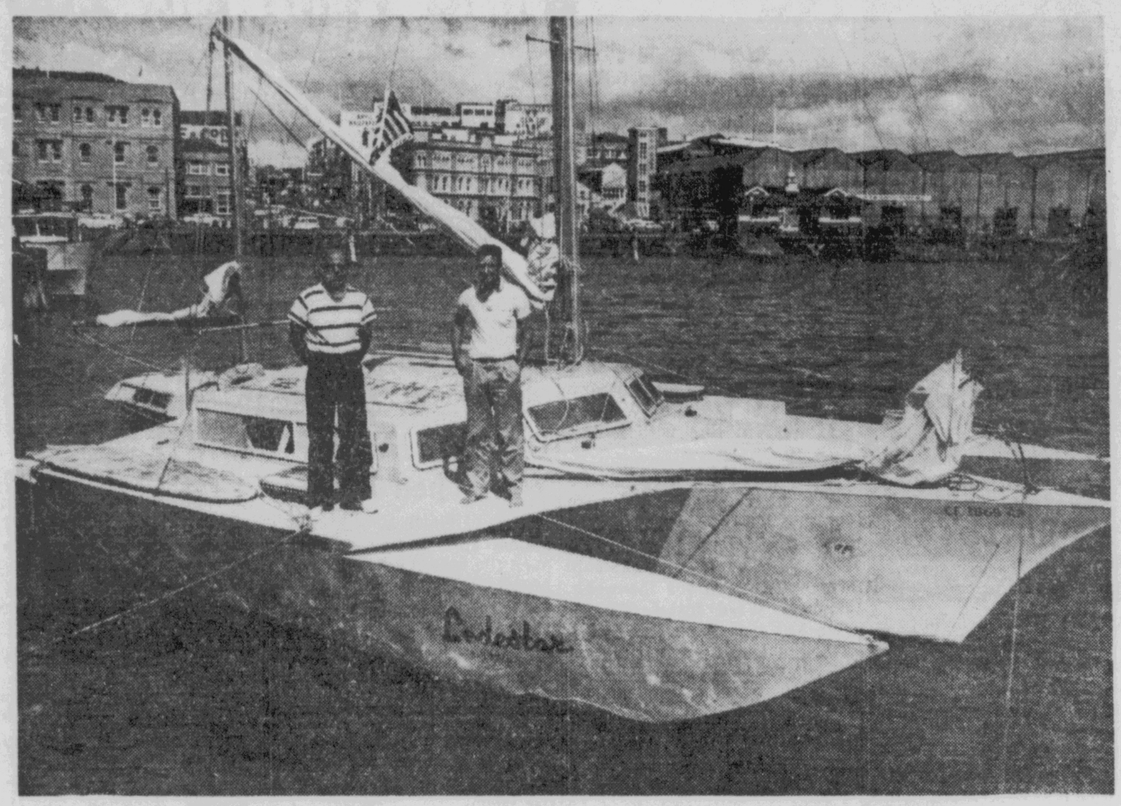

Kennedy is slated to talk publicly about the Cuban situation in a news conference at 6 p.m. (EST) today. The president's meeting with the press will be on national radio and television. It is his first news conference since before the start of the Cuban crisis.

U.S. authorities made it clear that what Kennedy says tonight will be affected by any word—or lack of word—from the Soviets during the day about removal of the bombers.

Without setting up a definite timetable that would give the proposition one of the major elements of an ultimatum, U.S. negotiators nevertheless have emphasized to the Soviets at the United Nations that they were in a hurry for a satisfactory response on the point. The schedule for the Kennedy broadcast provided an implied time marker.

Soviet negotiators are reported to have contended so far that the planes are outdated, implying the United States should not be so insistent on their removal. The Cubans have sought to give the impression the planes belong to them.

Castro's declaration that he is willing to give up the craft because they are out of date would appear to be a face-saving solution for the Cuban leader.

TRIMARIN SAILOR 'DOWN UNDER'

Arthur L. Piver (left) of Mill Valley stands on deck of the Lodestar, a 35-foot trimaran, in harbor at Auckland, N.Z., after sailing it 10,000 miles across the Pacific. He left home two months ago with two crewmen, who were replaced at Tahiti by John Daigneault (right). Piver designed and built the Lodestar. It carries sail and a small outboard motor for entering and leaving port. He expects to return by Christmas to his home at 50 Marlin Avenue, Mill Valley.

West Marin Classroom Needs Told

If growth continues at its present rate in the West Marin School District, there will soon be need for additional classrooms, Supt. George R. Stratton told trustees last night.

Stratton cited attendance figures showing from 20 to 23 pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades but nearly twice this many in the first through fifth grades.

He said the district has a remaining bonding capacity of $50,000. When bonded to capacity, the district should qualify for state aid.

Board chairman Gordon J. Plattes said pending federal purchase of the Point Reyes National Seashore would cut the district's bonding capacity. He thought this might make the district eligible for state aid automatically.

Trustees decided to wait and see.

The West Marin School District board also:

1. Decided to try to interest the Parent-Teacher Assn. in a book drive to fill the shelves of the recently formed school library.

2. Learned that intelligence and achievement tests given sixth through eighth graders put them at or slightly above the average of pupils at the same level throughout the nation.

State Asked To Go Slow On Shoreline Highway Decision

A resolution asking the State Highway Commission to go slow on relocation and improvement of Shoreline Highway was unanimously adopted by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs was instructed to present this to the state group with a full explanation of the commission's reasons.

Discussion centered around the point that the commission has set a Nov. 29 public hearing for planning 20.5 miles of the Shoreline road, from Highway 101 to 2.8 miles south of Olema—an area of vital importance to the West Marin Master Plan.

The resolution asked that state decisions about the road be delayed "until such time, approximately six to eight months hence, as the county can evaluate the information it will have developed" and can make recommendations on the general location and treatment of the highway.

Federal planning assistance on preparation of the master plan has been asked, but Dobbs said it cannot reach the stage of public hearings before about next July.

David Van Pelt of the planning staff said that the Shoreline Highway can't be considered alone because one or more high standard roads to West Marin are needed and these would reduce the importance of Route 1.

"High-capacity roads," he pointed out, might be built through Lucas Valley or along the course of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Moreover, standards for scenic treatment might be changed so that the route through Tamalpais Valley might be developed with less destructive effect than under present law which requires four lanes for a freeway.

Both Dobbs and Van Pelt indicated belief that the Shoreline might eventually be of less than four-lane construction.

Chairman William Upton said conceivably one or more other routes might be developed to take most of the Shoreline traffic, "and be easier to build."

Commissioner Felix M. Warburg said that although the Shoreline was given top priority some time ago, actually other routes now should have priority over it.

Citizens Get No Positive Answer On West Marin School Unification

There was no positive answer for 35 citizens who appeared before trustees of West Marin School District last night to find out what will happen next toward unification of school districts.

Last month, the state board of education turned down the proposed unification of all districts within Tomales High School District.

West Marin has now been included in a study of unification possibilities for the Tamalpais High School District. The augmented committee studying this move will meet Nov. 28. Trustees promised they would attend that session.

Most of the citizens were worried lest unification with Tomales might be revived through a unionization move.

Supt. George R. Stratton explained that if all the elementary districts within the boundaries of the high school district "unionize"—that is, merge into one large elementary district—unification with the high school district would become automatic.

The West Marin trustees have received an invitation to attend a meeting of the Tomales Elementary School District to discuss unionization next Monday.

Stratton suggested other unionization possibilities: West Marin with Point Reyes School District, and both with Bolinas-Stinson Elementary School District.

Trustees promised to have more information at their next meeting Dec. 10.

San Rafael To Do Battle With NWP

The San Rafael City Council decided last night to take the offensive against Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. to try to restore rail service to the city.

Mayor John F. McInnis asked City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw if the city "can bring a cross-action" against NWP and its parent firm, Southern Pacific Co., for failure to restore service despite an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner's finding that its application to abandon the San Rafael portion of the NWP main line was unjustified.

"I think legally your position is sound," said Bagshaw. He said he would ask Boris H. Lakustra, the city's special counsel in its battle with NWP, to prepare the action.

Lakusta might be encouraged to act by the fact the council also approved payment of his bill of $18,956 for services to date in the fight to win back rail service.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said the county had budgeted $5,000 toward this and the board of supervisors had assured him it would add to the amount to make up half the total.

2 Mendocino Judges, Ex-Deputy Arrested

UKIAH (UPI)—Two Mendocino County judges and a former sheriff's deputy were arrested yesterday on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice and "maliciously" issuing arrest warrants against county and state officials.

Justice Court Judges Maurice Tindall and Glenn W. Evans were released on their own recognizance several hours after the county grand jury handed down the indictments against them. Former Deputy Robert Morton, whose bail was set at $10,000, was jailed on a charge of contempt as well as the complaints issued in the indictment.

In San Francisco, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk called the indictments "courageous examples of official action taken to protect the orderly process of government and the administration of justice.

"We will not tolerate those who would make a mockery of our laws through vexatious and repetitious proceedings," Mosk declared.

Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Sleepy Hollow, a special assistant to Mosk, brought the issue before the grand jury after a series of arrest and contempt orders had been issued by Tindall and Evans.

A fourth person, Mrs. Shon Salisbury, was also named in the jury's complaint and a warrant was issued for her arrest. Earlier this year, she filed a misdemeanor wife beating charge against her husband, Darrel, a Ukiah hairdresser.

Dist. Atty. Frank Peterson conducted an investigation and then dismissed her charge. Morton, a friend of Mrs. Salisbury, induced Tindall to charge Peterson and Sheriff Reno Bartolomie with "conspiracy to obstruct justice."

Mosk then stepped in and obtained dismissal of the charges through Ukiah Judge Fred Goss. Tindall responded with a contempt order against Mosk, Goldstein and Goss.

These charges were dismissed but Morton, Tindall and Evans continued to make complaints until more than 50 warrants of arrest had been issued.

Others charged by the three men included Edward O'Brien, deputy attorney general; Dale Underwood, county deputy district attorney, and Mrs. Katherine Hunter, a reporter for the Ukiah Daily News.

Post Office Action Urged

The Corte Madera Town Council last night adopted a resolution urging quick action on selection of a new post office site.

The council, however, rejected the recommendation of Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow that the Sanford property at Tamalpais and Meadowsweet drives be mentioned specifically as the preferred site.

Brandow said the council "should not sit quietly while the site decision is made." He urged councilmen to take an action that would encourage developer Fred Sanford to reopen his shopping center for consideration of a post office.

Councilmen, not wanting to show a preference, deleted a specific reference to Sanford from the resolution and voted to urge "all bidders" to keep sites available for the post office a few more weeks.

Approval Is Won For Medical Unit

Dr. I. N. and Betty Tucker yesterday at last won Marin County Planning Commission approval for rezoning to provide a complete medical unit just south of the Mill Valley city boundary.

For several weeks they had been asking that property on Reed Street near Ethel Avenue be rezoned from one-family residence district to administrative and professional, contending against opposition of neighbors that little traffic would be generated.

Dr. Tucker, who already has adjacent property of this character given over to medical use, declared that more doctors will be establishing offices in the locality.

Raymond De Young Quits Town Council

The Corte Madera Town Council last night accepted the resignation of Councilman Raymond L. DeYoung and directed that he be written a letter of appreciation for his services.

De Young, in a letter to the council, said he was resigning because of heavier business duties. His resignation is effective Dec. 3.

The council last night held no discussion on when a successor would be named. An appointment must be made within 30 days of the effective date of resignation or else an election has to be held.

Novato Chamber Kicks Off Its 1963 Membership Drive

The 1963 membership drive of the Novato Chamber of Commerce was kicked off last night at the board meeting at the chamber office when all board members renewed their memberships.

Eugene Trombley of Trombley's Novato Hardware was named chairman of a committee to relocate the office.

The board voted a $35 contribution to the swimming pool bond drive fund and $25 to the Christmas home decoration contest.

The monthly breakfast meeting for December was cancelled because of the rush of December business.

New by-laws will be submitted to a membership meeting at a luncheon at Cloud 5 on Monday.

Donald Webster, manager of the Novato Collection Agency, will address the retail merchants committee at 8 a.m. Friday in the chamber office.

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE
The low-price field is about the last place a traditionalist would expect to find Dodge. The Dodge name has been associated with the medium-price boys since Hector was a pup. But the fact remains: the '63 Dodge is priced down with good old cars "F" and "C". Now, you can stay with a low price and get a lot more car. The name proves it: Dodge! You get the comfort Dodge is famous for. You get a smooth torsion-bar ride; experts call it best in the business. You get a V8 loaded for bear. (Or, the famous gas-saving 6 with the muscle of conventional V8's.) If that isn't enough to turn the other two green with envy, how's this for a clincher? Every 1963 Dodge is backed by a revolutionary new 5-year/50,000 mile warranty.*

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Iowa Couple To Be Honored At Dinner On Anniversary

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Werts of Spencer, Iowa, who are spending the winter in Marin, will be honored at a dinner Nov. 28 to be given by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Werts of San Rafael. The dinner will mark the visitors' fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Werts and son, Howard Jr., were in Spencer when an open house was given for the Iowa couple at the Grace Methodist Church. That evening the golden wedding celebrants had a party at their summer home in Spencer Beach. Also present for the events were the Spencer couple's two other sons, Marrell D. Werts of Washington, D. C. and Jack Werts of Madison, Wis. and their families.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Werts arrived here early in November and will remain six months.

MISS LOIS WALKER of Mill Valley recently returned home from a cruise around the world. She is a retired Tamalpais High School teacher. She sailed from San Francisco April 1 for Japan where she traveled for 18 days. It was the end of the cherry blossom time there and she went from Yokohama to Tokyo and Beppu, a spa on the arm of the Inland Sea.

Miss Walker was in Hong Kong 12 days. She was particularly interested in the life of the natives on their boats, their homes. They have stores on small barges and have recreations halls on them. Next port was Singapore where the traveler spent most of her three weeks shopping. In Bangkok she marveled at the fabulous temples with their gold pagodas. She traveled along the Malayan Peninsula to Malacca and Kuala Lumpar where the big thrill was riding in a trishaw (a rickshaw operated by a bicycle). Next stops were in Penang, Ceylon, Colombo. There Miss Walker made an overnight trip to the tea plantations. In India Miss Walker went to the large cities and in New Delhi saw the area dedicated to Gandhi, which will be completed in 1965, and to the Taj Mahal.

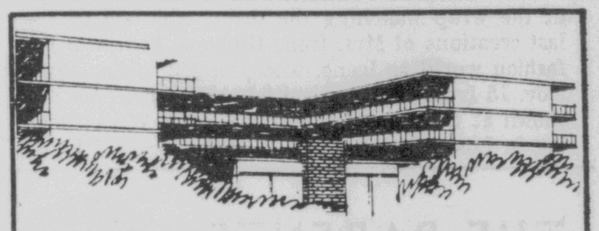

Miss Walker returned to Bombay where she experienced the first monsoon of the season. She sailed to Karachi, then through the Suez Canal; and left the ship in Genoa. She was two and a half months in Italy, Germany and Switzerland. She was in Grindelwald when the Swiss celebrated their inpedendence day with yodeling, dancing and fireworks. Miss Walker went to Rotterdam where she boarded a Dutch freighter for the cruise home.

GORGEOUS GOWNS and magnificent decorations highlighted Saturday night's dinner dance of the San Francisco Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home in the Grand Ball Room of the Fairmont Hotel. Jewels of the Nile was the theme of the annual event. Lotus blossoms centered the tables which were lighted by blue, black and copper candles. Spectacular was the procession of waiters who carried flaming dishes of cherries jubilee for the dessert.

About 800 members and guests attended the dinner dance. Two San Rafaelites, Mrs. Robert Greene and Mrs. Jerry Hoyt, wore beautiful gowns. Mrs. Greene's was white satin and chiffon with a jeweled top and floorlength boufafnt skirt. Mrs. Hoyt's short formal, was green covered with tiny green beads.

Betty and George Fay of Strawberry entertained at a large cocktail party before the dinner dance, and another was given by Jeannette Barnhard of Loch Lomond, president of the auxiliary, and her husband, Howard Bruce Bernhard, in their suite at the Fairmont.

CAPTAIN JOHN MEYER, (USN., ret.) and Mrs. Meyer of Mill Valley are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Nancy Strawbridge, and Howard Haven Jewel. The marriage took place in Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 16. Mrs. Jewel is administrative secretary to Attorney General Stanley Mosk, and Mr. Jewel is an assitant attorney general.

DESIGNER'S LAST WORK

This afternoon costume, with the flowered lining of the wrap matching the dress, was one of the last creations of Mrs. Irene Gibbons, known to the fashion world as Irene, who plunged to her death Nov. 15 from a Hollywood hotel. The costume was shown at the annual Christmas Press Week showing in Los Angeles. (AP Wirephoto)

Shaft And Shift News Of California Designers

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — California designers served a multi-coursed banquet of fashion that began with the crisp efficiency of Jim Church's daytime costumes and ended with the shimmering glamour of Mr. Blackwell's evening creations.

The occasion was the dress section of the weeklong California fashion creators program, attended by newspaper fashion editors from across the country.

The big dress news from California designers was the skimmer with eased waist and skirt and its variations, the shaft and the shift. Tunics also were high on the designer's popularity polls, but the ever champion fitted sheath held its own among the newcomers.

AND THE costume went everywhere, to the office in the morning, to cocktails in the evening and to the ball at night. Many of the suit-dresses borrowed the two-piece look with contrasting top and skirt and jacket matching the skirt.

The influence of the free relaxed life in sun oriented California was reflected in the easy comfort of the styles and in the brilliant colors: the yellows, hot pinks, oranges and limes.

Prints were inspired by the orient, the middle east, the African jungle, and the abstract painter.

JIM CHURCH of California Girl led off the day with costumes and simple dresses perfect for travel or office that delighted the audience. His beautifully sculptured suit-dresses had the contrasting top and skirt with matching jacket. His skimmers won over even the more skeptical critics of that innovation. He also showed the "overshirt" dress: a two-piece pullover dress with carefully hidden zippers in the back to facilitate egress. His colors ranged from the solids of enamel yellow, china blue, wild pink and wet sand to a lovely Spanish print inspired by Moorish grillwork.

MR. BLACKWELL completed the day with his cocktail and evening collection that ranged from the sexiness of body moulded crepe sheaths to the feminine softness of cascading chiffon. His gowns included an ankle length leopard sheath and a similar style in solid sequined splendor with the highest of high necks.

Nothing Stops Her

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—A housewife paralyzed from the neck down by polio, is studying in a hospital here for a B.A. degree.

Mrs. Rosemary Sumter, mother of three children, has been paralyzed since 1959. Wearing a jacket-like respirator which does her breathing for her, she studies English, German, Nederlands Afrikaans and criminology.

She writes by typing with a stick held between her teeth on a typewriter suspended above her. She can type 300 words in an hour.

Mrs. Sumter, who was born in Germany in 1931, will take her first year B.A. examinations at the end of next year.

"It's going well, but of course it's difficult," she says.

Old, New Cooks Urged To Gobble This Turkey Talk

NEW YORK (UPI)— Turkeys bring questions as well as delicious eating. The following queries and answers, suggested by the American Gas Association, may help you get more flavor and food value from your noble bird this Thanksgiving.

Q. What's the fastest way to thaw a frozen turkey?

A. PLACE unwrapped bird in oven with low temperature control set at 155 degrees. An 8-pound bird will thaw in 3 hours, a 20 pound bird will reach 32 degrees F in 5 hours.

Q. How do you prepare a turkey for roasting?

A. REMOVE the giblets and pinfeathers. Feel inside along the ribs to remove bits of lung. Singe off hairs. Wash the bird, inside and out under cold water. Remove oil sac above tail. Pat dry and place in refrigerator until ready to cook.

Q. How much stuffing will a turkey hold?

ABOUT a scant cup of stuffing for each pound. A 15-pound bird will hold about 15 cups.

Q. Is it possible to roast a large turkey partly one day and complete cooking the next?

A. THIS IS NOT a good idea. The roasting process should not be interrupted until the temperature of 195 degrees for an unstuffed or 165 degrees for a stuffed bird is reached.

Q. How should smoked turkey be cooked?

A. LIKE ANY cooked meat. To serve it hot, place it on a rack in a pan, add 1 cup water, cover and heat in a low oven (325 degrees F) approximately 8 minutes per pound.

Greeting Goes Up And Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — Put the welcome mat in your window this Christmas! Decorating a window shade on the street side for visitors to see.

Inscribe a cheery greeting in glue-on-glitter, available in a variety of colors at five-and-dime stores), and add a border of same. Or, use the glitter with some fake spray-on snow. You can create appropriate symbols such as reindeer, bells, trees.

Just draw or trace these on lightly in pencil, then block out the surrounding area with masking tape before applying the glitter or snow. To make your holiday welcome stand out even more, use this technique on a dark green cloth shade.

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

Keep Household Chemicals Out Of Children's Reach

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was a common household accident. The children, playing with mother's nail polish, spilled it on the bathroom floor.

Mother grabbed a bottle of spot remover. She closed the bathroom door to keep the kids out, and went to work.

When her husband came home, he found her unconscious on the bathroom floor. She died in a hospital a few hours later.

This tragedy happened in a suburb of Washington. But it could happen anywhere. It may happen to you if in a closed room you use a cleaner containing carbon tetrachloride.

Carbon tetrachloride may be fatal if inhaled. But it is only one of hundreds of deadly poisons in everyday household use in American homes.

Although these poisons occasionally claim an adult life, their principal victims are children.

In New York, a six-year-old boy recently took a swig from a soda pop bottle he found on his father's workbench. Despite emergency surgery to remove his stomach and part of his esophagus, he died two hours later. The bottle had contained a soldering compound made of highly corrosive zinc chloride.

The U.S. Food & Drug Administration reports that about 90,000 children similarly are poisoned by household chemicals every year. At least 200 of them die.

Under a new federal law, which became fully effective last Feb. 1, all hazardous household chemical products are required to bear warning labels which include such signal words as "Danger," "Poson," "May be fatal if swallowed or inhaled," and—on all labels—"Keep out of reach of children."

"These labels are not intended just to scare you," says an FDA spokesman. "Your children's lives may depend on the care you take in keeping household chemicals out of their reach."

Here are some of the things which the FDA urges you to do to protect your family against poisoning:

—Lock up all dangerous substances. Children can climb. An unlocked cabinet is not safe storage. Not even if it's high overhead.

—Do not store poisonous or inflammable substances, such as kerosene, rat poisons, or soldering compounds, in food or beverage containers.

—If for any reason a hazardous substance must be transferred from its original container, make sure the new container is clearly marked with warnings. This can be done with adhesive tape or a special marker.

—Always be sure there is adequate ventilation when you are using cleaning fluids.

—Do not give or take medicine in the dark. Be sure you can read the label. Never take medicine from an unlabeled bottle.

—Safeguard tablets, such as "baby aspirin," which are candied, flavored or colored. Children eat them like candy.

—Use a prescription drug only for the patient for whom the physician ordered it. Weed out "left-over" medicines from your cabinet regularly. Never try to treat a new illness with the left-overs of an earlier prescription, without consulting your physician.

—Date all drug supplies when you buy them.

—When you throw away drugs, cleaning fluids or other hazardous substances, be sure the contents cannot be reached by children or pets.

—Warn small children never to eat or drink any drugs, chemicals, plants, or berries they find without your express permission. Insist on this. Deal firmly with any infraction, even if it turns out to be harmless. The next adventure might be fatal.

Poisons may lurk not only in the kitchen and bathroom, but even in your jewelry box. The FDA has taken action recently against colorful bead necklaces and bracelets which are being sold in many parts of the country.

Some of them are made of exotic beans, seeds, berries and other vegetable matter that are deadly poisonous if introduced into the mouth.

How To Survive Christmas Rush, Shopper's Crush

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Christmas shopping rush starts the day after Thanksgiving.

How to avoid the pressure and rush of an otherwise pleasant shopping trip? That is the big question! Here's the answer:

First, go through with that promise most shoppers make after each season to "plan ahead."

Draw up a gift list and decide in advance what a friend or relative would like to have, instead of roaming through stores wondering "What can I get for him?"

Once your planning is over, consider ordering gifts through mail order or "home shopper" services of department stores.

With specific gift ideas in mind, you can arm yourself with Christmas Club savings or charge plates and head for your favorite stores. If you have many presents to buy, plan several shopping trips or a "coffee break" to refresh yourself.

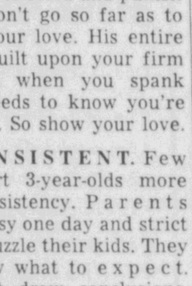

Another way to take the headache out of the season is to file Christmas Club lists on small index cards, much like your recipe file. Instead of crossing out old addresses and crowding in the new ones in your directory, index cards leave room for additions and can be discarded easily.

With the file organized, you can start addressing a few cards each day. When the mailing date draws near there will be plenty of time to add any personal messages. Rolls of stamps help to simplify this sticky job.

What will you do with your free time while everyone else is racing to complete last minute shopping? Enjoy the season by leisurely decorating the home or planning holiday parties that you could not find time for in past years.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

Independent Three-Year Old Needs Plenty Of Understanding

Can you remember when you were 3? You began to think for yourself then. You learned the difference between right and wrong. You fought, and were naughty. It was a very busy year for you.

Do you have a 3-year-old? He's learning the same things. You can help him. Here are some suggestions:

SHOW YOUR LOVE. Nearly all 3-year-olds are rebellious. They seek out forbidden things, and do them. They taunt their parents in many ways. You'll be shocked at your little boy. You'll have to scold and punish him, but don't go so far as to withhold your love. His entire future is built upon your firm love. Even when you spank him, he needs to know you're on his side. So show your love.

BE CONSISTENT. Few things hurt 3-year-olds more than inconsistency. Parents who are easy one day and strict the next puzzle their kids. They don't know what to expect. They can't draw conclusions. So? So don't laugh at an offence one day, and punish it the next. Don't let him play one parent off against the other. Present a united front to him. Agree on what is right and what is wrong. He needs clear ideas, consistently presented.

PUNISH WISELY. Nearly all 3-year-olds must be punished at times. The punishment will enforce the lessons you teach. But most folks overdo, and punish too much. The rule is to use the mildest punishment which will teach the needed lesson. Reserve your spankings for the few most dangerous offenses your youngster commits. Then he'll learn fast.

SHARE YOUR FUN. Play with your 3-year-old. Take him on jaunts with you. Laugh and sing with him. He needs to enjoy your companionship, whenever possible. Good luck!

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

At about 3 to 4 months a baby "comes of age" as a personality. Now baby recognizes you. Eyes light up at the sight of you; ears rejoice at the sound of your voice. Offer a smile and you'll probably get a smile back. Look and you'll see little fingers dare to play, to touch. Listen and you'll hear new coos in his self-styled vocabulary.

•

Now's the time to help baby up the ladder of learning by encouraging his efforts, stimulating his imagination. Watch that personality blossom!

•

The growth picture. Your baby grows faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs plenty of protein . . . the most important "growing aid" in his diet. Gerber Strained Meats, made from selected Armour cuts, are high in protein; good sources of iron and niacin, an important B-vitamin.

• Gerber Strained Meats are easy to digest because most of the fat and fiber is removed.

• All 9 varieties are pure meat with just enough broth for a smooth, moist texture.

•

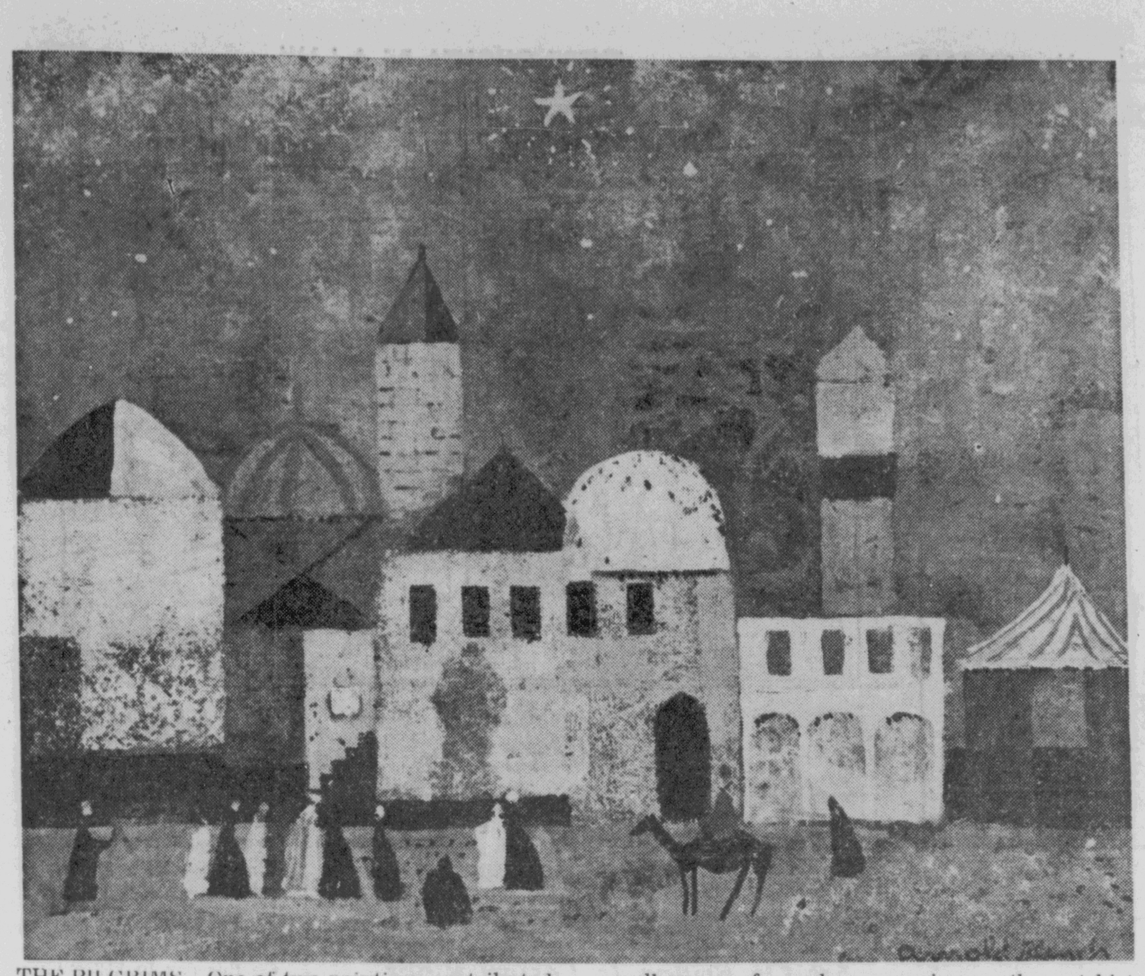

Helping hand dept. "Will too much attention spoil a baby?" asks many a mother. Well, experts today say that, in general, babies whose emotional needs are satisfied at an early age make fewer demands later on. After all, when you cuddle your baby for comfort or croon away his loneliness, you're giving him a sense of security and helping him to develop into a happy, well-adjusted personality.

•

Nutrition notation. Specially prepared baby cereals play an important role in your baby's diet because of the special nutrients they supply. Gerber Cereals are enriched with the iron babies need shortly after birth. (Milk does not supply enough for babies' needs.) In addition, they contain calcium and important B-vitamins. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

THE PILGRIMS—One of two paintings contributed by Arnold Blanch to the United Nations Children's Fund for use as a UNICEF greeting card—shows a small group of people converging on the outskirts of a Middle Eastern town. The early morning sky is orange with the mounting heat, but an outsize star continues to glitter high above.

CARDINAL AND CHICKADEES, is typical of Spain's Roser Agell's sense of color and genuine feeling for her characters. Set in a snowbound North American village, the design depicts children, bundled in gay snowsuits, feeding the birds who rely during the long winter on the thoughtfulness of their young friends. This card is one of the UNICEF "Festival of Birds" series.

Woodgrain Decor Popular In Homemakers' Kitchens

Woodgrain decor is most popular for kitchens among homemakers throughout the nation, according to a survey of leading interior designers and kitchen planning centers by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Natural wood cabinets are popular in a full range of finishes from light birch to dark walnut and style-conscious women prefer wall and floor coverings that simulate wood tones and are easy to keep clean.

METAL CABINETS are also becoming part of this new look in kitchen interiors. New styles include cabinets with wood veneers over the metal that give the illusion of natural wood finishes. And, although beige and yellow accent colors are most popular in woodgrain kitchens, many items such as cannisters, bread boxes and wall decorations are being made in natural wood.

Homemakers have found that natural wood is a practical material. Wood cabinets can be custom - made for kitchen arrangements that will save steps and provide maximum storage areas.

ALSO, wood doesn't easily show fingerprints and repeated cleaning doesn't mar the finish.

And wood can easily be refinished to eliminate scratches.

Growing in popularity is a trend to combine wood cabinets with appliances in stainless steel and copper tones which blend well with wood. However, pastel colors are still favored by a great many and are expected to be in wide use for many years to come.

IN COORDINATING the cabinets with the floors, a woodgrain effect is achieved with modern easy-to-maintain solid vinyl woodgrain planks, which are 4-inches wide and 36-inches long and look as rich as actual wood flooring. The planks are often installed in a random pattern of shades, each with a blending of delicate wood tones, in staggered lengths to add to the natural look And they are also available with simulated pegs.

The advantages of smooth-surface vinyl planks, which come in natural-grain tones of birch, teak and limed oak, are that they have anti-slip properties and resist grease, ink and cleaning fluids. And they can easily be kept luxuriously clean with only light soap-and-water mopping and an occational waxing.

MANY HOMEMAKERS are using solid vinyl woodgrain planks on walls too—in shades that either match or contrast with the floor. Often, they use 9" x 9" squares which are available in harmonizing beech and elm woodgrain tones in vinyl asbestos tile.

Although most cooking is done in ovens and on ranges, many kitchen interiors today have open barbecue grills, which express a rustic motif blending with the overall woodgrain decor.

Hap Head Code Take This Advice

CHICAGO —"You can't cure a cold, despite many patent medicine claims to the contrary," the American Medical Association cautions as the cold season gets underway.

Normally a cold lasts from five to eight days, but sometimes a fever or cough hangs on, or the cold keeps recurring. If this happens, the AMA advises consulting a doctor.

A few simple rules usually will ward off a cold, says the AMA.

—Keep your body in best condition by eating a well-balanced diet of good, nutricious foods. Get enough sleep every night.

—Don't it or lie in a draft. Beware of chilling or of overheating, either of which can weaken resistance.

—Dress appropriately for cold or rainy weather, and avoid dressing or undressing in a cold room.

—Try to avoid close contact with others who have colds.

Variety Of Tastes Shown In Series Of UNICEF Cards

Greeting cards which will bring health and hope to needy children in more than 100 countries helped by UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, will be sold locally through the Marin Chapter of the American Assn. for the United Nations, it was announced by Mrs. Hale Benton of San Rafael, chairman of the drive.

The chairman of the UNICEF Greeting Card sales program pointed out that the proceeds from each box of 10 cards would mean a daily cup of milk for 45 hungry children for one week, or the vaccine to protect 60 youngsters from tuberculosis.

THE 1962 series will meet a variety of tastes. The spirit of Christmas is especially evident in two designs donated by Fritz Busse, "Christmas Morning," and "The Creche." In "The Messenger," America's famous Arnold Blanch shows an angel bringing glad tidings to a sleeping town, and his second card portrays Middle Eastern pilgrims about to start out on their quest under the guidance of a brilliant star.

OTHER DESIGNS include two African folklore scenes: "Winter Carnival" by American "primitive" painter Leo Schutzman, and a series of five colorful cards, "Festival of Birds," contributed by Spain's Roser Agell.

The entire UNICEF selection can be seen or purchased by calling Mrs. Benton or Mrs. Eric Moeller of Ross.

City Life Aid To Turkish Women In Fight For Rights

ISTANBUL (UPI) — Four out of five Turkish women still live in some of the most primitive social and political circumstances in the world.

Paradoxically the remaining one in five is surrounded by exactly the reverse.

This is the difference between living in a village and in a city in Turkey. And 80 per cent of the country's 15 million women live in villages.

IN THEORY there should be no contrast, because Turkish women have equal rights in inheritance, in marriage, in salaries and in politics. But in practice it does not work out that way.

In the villages there are far more women than men who still practice illegal polygamy. But it is not so in the cities, where the women are in the minority.

A woman in a village has no right whatsoever to speak her mind about social or political problems, and she votes according to instructions the leading local landlord has given to her husband.

BUT IN ISTANBUL, Ankara and Izmir women led students against the police and army during the anti-Menderes riots in April, 1960. The riots culminated in a military coup.

Most of the women in villages work as field hands. Yet among the female population in the cities there are teachers, industrial workers, doctors, professors, parliamentary deputies, lawyers, judges, jet pilots, naval officers, engineers and policewomen.

IN THE VILLAGE, the woman covers her face and wears the robes created by her ancestors. In the cities, she follows the latest French and American fashions, and displays the tiniest bikini on the beaches of the Bosporus in Istanbul.

She plays or listens to Oriental music in the village and cannot read or write.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Art Of Bridge Is Losing Right Tricks At Just The Right Time

Bridge may be defined as the art of losing tricks. (In fact, this definition is just right for some of our regular partners.)

East put up the king of spades at the first trick, and South won with the ace. Declarer saw that he could easily win two tricks in each suit and that his best chance for a ninth trick was in clubs.

AN ARTIST

Considering himself quite an artist, South led a low club from his hand and played a low club from dummy.

South meant to lose this trick, of course, and he succeeded. It was the only success he had.

East returned a spade, and South stepped up with the queen of spades. Then South led another club to dummy's king.

BREAKS RECORD

When the clubs failed to break South broke the record for the sitting jaw-drop. There was no ninth trick. South's artistry, to put it another way, had enabled him to lose five tricks.

We artists can't snicker at the very idea of losing the first trick in a suit. It's often the right play, but not in this hand.

South should start the clubs by playing the ace and king. If nobody shows out, declarer can continue with a third club to set up two tricks in dummy.

TRICKS LATER

He can get to those tricks later by way of the ace of diamonds.

Actually, South finds out that the clubs are not going to break. Now he must play for a 3-3 break in diamonds. He takes the king of diamonds and deliberately loses the next diamond.

This time the artistry is necessary. South can win the spade return and lead a diamond to dummy's ace.

When the suit breaks favorably, dummy can cash the last diamond to assure the game and rubber.

Peptic Ulcers In Children Seem To Be Increasing In This Country

VAN DELLEN

Peptic ulcer in children is on the increase. According to one authority, the condition is more common than diabetes and rheumatic fever among the smallfry. An upsurge of emotional problems appears t o be the most logical explanation.

Dr. Margaret Prouty of Madison, Wis., and her colleague, Dr. Dorothy Oakley, diagnosed 34 new cases of ulcer in youngsters in the 12-month period ending March, 1961. All had X-ray evidence to prove it. Many had one parent with ulcer and, in one family, three children and both parents were afflicted.

DOCTOR PROUTY SAYS the majority in this series were intelligent children but they were perfectionists who "want everything just right." These boys and girls were highstrung and jittery as a rule with strong needs for praise, appreciation, and love. The craters developed when there were personality clashes or other emotional problems.

One of the group was a 6-year-old boy who had been bothered for more than a year with abdominal distress. Hospitalization was advised when pain b e c a m e more severe, awakening him at night. Stomach X-rays revealed an ulcer.

THE LAD COME from a family where the mother was emotionally disturbed and the father insecure. He usually gave in to his wife's judgment, which was not as sound as his because she was riddled with fears. She blamed the father for the child's condition. The nurses in the hospital said the youngster was smart alecky and talked back frequently. Pain subsided but returned soon after he got home.

Doctor Prouty lost track of the family but was pleasantly surprised when the mother and son came to the office eight months later, calm and relaxed. The mother told of having developed a lung condition that required 10 weeks of hospital care. The father took over at home and, for the first time, he and his son began to understand each other. They became f r i e n d s and enjoyed doing things together. The child's ulcer healed, pain disappeared and everyone was happy.

STUDIES HAVE shown that the ulcer personality is not easily changed. There is a 50-50 chance that a duodenal ulcer beginning in childhood will erupt again in adulthood. Victims of this disease apparently have a stomach that overreacts to emotional upheavals. The pattern may be inherited because changes have been noted early in life, event hough not every adult with ulcer tells of having been bothered along this line in childhood.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

International Imported Car Show Opens, Drawing Many Spectators

The International Imported Car Show opened at Brooks Hall in San Francisco today with many hundreds turning out to see new models and special displays.

Among the latter, the "fastest car on earth," the Railton Napier Mobil drew throngs of lookers. This is the first time Americans have had a chance to view it since 1947 when the late John Cobb roared the speed giant over the Bonneville Salt Flats to capture the world's land speed record. In the flying one mile he traveled 385.6 mph in one direction and 403 in the other for an average of 394.196. In the flying kilometer he averaged 393.825. Recent unsuccessful attempts to topple those long standing records dramatize them as among the most challenging of our times.

The Railton Napier Mobil continue to be shown throughout the show which ends next Sunday. A priceless collection of royal cars has been assembled for the Concours d' Elegance — a custom Mercedes-Benz complete with telephone and wireless facilities belonging to King Ibn Saud of Arabia; Czar Nicholas the Second's 1911 Rolls-Royce; King George the Fifth's three and a half ton 1910 Daimler and many others.

There's a continuous film festival of road races and car action; sports car clubs are running rallies every night of the show starting at 7—except Thanksgiving; Autocross and Gymkhana contests are scheduled for Thanksgiving, Saturday and Sunday.

Name any one of the imported makes of cars sold in Marin and you'll find them on display at the show—plus several others seldon seen. Also a number of exhibits of parts and accessories, trophies and foreign motorcycles.

Many Marin imported car dealers and their salesmen are taking part in floor exhibits throughout the week.

CLIFFORD A. LIONBARGER of San Rafael, quality assurance manager at the Terra Linda plant of Fairchild Semiconductor, spoke before the engineers' club of the Institute of Radio Engineers today in Los Angeles. His subject was "Cost of Reliability Specifications from the Vendor's Viewpoint."

OPEN SIX DAYS. Last Wednesday we listed Bon Air Cleaners in Greenbrae as open from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays—and started a flurry of worried houeswives telephoning the plant to inquire if it had decided to close on Saturdays.

No, it didn't. The fault is ours. It's open on Saturdays, too.

ACACIA MUTUAL LIFE which claims to be one of the first companies in this state to use the Table of Mortality adopted by California in 1961 and which will become mandatory for all companies on Jan. 1, 1966, is now offering two policy lines. One with premiums based on the 3 per cent reserve basis and the other on the 2.5 per cent reserve plan.

The company has established graded premiums for policies over $4,000, lower rates for women and a number of low cost contracts. Acacia is a 94-year-old company with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Women's Wear Shop In Novato Changes Hands

Gwendolyn's Style Shop at 1518 Grant Avenue, Novato, has been sold to Mrs. Willeta Moore, she announced today.

Mrs. Moore bought the shop from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cleland. She said she will remodel the store gradually, adding more stock. She will keep the same employees, she announced.

Mrs. Moore is not a newcomer to Novato business. Originally she came from Spokane, Wash., where she had an infants' chaildren's and maternity shop. She also manufactured children's dresses under the name of "Nancy's Originals." She opened Moore's department store in the same building as Rayburn's Market in Novato and operated it until the building burned four years ago. Later she had a square dance and yardage shop in the Patio building.

Virginia had a system of government-supported mental hospitals, in 1773. Kentucky was the second state to set up a state-supported system of mental hospitals, doing so in 1816.

FARMER GATHERS A LOT OF STRING

Farmer Francis A. Johnson of Darwin, Minn., started saving twine about 12 years ago, and he now has it wound into this ball, eight feet in diameter and weighs two tons. Unraveled, it would stretch more than 240 miles. Johnson gets most of the bits and pieces from farmer friends who have it left over from baling. A son of the late Magnus Johnson, former U. S. Senator from Minnesota, Johnson also has collected nail aprons and 4,000 pencils. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Postmasters Urge Early Mailing

Marin County postmasters today urged early and careful mailing of Christmas cards and gifts in order to assure safe delivery in time for the holiday.

Post offices are adding extra clerks and expanding facilities to handle an anticipated record volume of mail.

San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams offered the following advice on holiday mailing:

1. Use sturdy corrugated cardboard cartons for packages, binding with heavy paper adhesive and strong cord. Contents should be cushioned with tissue or old newspaper.

2. For parcels of unusual size and bulk, check with the post office on size and weight limits.

3. Put extra labels carrying both sender's and recipient's addresses inside cartons and parcels.

4. Send Christmas cards by first class mail, using 4-cent stamps. This assures quicker delivery, forwarding and return privileges and permits inclusion of written messages.

5. Include your return address on every greeting card envelope; it helps keep friends' mailings lists up to date.

6. Sort cards into two bundles, for local and out of town delivery, facing all one way and securing with free labels available at post offices for this purpose.

7. Mail cards and gifts to distant destinations first, preferably before Dec. 10. Mailings to nearby points should be before Dec. 15.

Marin Foundation Group Asks Road Decision

The executive committee of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, in a communication to the State Highway Commission, has called for early determination of routing for the proposed San Rafael-West Marin highway.

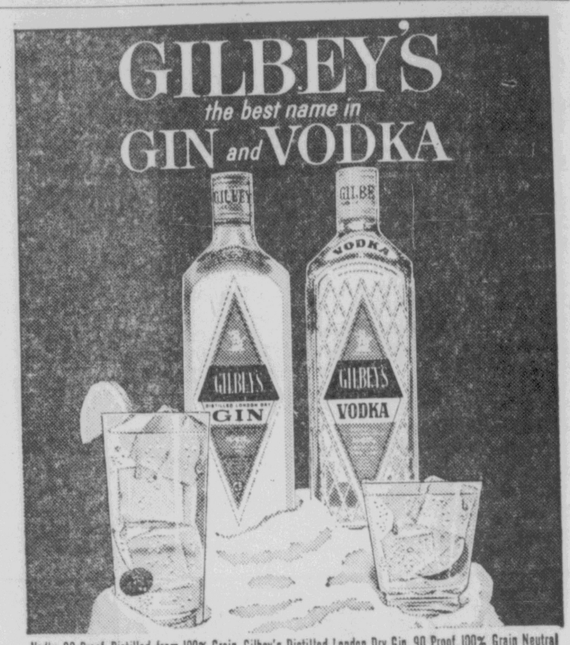

The committee recommended to the commission the route be drawn "with particular reference to the Point Reyes National Seashore."

The natural beauty through which the route will pass, should be preserved, the committee stressed.

State engineers, at an Oct. 27 public hearing at San Rafael High School, said it would be two years before a route is selected and five years before the road is built.

Convalescent Hospital Approved For Santa Venetia By Planners

Construction of a 30-bed convalescent hospital at 24 San Pablo Avenue in Santa Venetia was approved yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The hospital, on a 34,000-square-foot parcel, was approved subject to conditions including 25 parking spaces, a fire hydrant and approval of landscaping and architectural plans. Although a use permit for the hospital was approved last year, applicant Doreen M. Nelson had to request a new permit because of density changes in the Gallinas Valley Master Plan.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Approved plans for a concrete mausoleum in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. It will be built near two existing mausoleums at the cemetery entrance near the end of Fifth Avenue.

2. Approved construction of a wooden sign, 24 feet long and six feet high, at the entrance of Gallinas Village Shopping Center on North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia. Staff planner Edmund Kagi said the sign, identifying the center, is part of a landscape improvement project.

3. Approved plans for a Union Oil service station at the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard and Blackfield Drive in Tiburon. The station is designed in a "Japanese style." Commissioner Felix M. Warburg said he was opposed to service stations in the area, but "this one is well-designed."

4. Continued to Dec. 3 consideration of plans for an interior decorator's shop at 915 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield. Applicant John DeVries asked for time in which to request a variance to allow four off-street parking spaces instead of eight.

5. Approved revised plans for a convent at the St. Hilary Church and School at 761 Hilary Drive, Tiburon. The building will adjoin the school on a site including 130 parking spaces. Approval is subject to review of a landscaping plan.

6. Continued until Dec. 3 consideration of plans for a nursery school at the Westminster Presbyterian Church 240 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon. The one-story building will be used as a nursery on weekdays and a church school on Sundays.

Sausalito City Job Holding On Council Agenda

Sausalito city councilmen are to discuss the propriety of one person holding both an elective and appointive job with the city at their meeting tonight in city hall.

Two letters have been received, one from the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, the other from John J. Gallas, questioning the dual role of Charles A. Brown as city manager and city clerk.

Also on the agenda at the 8 p.m. meeting is a subcommittee report on the proposed new zoning ordinance, the lease of Shelter Cove by Portofino Marin and a request by Stanley P. Berney for use permit and Variance to build 13 apartments, eight commercial units, and some professional offices in the Bridgeway-Princess Street area.

San Rafael To Vote On Attorney, Police Chief

City Hall Site To Be Bought By San Rafael

Immediate Action On 'Pay-As-Go' Basis Ordered

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Immediate purchase of property needed for a new city hall, and a program to finance its construction on a pay-as-you-go basis, were ordered last night by the San Rafael City Council.

Both actions were unanimous.

City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson and City Clerk W. L. Morgan were instructed to prepare within 30 days a program for financing.

AT LIBRARY LOT

The property to be purchased — through condemnation if necessary—is approximately two and one-half acres between Fifth and Mission avenues extending from the city library lot to C Street. This was the city hall site recommended by Ebasco Services last spring after a survey.

City Manager Andersen has been in preliminary discussions with the property owners for some time. He was instructed to negotiate for immediate purchase. The council also adopted a resolution declaring acquisition of the property a public necessity and authorizing City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw to at once file preliminary condemnation suits.

FROM SURPLUS

Councilman Louis H. Baar, reporting on a meeting he and Councilman Fred E. Jensen held with Andersen and Morgan on city hall financing, recited figures which showed that the city could finance all but $222,112 of the expected $1,204,000 cost of site and construction from its present unappropriated surplus and the sale of city property no longer needed.

The property sold would include the present city hall, five acres of the 7.8-acre canalside property where the city's corporation yard is located, and a parcel at Fourth and Mary streets recently rezoned for commercial use with the idea of selling it.

Basr recommended that relocating the central fire station adjacent to the new city hall be postponed until later. All councilmen concurred in this.

"I believe in the next year we could finance the city hall without a bond issue," said Baar. He proposed that Andersen and Morgan "get together and work out a program of financing to pay as we go."

Jensen, who had proposed a $500,000 bond issue toward the new city hall, objected: "I hate to see us deplete everything . . . If an emergency came, we wouldn't have any money."

"If we needed extra money next year, we could increase the tax rate," argued Baar. "All we legally should tax is for the amount of money we intend to spend. We shouldn't be carrying a big surplus."

"I'm not going to oppose it if the majority of the council want to do it one way or another," said Jensen.

Mayor John F. McInnis then instructed Andersen and Morgan to prepare the financing program suggested by Baar.

And it was Jensen who moved adoption of the resolution for immediate acquisition of the property.

HONEST MAN: 'JURY FEE IS NOT FOR ME'

Without even the lantern of a Diogenes, Marin County supervisors found an honest man today and the county benefitted $5.45 in the process.

A letter was received by the board from Edward J. Gilmore of Ross, returning the county's check for jury duty which he hadn't performed.

"This check was sent to me," wrote Gilmore, "because I appeared for jury duty one day in July and learned that the jury had been dismissed. Due to a mix-up in communications I did not receive prior notice of the dismissal.

"In any event, I did nothing to earn this $5.45 — merely inconvenienced a trifle. Since I am a firm believer in the old adage of 'no work—no pay,' I am applying the rule to myself.

"The $5.45 won't put much of a dent in next year's tax rate, but is indicative of my feelings about giving money away."

Controversial Talk At Schools Backed

Tamalpais High School District trustees declared unanimously last night that they will continue to encourage classroom discussion of controversial issues by controversial people.

In two formal statements of policy, the board outlined its plan for "selection and use of outside speakers" and "school study of controversial issues."

The policy statements were the board's final reply to parents who objected to the appearance of pacifist Dr. Monte G. Steadman last month before Redwood High School history classes.

Stating policy for the study of controversy, the board said the "effective conduct of public affairs in our way of life depends upon development of informed, competent, loyal and responsible citizens.

"Intelligent study of the American way of life, both its history and its contemporary affairs must often involve a consideration of vital issues which have found, or must yet find, their resolution in labor and heat of public controversy.

"Any effective education . . . must deal with such issues frankly and honestly whenever they are appropriate in the educational program of the school."

Outside speakers are "desirable for sound educational practice," the board stated.

Speakers should be selected

Jan. 22 Decided As Date

San Rafael residents will vote Jan. 22 on city charter amendments to make the city attorney and police chief appointive.

The San Rafael City Council voted unanimously last night to place both proposals on the ballot for an election to be combined with the special First Congressional District election.

On the same day, residents of Terra Linda Oaks 9 will vote on annexation to San Rafael.

City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw proposed the January vote on his own office, announcing that he would not seek another term anyhow.

'MOVE NOW'

He told the council: "You must move now if you want a charter amendment. If it is left for the April ballot, it could not take effect until the end of another four-year term, as it would have to go to the legislature for approval after passage by the voters."

Bagshaw said the council should be in a position to regulate the amount of time spent by a city attorney on his job, and the amount of his pay. "You cannot do that with an elective city attorney," he said.

"Municipal law is a specialized field," he went on. "Most attorneys know little about it. It would be far better to employ some young fellow who wishes to specialize in that field."

DOUBTS TOLD

Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Louis H. Baar expressed doubt whether the city now needs fulltime services of an attorney, but all councilmen agreed the time may not be far off when the job will be full time.

David Menary Jr., only attorney on the council, moved the charter amendment be placed on the Jan. 22 ballot.

Noting that the same time element would apply to the chief of police job, since Chief Charles J. Chiesa's term expires in April, Mayor McInnis said:

NOT PERSONAL

"There is no personal problem involved here; but we followed Chief Simpson's report in all areas but this. I think we should follow through by presenting the proposal for an appointive police chief for an electorate expression." (Chief Charles E. Simpson of Monterey police made an extended study of the San Rafael Police Department for the council, and recommended various improvements. He urged that a charter amendment providing for an appointive police chief be placed before the people.)

Councilman Fred E. Jensen asked Chief Chiesa, "How do you feel about this?"

"I'm satisfied with the way it is now," said Chiesa. "I in-

Novatan Shot As He Chases San Francisco Shoplifters

A Novato garage attendant was shot in the abdomen last evening as he pursued a shoplifting suspect in a downtown San Francisco garage.

Ronald Perry, 26, of 3 Diablo Court underwent surgery at Mission Emergency Hospital for removal of the bullet. He was reported in fair condition today, with possibility of transfer to Novato Hospital.

Andrew Carl Prescott, 30, and Betty Jean Jones, 31, both of San Francisco were arrested today and booked as suspects in the shooting.

The affair started as a shoplifting spree at the City of Paris, a half-block from the Ellis-O'Farrell Garage, where Perry has been at attendant for a year and one-half.

Burt Henderson, 29, of Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, a security officer at the store, was called to the men's department after a clerk saw a dusky man and woman leave with a $120 man's overcoat.

Minutes later, the pair re-entered the store and began looking at women's knit dresses.

No Decision Reached On Net Depot

Two letters from Washington received by Marin County supervisors today said no decision has been reached as to the future of the former Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula.

"The future utilization of the Tiburon facility is presently under study," said a letter to Chairman Walter R. Castro from Rear Adm. W. T. Hines. He said he'd write again when he knew more.

Interior Sec. Stewart L. Udall wrote in specific reply to the supervisors' letter of Oct. 24 urging consideration of the International Science Foundation proposal for establishment of an International Science Center.

Udall said inquiry revealed that "no final determination has yet been reached by the Navy Department" as to further utilization of the property and that until it was transferred to Interior, there could be no more discussion.

"There are four bureaus in this department which have a strong interest in using Tiburon as an oceanographic research base," Udall added.

"Should we receive jurisdiction of the property by transfer, it will be our primary responsibility to insure that the operational needs of these bureaus are satisfied."

Ross School To Test State Unification Laws

Trustees of the Ross School District last night authorized a $3,000 contract with a San Francisco law firm to test the legality of the state school unification laws.

The contract is with the firm of Barnett and Robertson, which is being hired by the California Assn. of Small School Districts to test the law which requires unification either by local or state action.

About 50 persons attending last night's meeting gave general endorsement to the board's action, said Supt. Donald D. Leister.

The Ross trustees authorized a Saturday morning science program to begin in January, with the first eight sessions emphasizing biology.

They accepted with regret the resignation of Superintendent Leister, who will leave the district June 30 to work for his doctorate in education.

OLD SCHOONER GALILEE

Sausalito Might Get A Maritime Museum

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's sunken schooner Galilee was once a mail and fruit packet, once a codfish carrier, and once chartered to make geographical surveys in the Pacific. Now the ship, or part of it, has a good chance to become a small Sausalito maritime museum.

The Sausalito City Council had declared the Galilee a public nuisance, threatening it with destruction. But the sunken craft was bought yesterday by Belvedere architect John Lord King from Walter Leaskin.

Leaskin and his family have lived aboard the ship, sunk in the mud at the end of Mono Street, for four years.

King is a director of Sausalito Properties Inc., which plans apartments and shops in the vicinity of the Galilee. He said he has no specific plan for the Galilee.

"The important thing," he said, "is I want to preserve as much of the ship as we can for Sausalito. She will be used to keep some of the nostalgia of the waterfront, either in connection with Sausalito Properties Inc. or possibly in connection with the San Francisco Maritime Museum." King is a trustee of the Maritime Museum.

"I don't think it will be physically possible to move her in toto," said the architect. "If we can, we will use her stern as an exhibit. We might use her deck for a restaurant and use the cannon house as a nucleus for a small waterfront maritime museum in Sausalito."

King did not disclose the price of the ship but said it was "nominal."

Austin Keegan, who is making a four-foot model of the ship at his San Francisco home, gave this brief history of the vessel:

It was built as a brigantine and ran for many years to Tahiti, carrying mail and returning with oranges, limes and other citrus fruits. "One of the fastest things that ever sailed in the Pacific," Keegan declared.

In 1907 the ship was chartered by the Carnegie Institute for a geographical survey of the Pacific.

On the death in about 1910 of its owner, Capt. Matthew Turner, the ship was rigged down to a three-masted schooner. It was then used as a fishing boat, bringing codfish from the Bering Sea to San Francisco and to a cannery at Belvedere where the fish were dried.

"A Captain Quinn brought the Galilee to Sausalito in 1936," Keegan said, and lived aboard it for years.

Keegan said the Galilee was the last of six packets which sailed to the South Seas.

Miller's Will Is Filed For Probate Here

The late Rep. Clem Miller's will, which leaves all his holdings to his wife and to a trust fund for the support of his family, was filed today in Marin Superior Court.

A hearing was set for 10 a.m. Dec. 3 for admission of the will for probate and for appointment of Mrs. Katharine Miller, the widow, and Wells Fargo Bank as co-executors of the estate.

Wayne H. White of San Francisco, one of three attorneys representing the executors, said he did not know the worth of Miller's estate except that "it is in excess of $60,000."

Miller died in an airplane crash Oct. 7, too late to have his name deleted from the Nov. 6 ballot. He won re-election to the House of Representatives posthumously. A special election will be held on Jan. 22 to name his successor.

The late congressman's will is dated March 13, 1956. He names his wife as primary beneficiary and the rest goes to a family trust fund for the support of Mrs. Miller and their five daughters, ranging in age from 7 to 15. Former residents of Corte Madera, they now live at 2400 Tilden Street N.W., Washington, D.C.

The only specific amount mentioned in the will is a $15,000 insurance policy on his life.

Laborer Is Hit Over Head With Tire Iron

A Mill Valley laborer complained last night he was hit over the head with a tire iron outside a liquor store at Tamalpais Junction.

Frank H. Anderson, 45, of 213 Morning Sun Avenue, told Deputy Sheriff George Johnsen that the incident stemmed from an argument over moving of cars in the lot outside Dan's Liquors. Anderson said the other man, a Negro, got a tire iron and struck him on the back of the head, then drove away.

Car In San Rafael Damaged By Vandals

It seems someone doesn't like Curtis H. Brown Jr.

Brown, of 2167 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, reported to police that during last night someone smashed eggs inside his car which was parked in front of his home and gouged the upholstery with a sharp instrument.

Special Election Funds Authorized

Marin County supervisors today authorized a transfer of $25,500 from the appropriated reserve to pay costs of the special congressional election next Jan. 22 resulting from the death of Rep. Clem Miller.

Of this amount asked by Clerk George H. Gnoss, $20,000 will be spent for fees of election officials and the remaining $2,500 will go to freight and moving costs.

Gnoss told the board he had cut costs by consolidation of precincts wherever possible.

MARRIAGE

A form of happiness which is often greatest right after the wedding, but more often right after the divorce.

Teeners Wreck Speeding Car; 'Wonder They Weren't Killed'

Two runaway boys from Fortuna wrecked a car stolen in San Rafael at the Shoreline Highway turnoff from Highway 101 early today after a 70-mile-an-hour chase by Sausalito police.

The 14-year-old driver suffered a fractured left hip; his 15-year-old passenger, chest injuries. "It's a wonder they weren't killed," declared Officer Bennie H. Barrett, who was roaring after them in a Sausalito police car.

Barrett, patroling at 12:45 a.m., spotted a 1962 red Corvair parked with its lights on at the Sausalito Shell Service Station at 900 Bridgeway Boulevard. He made a U-turn to investigate. The car raced north on Bridgeway.

Barrett turned on red light and siren and sped in pursuit, radioing for help. Officer Herbert Smith in another police car tried to stop the speeding Corvair near Marinship Gate 3. "They passed him as if he were standing still," said Barrett.

The fleeing car roared up Highway 101, then swung sharply for the Shoreline turnoff. It left the road, skidded about 100 feet broadside, hit the right shoulder, flipped end over end, plummeted against a utility pole in a ditch beside the road.

The boys climbed out of the wreckage.

The mother of one of the boys told officers the boys left home in Fortuna because they got into trouble yesterday for cutting classes.

The car, police learned, was owned by Richard L. Crespin of Napa but was being used by Harriet Brenner of 217 Laurel Place, San Rafael, and was stolen from in front of her home shortly before last midnight.

Sausalito police placed a hold on the runaways at Marin General Hospital.

Hub In Mourning, But For No One

San Anselmo was in mourning briefly this morning, but it was a slip.

The flag at the firehouse was flying at halfstaff until about 10 a.m. when a passing motorist stopped to ask why.

Firemen explained that the flag flies on a nylon rope which sometimes slips a little if not tied just right. The flag was raised again and the rope tied right.

Strike Against Lockheed Set Nov. 28

BURBANK (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Co., the aerospace industry's lone holdout against an employee vote on the union shop, faces a strike Nov. 28.

Lockheed's missile-making division produces the Polaris missile. Presidential intervention has been demanded. The company says it expects work on the submarine-launched Polaris and other defense projects will be slowed, but not stopped.

The International Assn. of Machinists set the walkout yesterday, claiming 21,500 members will leave their jobs. Nearly all are in California, with about 100 at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Brothers Get Life In Trailer Slaying

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Two brothers were sentenced to life in prison yesterday for the murder of Thomas Shuttleton, 22, of Long Beach.

Superior Court Judge Leonard M. Friedman said he spared Bobby Lokey, 23, and his brother Galen E. Lokey, 20, from the gas chamber because he was convinced the crime was not premeditated.

Bobby, who fired the fatal shot, was sentenced to life without possibility of parole. Galen got life with parole possible after seven years.

The brothers forced their way into Shuttleton's trailer home parked on U.S. 99 last Aug. 15. Mrs. Shuttleton said they locked her husband in a closet and Bobby molested her while Galen drove the car.

Shuttleton broke out of the closet and was shot while scuffling with Bobby.

15 Defect To West

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — Fifteen passengers aboard a Polish tourist liner have defected to the West, police sources said today.

Police said nine have asked for political asylum and the other six are expected to do so within the next 24 hours.

The 15 were said to have been among 80 passengers who arrived here aboard the Polish liner Mazowze. The liner sailed back to Poland last night with only 65 passengers aboard.

Weissmuller Kin Dies

LAGUNA BEACH (AP) — The 19year-old daughter of former movie Tarzan Johnny Weissmuller was fatally injured yesterday when her car overturned on Highway 101 just north of Laguna Beach.

California highway patrol investigators said Heidi Weissmuller Hauso of Los Angeles apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Her husband, Mike, 19, and another passenger, Frank Brownell, 17, both were tossed to the pavement.

Mrs. Hauso was driving the men to their naval base in San Diego.

Negro Seeking Entry

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP) — Lawyers for a Negro seeking entry to all-white Clemson College have drawn an admission that a card relating to his application was put away in a vault instead of handled normally.

The college contends that Harvey Gantt, 19, was denied admission because his application was not in proper order.

In U.S. District Court, however, Kenneth Vickery, director of admissions and Clemson registrar, testified yesterday that a card relating to the application was put in the vault "because of the prospect of litigation."

Exile Home Bombed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A bomb exploded in front of the home of Cuban Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona today, destroying his automobile.

The blast occurred an hour after the exile leader had returned from Washington where he conferred with U.S. officials and Latin-American diplomats on the Cuban situation.

Socialist Mayor Dies

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Jasper McLevy, 84, mayor of Bridgeport for 24 years and a man who carried the Socialist banner for more than half a century, died at his home yesterday. He had been in failing health since he suffered a stroke two years ago.

McLevy had run for governor, U.S. senator, mayor, legislator and alderman.

Bout With Bottle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 15-year-old boy, who drank the equivalent of nearly 50 normal drinks, was in good condition today after a near fatal bout with death.

Doctors disclosed yesterday that his breathing stopped six times and at one point a tracheotomy was performed so his windpipe could be opened to restore normal breathing.

The teen-ager began drinking Saturday night after a half dozen friends joked about getting drunk. He was not identified.

Mrs. America Divorce

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. William G. Giesse of suburban Mayfield Heights, who won the Mrs. America title in 1958, is seeking a divorce. Her husband blames pressures of a modern life for their breakup.

Mrs. Giesse, 38, gave incompatibility as her grounds for divorce in a suit filed Saturday in Common Pleas Court by her attorneys.

Maritime Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Matson Navigation Co. has accused States Steamship Co. of unfair competition in its bid for increased ship service to Hawaii.

Matson filed the charge yesterday with the Maritime Subsidy Board, now considering States' request to double its annual calls in Hawaii from 13 to 26.

Matson operates as a domestic carrier and gets no federal subsidy for its California-Hawaii trips. The complaint asserted that States would be using vessels subsidized for foreign trade routes to raid Matson cargo.

A spokesman for States Steamship Co. said the refund was paid to the shipyard — not States — and "was recognized by Congress in 1936 as eliminating any unfair advantage over unsubsidized domestic operators."

Chinese Hit Near Plains

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today named a new army chief of staff and told Parliament the battered Indian Army is ready for a desperate stand against Chinese Communist warriors rushing toward the rich plains of Assam.

Nehru also declared the Chinese "have sent many suggestions (for talks) but we are not going to accept any one of them. We shall continue the war until we win."

Gen. Joyanto Natch Chaudhuri, 54, commander of the Indian troops that seized Portuguese Goa last December in lightning conquest, was named to succeed Gen. P. N. Thapar.

Nehru said Thapar was relieved for health reasons and is going on a long leave.

VETERAN CO

Like Thapar, the new commander is a graduate of Britain's famed Sandhurst military school and a veteran of World War II.

Nehru said the Chinese are advancing from captured Bomdila, only 80 road miles from the plains, along a road which leaves the mountains and runs through a strip of jungle before emerging onto rich rice fields and tea estates.

He said the Chinese were "a few miles beyond Bomdila."

Between Bobdila and the plains there is one last mountain pass, 9,300-foot Eagle's Nest, that would offer a good defensive position.

The American consul general in Calcutta, William Baxter, recommended that dependents of Americans on the north bank of the Brahmaputra River in Assam be evacuated. The Chinese are less than 50 air miles north of the river.

EVACUATION

Baxter also recommended that Americans on the south bank urgently consider evacuation. There are about 100 Americans known to be living in Assam, mostly Baptist missionaries.

The populous plains of Assam, which produce much of India's tea, rice and oil, were also threatened by a second Chinese drive bursting southward across India's northeast frontier district.

As bad news continued to pour in from the Himalayan battlefronts, informed sources said the Indian government may ask the United States and Britain for fighter planes.

Nehru sent an urgent personal plea yesterday to President John F. Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes.

$10-Billion Tax Slash Advised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Upturns in home construction, factory orders and personal income during October brightened the economic outlook today as a presidential advisory committee recommended a 10-billion-dollar tax cut early next year.

In separate reports, the Commerce Department announced yesterday:

Personal income rose 2.1 billion dollars last month to a record annual rate of 445.6 billion dollars.

Construction was started on 129,100 privately owned houses and apartment units, for a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,497,000, up 17 per cent from September and 4 per cent above October of last year.

Orders for durable goods climbed 3 per cent to a new high, exceeding the previous peak last January attributed in part to a heavy surge of steel orders.

Durable goods sales in October held steady at 16.4 billion dollars; matching manufacturers' sales during August and September and equaling the peak of last spring.

The president's 21-member Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy informed him yesterday that a majority favors a 10-billion-dollar tax cut early next year to strengthen the economy and expand production.

In its report on fiscal policy, the committee outlined a double objective—to increase immediate demand for both consumption and investment, and, in the long run, to step up the rate of expansion of the nation's productive capacity.

"The United States can and must improve its recent record of economic progress," the report said.

The committee, composed of business and labor executives and public representatives, met last Friday to draft its report.

The report was delivered to the White House by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Wirtz said a distinct majority favored an early 10-billion-dollar tax cut, although some preferred spacing the reduction over two or three years. Two wanted to hold the cut to four or five billion dollars during the next year.

End Special Districts? Legislators Say No

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A legislative report today condemned a widely publicized plan to eliminate most of the 3,178 special districts now trying to solve the complicated problems of growing metropolitan areas.

The proposal, defeated in the 1961 legislature, would permit the formation of multiple purpose districts, stretching across county boundaries and having the power to run transit systems, sewage disposal plants, law enforcement and fire protection agencies and civil defense.

With lawmakers under pressure to do something about improving area-wide services, the plan is expected to be revived in the 1963 session and provoke a lively fight.

A tentative report approved by Chairman Clark L. Bradley for consideration by his Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee flatly recommended the legislature turn it down.

Local governments are opposed, the report said, and the plan's only apparent backing comes from "a small, closed group of planners who have been successful in presenting their ideas to legislative and executive study groups at the state level."

The report said committee hearings indicate "present laws provide a substantial number of organizational devices which may be used in coming to grips with area wide needs."

State Probing Drugs Sales

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state is ready to move against two pharmacists for overcharging the state on prescriptions given to welfare recipients, Fiscal Officer Robert C. James of the Social Welfare Department said last night.

James said the two cases are the first uncovered in a welfare drug fraud investigation ordered by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last August. He said he still expects to find that up to 10 per cent of the 12.5 million dollars spent annually by the state for welfare drugs is illegal profits by pharmacists.

The two cases involve a Los Angeles druggist who has overcharged $18,000 during several years, and a "North Coast area" pharmasist who dispensed short quantities of drugs but charged the state for full measure, James said.

He said a half dozen other cases are under study now, and he expects at least three of them to result in disciplinary action—which could be suspension from the state program, civil action for damages or criminal fraud charges.

James said the department's lawyer, Rudolph Michaels, will be asked to decide on what action to take when he returns from vacation next Monday.

Brown appropriated $40,000 for the investigation—partly, at least, because the suspicion of fraud threatened cancellation of a 10 per cent rebate granted the state by certain drug manufacturers because of mass sales to the state welfare program. The rebate amounts to about $180,000 annually.

Daughter Can't Use Apartment In Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Mishkind cannot let their daughter and son-in-law live in an apartment in their home on Corinthian Island.

The decision was made last night by the Belvedere Planning Commission which recommended the city council deny a variance from single-family zoning of the home.

The commission as well as about half the audience were sympathetic to Mishkind but stuck by the letter of the law which prohibits apartments in single residence zones. Mishkind's attorney, Jerome A. Duffy, argued that exceptions could be made.

Mishkind claimed he had purchased the dwelling from Charles Yates in April, 1961, for $39,500, and that it was then a dual unit with separate kitchens and separate entrances.

On representation by the real estate agent, Donald Geddes, that the second unit could be rented for $160, Mishkind said he listed it for rent. He was then informed by City Mgr. Britton Rey that this was unlawful.

He withdrew his advertisement and, upon the accidental death of his son, permitted friends of his son to occupy it rent-free. In May he was ordered by the city council to desist.

The variance request specified Mishkind would charge no rent.

Letters of objections were received from Dr. and Mrs. Stuart B. Stephens of Alameda, S. E. Best, William T. Griswold, Mrs. Richard E. Doyle, Ruth A. Harris and Agnes Conrad, many of whom attended the meeting.

Richard J. MacLaury, representing the Corinthian Island Assn., which claims a membership of over 50 per cent of island residents, said its directors met last evening and decided they would not object to use of the unit by family members. He suggested this as a "good neighbor" compromise.

A motion by commissioner Berton C. Jacobson that the daughter be permitted to use the apartment with the promise that it be remodeled to a single-family dwelling within four years died for lack of a second.

Corte Madera Fears Assessment For Creek

Corte Madera town councilmen last night expressed fears that the town might be assessed for a share of the costs of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said, "I see no benefit in the project to Corte Madera."

He said he was concerned because he had heard discussion of creation of a special assessment district to pay the county's share of the project cost.

Councilmen voted to ask Supervisor William D. Fusselman for clarification.

(Cost of the project has been estimated by the Army Corps of Engineers at $6,872,000. Of this, the federal government would pay $5,692,000, and the State of California would pay the remainder. The county would be obligated for maintenance, estimated at $26,000 per year for 50 years—a total of $1,300,000. Recreational development, aside from flood control itself, would have to be financed separately.)

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Put over to Dec. 1 signing a contract with architect Eugene Crawford to design a public safety building.

2. Revoked the final map of the Sunnyside Terrace subdivision since no improvements have been made in two years.

3. Put over consideration of creating a volunteer organization for civil defense to Dec. 3.

4. Put off introduction of an ordinance requiring shatterproof glass in glass doors and partitions in residences until the Dec. 17 meeting.

5. Put off indefinitely a decision on moving playground equipment on the San Clemente School grounds.

6. Approved a resolution asking for a special census estimate by the State Department of Finance.

7. Directed J. R. DeGrace to resubmit to the planning commission his plan for conversion of a single family residence at 70 Corte Madera Avenue to a duplex.

8. Approved a request for construction of a retaining wall and sidewalk from Harbor Drive to Seawolf Passage, with the contract to be negotiated by Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow.

Marin Fire Mechanic Is Injured In Fall

Manuel Thomas, 57, of 154 Morning Sun Avenue, Mill Valley, a warden mechanic for the Marin County Fire Department, suffered a minor concussion yesterday when he fell while working on a motor in a fire engine at the headquarters station in Woodacre.

Thomas was pulling on a crescent wrench when it slipped. He fell backward, hitting his head on another fire engine, at 11:30 a.m. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and sent home to convalesce.

Captions Switched

The pictures and captions appearing in yesterday's Independent-Journal of nuclear physicist Dr. Niles Bohr and John Shubert, chain theater owner, were inadvertently switched.

The Corte Madera Town Council last night continued its ban on utility connections to the Madera Village Motel on Highway 101 until a parking plan is approved.

Karp Development Co. of San Francisco was told to redraw parking plans to conform with the zoning ordinance's requirement that spaces be a minimum eight-by-18 feet.

Representatives of the developers said 16 spaces on the parking plan, designated for sports car parking and under the minimum measurements, should be counted in the required 128 parking spaces.

The council, by 3-1 vote, ordered the plans resubmitted to the planning commission at a special meeting next week. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst was the dissenter. Resignation of Raymond L. DeYoung left the council with only four members.

Central Program For Two Grades To Be Discussed

Tonight's meeting of the Larkspur School District board has been shifted from the Superintendent's office in Larkspur-Corte Madera School to the Multi-Purpose Room of Henry C. Hall School, Larkspur.

"The purpose of this meeting is to allow everyone in the district who is interested to discuss the pros and cons of a centralized seventh and eighth grade program," said Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel. "There will be no other business transacted."

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS ENDS IN THE DOGHOUSE

Edward Satchell surveyed his charred Novato carport today and sadly reflected that kindness to animals can be carried too far.

Satchell's dog has been sick. Last night he put an electric heating pad in the doghouse, which was underneath the carport at 1117 Ferris Drive.

At 4:30 a.m. today, neighbors awakened him to tell him the carport was in flames. He saved the car, but the fire did $1,500 damage to carport and contents.

The dog kept warm watching the carport burn.

Youth Says He Jumped From Car, But Was Not Beaten

A San Anselmo youth found injured in the street Sunday night was not beaten, as he told police; he jumped from a moving car, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today.

Attendants at Marin General Hospital said the victim, Donald Dearman, 19, of 1612 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was in satisfactory condition today and might be released soon. He had head cuts, bruises and concussion.

Dearman had told Sgt. John Orr of San Anselmo Police Department that he had been "walked over by five guys from Sausalito." He was found lying semi-conscious on Center Boulevard near the Fairfax line.

Another account of Dearman's mishap was told by Donald Cox of 16 Myrtle Avenue, San Anselmo, who returned to the scene. Cox said Dearman and Rosalie Kemp, 20, of 252 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, were riding in Cox's car, with Dearman seated on the right. Cox told officers Dearman opened the door and rolled out despite the girl's attempt to grab him. The car was westbound at about 35 miles an hour.

Cox took the girl home and then returned to help Dearman, Buchignani said.

Two Marin School Aides On Sick List

Two members of the county superintendent of schools office were on the sick list today.

Mrs. Dorothy McMahon, secretary to Supt. Virgil Hollis, entered Marin General Hospital yesterday for a general checkup which is expected to keep her hospitalized for two weeks.

Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent who underwent surgery again two weeks ago in a San Francisco hospital, has returned to his San Rafael home to recuperate.

Baroque Concert Success

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's concert of German baroque music, the third in the current Dominican College concert artist series, was an outstanding success.

It would be difficult to select a more ideal group of musicians, especially the solo artists, for their kind of music.

Enthusiasm of the audience that nearly filled Angelico Hall on the campus in San Rafael was reflected not only in acclaim but in the unprecedented degree of animated discussion during intermission. Attending were mainly adults—including many distinguished musicians—though the student body was well represented.

Alden Gilcrist was a skillful conductor of the concert, which provided a rich variety of musical fare within the baroque style. Soloists making it a memorable occasion were soprano Carole Bogard, mezzo-soprano Margot Blum, tenor James Schwabacher, and bass-baritone James Standard.

Often singing mezza voce, the Camerata Singers played a secondary role compared with the soloists. This chorus of eight female and seven male voices was well balanced and of good tonal quality. Adding much to the tonal fabric of the ensemble was a small orchestra of four strings, two oboes, a trumpet and harpsichord or organ.

Garlic was known and used by the Chinese more than 2,000 years B.C.

HUB SAVINGS FIRM BUILDING DELAYED

Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. won't be able to get a city permit to construct its new building at 305 San Anselmo Avenue until after another meeting of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, City Engineer Richard Sypher said today.

Sypher said nobody represented the savings firm at last night's commission meeting, at which an application to reduce the number of parking spaces for the building was to have been considered. The commission tabled the matter.

The commission forwarded to the city council the new zoning ordinance which has been under consideration for two years. No one was present to argue for or against the measure. A few final changes were made, Sypher said, including addition of a 2,000-square-foot minimum size for commercial lots.

A controversy which arose last month over Fred Lanceolotti's proposal to move a house from 121 Woodland Avenue to 256 Crescent Road was resolved when Lanceolotti withdrew his application for a permit.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

1. Approved final map for a subdivision at the end of Kendrick Drive for Kenneth Shaffer.

2. Tabled an application by Russel Teasdale to subdivide property in the Rosenthal Tract, pending study of the entire area.

3. Approved a site plan for an addition to the First Baptist Church at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sais Avenue.

4. Rejected an application by Mrs. Marie Carriers to subdivide property at 310 to 330 San Anselmo Avenue into three parcels.

Cadillac

TAKE A LOOK AT THE BEST-LIKED CADILLAC OF ALL TIME!

There's no question about it—America has fallen in love with this one.

It's the Cadillac car of 1963—and it is already attracting more attention—and more owners—than any other motor car in Cadillac history. And to be perfectly honest with you, we aren't a bit surprised.

You see, good news about cars travels fast. And the news about Cadillac has never been better . . . nor its owners more vocal.

Give a new Cadillac owner half a minute and he'll tell you how much he likes the new Cadillac look. Clean. Majestic. Substantial. Elegant.

Give him a full minute and he'll talk about the car's new luxury and comfort—and about the incredible range of models, colors and interior appointments.

Show just a little more interest and he'll have you in the driver's seat and out on the highway—reciting the roll call of Cadillac's engineering feats. A smoother, quieter engine. A new true center drive line. A triple braking system.

We're glad our owners are demonstrative. And even if you subtract the usual new car fervor—you'll find that what's left over is reason enough to visit your dealer without delay.

If you see him fast—maybe you can be the first in your neighborhood with a 1963 Cadillac.

Jurors Enter Quentin All In Line Of Duty

A Marin Superior Court jury, including 10 women, spent more than two hours behind the walls of San Quentin Prison yesterday—all in the line of duty.

Curious inmates gathered to watch the rare visit, but the entire tour wound up without incident. Armed guards followed the jurors throughout the visit.

The jurors, led by Judge N. Charles Brusatori, toured the prison upper and lower yards to get a look at the scene of a murder which took place on Oct. 3, 1961. The jury of 10 women and four men, including two alternates, will decide whether convict Taylor N. Chambers, 27, is guilty of clubbing to death Richard M. Rios, 31.

Chambers is accused under a section of the Penal Code which makes death mandatory for a life termer who commits fatal assault.

The trial, which started five weeks ago, is expected to wind up late next week.

Novato Poll Shows 'J,' 'K' Are Favored

Novato residents favor a freeway route east of the present one, according to the first results in a junior chamber of commerce poll.

The poll, originally scheduled to end tonight, has been extended to Friday, announced David Douglass, chairman. Blanks may be obtained at the chamber office in the Patio Building, or from any junior chamber member, Douglass said.

Of those counted this morning, 398 favored the "J" route just east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, while just one fewer, or 397, favored the "K" route still farther east.

The "E" route, present highway line favored by the Novato City Council in a 4-to-1 vote Nov. 8, was favored by 318, Douglass reported.

Other routes received a scattering of votes totaling 73.

Worker Files $150,000 Suit For Damages

A rigger, who was injured last May while working at the north of Golden Gate Bridge, filed a $150,000 damage suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against Bigge Drayage Co. of San Leandro.

James Gillespie of South San Francisco charges the company and several John Does with carelessness and negligence and failing to provide adequate safeguards for workers.

Goldstein, Barceloux and Goldstein of San Francisco, attorneys for Gillespie, contend that a boom was being used to load mats onto a flat bed truck. Gillespie was standing on a high load of mats when the boom brushed him and knocked him down to the truck.

Gillespie was employed by R. C. Mahon Co. of San Francisco. His attorneys allege that he had one operation on his back and may need more surgery.

For Cuba Friendship

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Some Mobile children have dispatched letters of friendship to Cuba—in bottles via ocean waves.

The project came to light after a red, white and blue bottle washed ashore at Pompano Beach Fla. It contained an American flag and a note written on stationery from St. Paul's Episcopal church in Mobile.

The church said the note and 59 others like it were drafted by children during summer Bible classes. The bottled letters were given to a steamship captain, who dropped them in the Gulf of Mexico.

Persons shall not be invited to the school, trustees said, to speak for "partisan political purposes, sectarian or dogmatic purposes, or to advocate overthrow of the government."

Trustees added: "Any child may choose not to hear a guest speaker whose presentation deals with a topic which violates his personal, moral or religious convictions."

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle read a letter from Mrs. Eleanor Kapousouz of 3 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, who commented on the board's intended policy. She was a signer of the original petition from parents who objected to Steadman's talk.

Calling the trustees "guardians of the children's minds," she asked them to be "aware of quacks, not Quakers; anarchists, not Americans." She said Steadman was "sectarian and partisan" and asked the board for a statement of policy "that our boys and girls will be protected as of this moment."

In another letter, Mr. and Mrs. Anshall Nelson of 261 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, expressed appreciation of the board's proposal to declare the necessity of discussion of controversy. "We are continually impressed with the intelligent concern you have shown," they wrote, "in providing the district with a program which recognizes the responsibility of educating students on all the vital issues of the day.

Arrested For Being Drunk

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Arrested in Tucson on drunk charges during one day were:

A woman who hooked a garden hose to her kitchen faucet and sprayed persons entering and leaving a nearby grocery store.

A University of Arizona student who walked down a main street trying to balance a basketball on his nose.

An under-age youth who leaned on an unmarked police car to drink a can of beer.

And a man who staggered by mistake into the downtown police station.

Apartment Approved

Revised plans submitted by P. J. Tarrant, Inc., to the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday removed final staff objections to a proposal for a 10-unit apartment addition to the Tarrant Building on San Pablo Avenue adjacent to Highway 101. Approval was accompanied by conditions designed, a staff report said, "to benefit the neighborhood."

Theft At Vic Tanny's

Theft last Friday of a billfold containing $25 in cash and checks from the office desk at Vic Tanny's Gym, 823 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was reported to police yesterday by Maureen G. Feerick, assistant manager.

Officers Have Beastly Time On Highway

Six wayward horses on Highway 101 gave a bad time to Corte Madera and Larkspur police and California Highway Patrolmen early today.

Corte Madera Patrolman Howard Bailey spotted the riderless beasts at about 4:15 a.m. on Tamalpais Drive.

He tried to herd them toward the Meadowsweet area, but they had other ideas and galloped on to Highway 101. Bailey radioed for help and several Larkspur police and highway patrolmen arrived.

While some officers blocked the highway to the north with their cars, others tried to herd the horses south. After about a half hour, they managed to drive the herd into the Meadowsweet area. There they left them.

Mill Valley Schools Budget Told

Mill Valley School District trustees last night set a 1963-64 preliminary budget figure at $1,517,730. It compares with $1,400,490 for this year or an increase of $117,240.

The budget estimate, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell, is based on a teachers' salary schedule of $5,150-$9,530. Present schedule is $5,000-$9,000.

Expected tax rate discussed by the board is $2.20 plus an override tax which has not yet been computed, McConnell added.

This year's tax rate is $2.21 per $100 assessed valuation plus 62 cents in override tax to total $2.83. Voters last April approved a 75-cent tax increase limit allowing a total of $2.25 plus override taxes.

Trustees will again discuss the preliminary budget on Dec. 3.

"Foot," a magazine of poetry and prose, has been published in its second edition by former Sausalitan Richard Duerden and his colleague, William Brown, at Berkeley.

Ex-Corte Maderan Faces Check Charge

Joseph A. Poole, 38, a painter and decorator formerly of Corte Madera, faced arraignment in Marin Municipal Court late today on a charge of cashing about $850 in worthless checks.

Corte Madera Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett said Poole cashed the checks during a two-month period in Corte Madera before vanishing about Aug. 25. He was returned from Phoenix, Ariz., over the weekend and booked into Marin County jail in lieu of $2,625 bail.

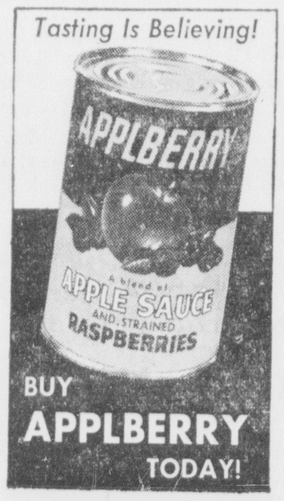

Cuba Claims Attack

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio claimed today a Cuban merchant ship sailing in international waters southwest of Bermuda was attacked yesterday afternoon by a "North American plane."

The broadcast said the plane aimed 11 bombs at the Rio Domuji but all of them missed the target.

The vessel, said the radio, then "continued its voyage towards Cuba with the crew maintaining the same high morale of all the Cuban people."

There have been no reports on the alleged incident from other sources.

tend to run in April."

"I feel that since we accepted Simpson's report, we're just about duty bound to put this up to the people," said Menary.

"I do, too," said Jensen. "I had only hoped Charlie (Chiesa) was in favor of it."

Councilman Charles W. Aby proposed the appointive police chief matter be placed on the April municipal election ballot instead of the January ballot.

Pointing out it would then not be effective for four years, Menary declared: "That seems like kind of delayed action. It's too long for me.... Putting it in January, you won't have personalities involved."

Mayor McInnis said voting on candidates for police chief and at the same time on making the chief appointive would result in voter confusion. Jensen and Baar agreed.

"I'm convinced," said Aby. "I move we put it on the Jan. 22 ballot."

The council voted to ask the county board of supervisors to consolidate the two San Rafael charter amendment issues and the Terra Linda annexation election with the special congressional election, with the same precincts and polling places.

Henderson called H. Edward Bacon, 47, of Burlingame, security officer at Joseph Magnin's across O'Farrell Street, for aid. They followed the pair to the fourth floor of the garage, picking up Perry en route.

The man and woman locked themselves in the car, with the woman behind the wheel. Perry ran up and started to raise the hood to disconnect the ignition wires.

The man leaped out and ran. The woman started the car down the ramp, Perry in pursuit.

As car and pursuer neared the first floor, a shot rang out and Perry crumpled. Police said the woman apparently fired a small caliber pistol.

Presscott and Miss Jones were traced through the car license number to a Golden Gate Avenue apartment, where police arrested them. Officers said Prescott had just completed a nine-year prison term for robbery.

Perry has lived in Novato only two months, previously residing at 201 Locust Street in San Rafael. He and his wife, Selma, have three children, aged 2 to 6.

City Hall Space On Mill Valley's Agenda

The Mill Valley city council is to hear a report on city hall space requirements at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

It will also hear a report on a proposal to acquire the Ezekiel property on Corte Madera Avenue north of the city hall.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants will report on civil defense. The council will discuss the capital improvement program and hear a progress report by City Engineer Stanley M. Bala on the small craft harbor.

Health Council May Join Services

Members of the Marin County Health Facilities Council, in a breakfast meeting today, agreed that their group should become part of the Marin County Council of Community Services.

The decision came after a talk by Dr. Harry Weinstein, director of home services for Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco. He emphasized that a home care program to meet the rehabilitation needs of convalescing patients must be centralized in administration and is best organized through a hospital.

Health Facilities Council chairman Fred F. Enemark said joining with the council of community services would be a step toward centralization.

Falls Asleep At Wheel; Crashes

A sergeant from Hamilton Air Force Base who said he went to sleep at the wheel wrecked his car and hurt himself as he entered Entrada Drive, Ignacio, from Highway 101 last night.

T/Sgt. Jerome E. Coppom was northbound from the Nave Lanes at 9 p.m. when he turned left. At this point "I must have fallen asleep," he told the California Highway Patrol. His car ran off the road.

He was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for minor cuts.

Chula Vista Sewer Assessment District Is Approved By Council

The Chula Vista sewer assessment district got the go-ahead last night from the San Rafael City Council, but street improvements that were to have been combined with it may have to wait until later.

Edwin Ness of Belvedere, of the Oakland firm of Sturgis, Den Dulk, Douglass and Anderson, attorneys for the district, told the council that the street engineering "has proved extremely difficult" for engineer Warren Nute, because of many street encroachments and other problems. Meantime, property owners — particularly some who have been refused permission to install septic tanks for new homes— are pressing for the sewer, he said.

The council accepted the preliminary engineer's report for sewers only in the district, which includes Chula Vista Avenue and Fair and Coleman Drives, and set public hearing on it for Jan. 7.

Ness said he hoped he would be able to present the engineer's report on the street portion of the project at the council's Dec. 3 meeting, so it could be combined with the sewer project. If not, he suggested, the street work might be "piggy-backed" with some other assessment district.

One that might provide the "piggy-back" was proposed last night. Jack MacPhee presented a petition for an assessment district to improve Ross Street Terrace (also known as Buena Vista Street and Clayton Street). He said the street, which starts from Ross Street, was dedicated to the city in 1886 but has never been paved. He said the petition had signatures of owners of 67 per cent of the property, asking street improvements and a six-inch water line. He said engineer Nute had given a preliminary cost estimate of $20,000 to $25,000.

Jess Rudolph, owner of lots at 51 and 53 Clayton Street (also known as Ross Street Terrace and Buena Vista Street) objected the estimate was far too low.

Ness proposed that the district be combined with some other proceeding to save in legal and engineering costs. He and MacPhee took back the petition, with instructions to ask Nute to do preliminary engineering.

The San Rafael Council Also:

1. Passed to print an ordinance to rezone the south side of Woodland Avenue, east of DuBois Street, from commercial to multiple dwelling.

2. Heard Edward Wachsman, president of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, object that filling of sidewalk holes drilled for flagpoles hampered the jaycees in their placement of flags on holidays, and told Wachsman and Public Works Director Norris Rawles to try to work out some other method for holding the flag poles. Rawles said there had been objections that the holes constituted a hazard, and a woman had sued because she caught her heel in one of them.

3. Called for bids, to be opened Dec. 3, on a drainage project to drain Forbes Avenue below White Oaks, estimated to cost $10,000.

4. Approved the final map of Northgate Regional Shopping Center, with a provision for double left-turn lanes off Manuel Freitas Parkway.

5. Approved a contract with the San Rafael school districts for joint operation of the city recreation programs, on the same basis as for this year. The contract has yet to be presented to the board of education.

6. Approved agreement with the San Rafael Elementary School District for the city to provide fire protection for San Pedro School, just outside the city line, at $1 per year.

7. Over-ruled the planning commission to permit Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy to end an eight-inch water line serving his Terra Linda Convalescent Hospital midway of the property. The planning commission had held the subdivision ordinance required that he install the lines all the way to the far end of the property — an additional 430 feet. Dufficy said an abrupt slope is beyond that and the extension would have no use.

8. Voted final adoption of an ordinance rezoning property on Woodland Avenue, between Bungalow and Irwin Streets for multiple dwellings.

9. Set for Dec. 3 hearing on William R. Batey's request for rezoning from duplex to garden apartment district a parcel on Bungalow Avenue between Woodland and Picnic avenues. Batey is appealing a planning commission turndown.

10. Referred to the public works department and city attorney a letter from 11 residents of the 200 block of Mountain View Avenue protesting drainage conditions.

11. Authorized hiring of George Kearnes Jr. of San Rafael as planning technician at $453 per month, effective yesterday.

Time Something Was Done About S.F. Bridge Approach

There seems to be general agreement among those most concerned—the commuters—that the Golden Gate Bridge's new four-lane rush hour traffic experiment is a huge success. They like it, say it moves cars much more quickly across the bridge and through the toll gates.

But just as unanimously they condemn the gigantic traffic jam which now has been intensified at the Funston Avenue on-ramp each morning.

Because of this on-ramp, used by San Franciscans going down town from the northwestern parts of the city without paying any bridge toll, four lanes of commuter traffic are suddenly bottlenecked into two lanes. The traffic snarl is a glory to behold.

Happily the bridge directors are aware of this situation and are trying to work it out with the state division of highways, which operates the San Francisco approach to the bridge as a part of the state highway system.

The temporary solution, which seems fairly evident, is to extend the round rubber traffic lane dividers on down the San Francisco approach, thus increasing to at least three lanes the space for commuter cars. The highway engineers are looking at this simple and inexpensive solution quite favorably.

They aren't so happy about a second bridge board suggestion—that the Funston Avenue on-ramp be closed. That's part of the state highway, they say. And they're pretty touchy about closing state highways.

Of course the permanent solution has been available all of the time. Because of footdragging on the part of military authorities, because of stubbornness on the part of San Francisco's supervisors, millions of dollars in the state highway budget have laid idle, although earmarked for reconstructing the approach into an eight-lane divided freeway.

We're with the bridge board! We think the dividsion of highways should immediately install the dividers on the approach (the bridge district said it would do it for them). We think the state engineers should seriously consider closing that on-ramp for two hours each morning.

And we think that the military, the bridge board and the San Francisco supervisors should get together right away to iron out misunderstands, to unwrap some red tape and get construction under way on an adequate approach to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Nature, The Great Conserver

Nothing goes to waste in Nature. Things are merely transformed. In a sense, everything is immortal under Nature's plan.

Autumn is the traditional season of death and decay. Trees are dropping their leaves and Marin's gardens are full of dead and dying perennials. Left alone, this trash would decay into humus or be converted into fertilizer by grazing animals.

Except for the few people who keep compost heaps, most Marinites burn their garden trash. Burning converts most of the organic matter to gas and leaves a mineral residue. However, some of the gases are reabsorbed and the minerals reenter the soil.

When viewed in a large perspective, Nature is an intricate merry-go-round of birth, growth, fruiting, death, decay and rebirth. The Buddhists call it the Wheel of Life.

If Nature wastes nothing, then every life has some purpose.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Not Everybody Is Happy With Results Of Democrats' Convention

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Saturday's endorsing convention of the Democratic Party in Santa Rosa has left some scars. Some of those who were there (I wasn't) tell me they were appalled at the thoroughness with which the supporters of Bill Grader had organized their backers.

There were all the trappings of a national convention—lapel ribbons (when Izzy Barlas of Petaluma read a seconding speech for Lewis H. DeCastle of Santa Rosa, he was wearing a Grader ribbon and got a laugh by making a thing of taking it off), signs to wave when Grader was nominated, and even 12-year-old Rick Conner of Tiburon and his trumpet to give appropriate Grader applause accompaniment.

This didn't set right with some of the delegates or even with some of the candidates or prospective candidates. Even though they should have known they were in the big leagues now and that organization behind a candidate is a real and necessary thing, they didn't like it.

It may mean one or possibly two extra Democratic candidates in the race without endorsement.

AN OBSERVER might predict from the convention what the Democratic Party would offer in the campaign. Not only was the convention overwhelmingly for Grader, after Sen. Joseph Rattigan, Roger Kent and Dr. George McCabe dropped out, but in addition the hall was decorated to point up Clem Miller and the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Behind the convention chairman, Senator Rattigan, was a huge enlargement of President Kennedy signing the Point Reyes bill. Among the six legislators in the front row of six, was Miller.

Grader in his acceptance speech also left no doubt but that he hoped to "save our district's seat in the House of Representatives for positive, progressive, and far-sighted policies and programs and projects for which Clem Miller worked and fought."

It would take no miracle man to guess that the Democratic party leaders had decided to run Miller in absentia on a platform of "save my program."

MEANWHILE, UP in Eureka (I wasn't there either), the Republican executive committee, 18 strong, faced a different sort of problem — whether they should or should not make an endorsing recommendation to the party's endorsing convention next Saturday in Ukiah, where 150 are expected to gather.

Marin County and Sonoma County delegations both went to the affair with mixed feelings. But the other four counties were so overwhelmingly in favor of endorsing Don Clausen, that neither Marin nor Sonoma made much protest.

THE EMERGENCE of Sal Burke, long-time secretary of the Eureka Teamsters Union local, as a Republican hopeful, caused some GOP leaders to raise their eyebrows.

They see in Burke an attempt to neutralize some of the strong bi-partisan support Clausen showed in carrying Humboldt and Del Norte Counties for a Republican congressional candidate for the first time in 40 or more years.

Burke insists he hasn't made up his mind whether he will run if he doesn't get the party endorsement Saturday. But he talks like a man "deluged with telephone calls" to run and a man "very serious" about being a candidate. Those quotes are his words.

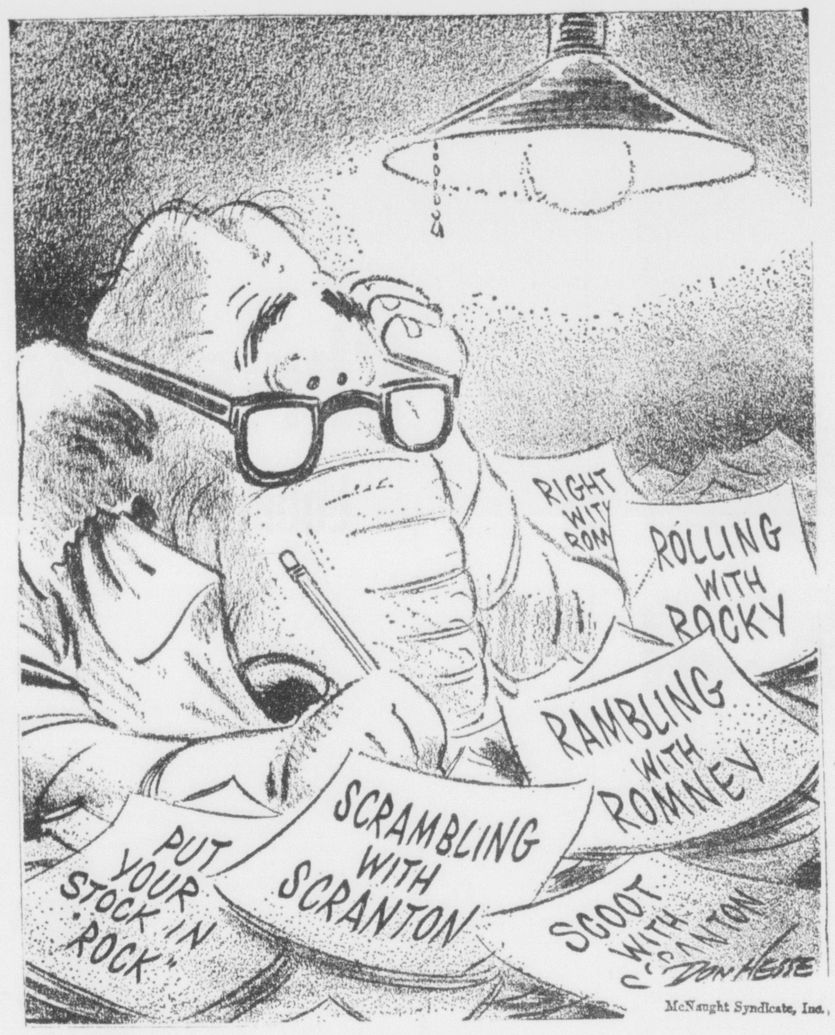

So with Grader, Clausen, Burke, Mendocino's Ted Watkins and San Francisco's Harold B. Treskunoff all acting like candidates for sure, there will be a long ballot, especially if a couple others decide to run.

Some time ago I guessed there would be eight names on the Jan. 22 ballot. It looks like I won't be far wrong.

Street Segregation In Mill Valley

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

An open letter to Mill Valley Councilman Michael Wornum:

You were quoted in the report of the Mill Valley council meeting of Nov. 7, as having stated, "Lovell Ave. was getting pretty shabby." That was all inclusive and in view of the fact that I have resided on Lovell Ave. for over 30 years it is believed that it was an irresponsible, absurd, impolitic, and perhaps libelous statement. Incidentally, Lovell Ave. is over three miles in length.

It is also a published fact that councilmen, yourself included, refer to streets in Mill Valley by letters of the alphabet, with Lovell Ave. being in class "B," whatever that indicates.

However, when you as a councilman start spelling it out in words construed as being detrimental to the residents of Lovell Ave. you have overstepped your bounds and should be so advised. In this connection it has been noted that the current tax bills do not segregate Mill Valley streets as Alphabetical Boulevards.

"As an architect" you wrote a letter that was published on Oct. 20, 1962. In that letter you defended that which you termed "the much maligned pole houses in Marin City." The houses that you defended had been termed by many people as the forerunner of a future blight and slum area. In the letter you censured the president of the Real Estate Board for statements that he made which you stated were "unsubstantiated" and suggested that he take a certain course of action if he was "genuinely concerned" over the welfare of the purchasers of the "pole houses."

You also stated, "As a resident of the county, I would also question the merits of the attack by some of the intending purchasers." You also included in your letter such phrases as "DE FACTO segregation" and "minority groups."

However, a contrariety is now apparent between your thoughts as "an architect" and in your actions as a councilman in the City of Mill Valley.

Is it not fact that the City of Mill Valley, where you are an elected councilman, is publicly establishing "DE FACTO segregation" of city streets through the use of letters of the alphabet?

Does not such a system create a feeling of superiority among people who reside on an "A" street over people who reside on "B-C-D-streets" and thereby through such labeling isn't a minority group created? . . .

If you are "genuinely concerned" with the purchasers of homes in Marin City you should be equally concerned with purchasers of homes in Mill Valley where you are an elected city official.

It is now suggested that you as a councilman introduce an ordinance (for the protection of purchasers of property) that would require real estate brokers to incorporate into all ads, brochures, or other matter relative to the sale of property in Mill Valley, the type of street that the property is situated on . . .

Of course I don't actually believe that such an ordinance will ever be necessary because the city council of Mill Valley may, with the assistance of the public, recognize how foolish they are beginning to look and stop playing with children's blocks . . .

And it should not be overlooked—Lovell Ave. is not "pretty shabby" BUT—it is PRETTY RURAL—and I like it that way.

No Donnybrook In Mill Valley

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is not pleasant to be depicted as rowdies or hoodlums when we citizens exercise the rights basic to all of us in our democracy. Yet that is the impression conveyed by the Independent-Journal's report of the Mill Valley City Council meeting of Nov. 7. This false impression should be corrected.

According to the Nov. 8 Independent-Journal, a group of home owners on Ethel Avenue created a "donnybrook" at the council meeting, and the mayor "threatened to have Mrs. Montgomery removed by force."

Mrs. Montgomery, a writer and magazine editor, has taken a leading part in the struggle of a group of Ethel Avenue residents to keep Mill Valley's second oldest street open to the public. She does not engage in "donnybrooks," nor do the rest of us.

On the afternoon of the council meeting, Ethel Avenue had been suddenly closed by barricades placed across the bridge. A number of home owners on Ethel went to the meeting to warn the council of the hazards to life and property created by the closing of the bridge and to inquire why the city had done so despite warnings that their act would be illegal.

Only four weeks earlier, Mill Valley's mayor, Joseph Sheeks, had consumed nearly half an hour at the opening of the council meeting with a diatribe against the Independent-Journal's report on secret (illegal) meetings of the city council. He did so on a point of "personal privilege." We citizens felt entitled to the same privilege as Sheeks, our servant, had used.

On trying to make that point, however, we were rudely cut off. Mrs. Montgomery persisted in a dignified manner and completely in keeping with recognized parliamentary procedure, in demanding a ruling from the chair on the point of order.

Any opposition to its set program sends some of our council members into a tantrum. In this case, Sheeks, who customarily turns livid at any mention of what he calls "the Ethel Avenue people," so far forgot himself as to threaten force and violence against our representative. Before Sheeks could carry out his threat of police action, cooler heads prevailed. Mrs. Montgomery was ruled out of order. Mrs. Montgomery accepted the ruling.

There was no "donnybrook."

There was, however, a demonstration of the city council's refusal to recognize the right of the people of Mill Valley to be heard on matters vitally affecting their lives and property.

Threat Of Recall Takes Heart Out Of Novato City Council Meet

Sitting in on last Tuesday night's Novato City Council meeting, one could sense a different approach to the city's problems by the city council.

In the past, one could feel that the council members were honestly trying to do their best for the city. Sometimes they disagreed with the members of the audience and sometimes they disagreed with each other.

But underneath this, one could feel the sincerity of the council members as they went about conducting the city business.

I won't say that all of this was gone Tuesday night, but there surely was something missing. The council had been criticized before about its action, or lack of it. However, now three members of the council are faced with recall.

It seemed the heart had gone out of the council. Mayor Babe Silva let the meeting drag on and on. Residents of the Lynwood area argued with the council and back and forth among themselves. It took nearly three hours of arguing for a matter that should have required much less than one hour. The council had to hold another meeting Thursday night to finish the business it should have completed in two to three hours.

Working for no pay on a city council like Novato's has its rewards in seeing the city progress; but in this case, it looks as if those rewards do not equal the bad effects.

I wonder who will run against the councilmen if the recall petitions are successful.

AT THE THURSDAY night meeting of the Novato City Council, Councilman Howard Schoof made a slip. He called City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. "Mr. Clark."

After the laughter of everyone made him realize his mistake, he remedied it.

Edwin Ness, attorney who does special work for the city, probably was watching not to make the same mistake. So sure enough, he also slipped and called him "Mr. Clark."

By that time, the joke was too good to keep. Before the meeting was over, Mayor Silva jokingly referred to Palmer as "Mr. Clark."

MORRIS FINLAY, one of the developers of the 40 million dollar Bahia Del Norte in Novato, was showing a big map of the proposed development. He showed the lots on the peninsula surrounded by water, the lots in the valleys, the sites for schools, shopping centers, etc.

Finally one of the councilmen asked him to explain the red and green areas on the map.

"I was afraid someone would ask that," he said. "I am color blind and I can't tell which of the areas are red and which are green." They turned out to be the greenbelts (colored green) and the unstable swamp areas beside the Petaluma River (red).

ONCE EVERY SIX months, the Novato City Council changes the positions which the council members sit around the mayor. This is done so that in roll call voting, the same councilman is not always faced with casting the deciding vote if there is a split.

Mayor Silva assigned the new seats at the beginning of the Tuesday meeting, immediately after the roll call. After the assignment, each councilman had to get up and change chairs with another.

Councilman Howard Schoof asked: "Where's the music?"

Free World Better Wake Up To War Between Egypt And Yemen

WASHINGTON — Almost unnoticed in the anxious preoccupation with the Soviet arms build-up in Cuba, the Red Chinese thrust into India, and Khrushchev's next move in Berlin, is a menacing Egyptian invasion of Yemen which the free world had better wake up to before it is too late.

Already some 10,000 to 11,000 Egyptian troops, including two airborne battalions, bombers, and naval units, are inside Yemenite territory, fighting Yemenite tribesmen who are resisting the recent military coup which Nasser so eagerly wants to impose upon them.

CLEARLY, THE Egyptians, whose invading troops represent half the military forces seeking to prop up the coup, are acting to take over this little backward kingdom's civil war exactly as the Nazis and the Communists sought to take over the Spanish Republic's fight for survival.

At first, some weeks ago, the events in Yemen appeared to be a simple struggle of an "enlightened" group of military leaders to overthrow a medieval and repressive regime. But the coup, apparently successful in the beginning, failed in its effort to kill the young Imam. It has sputtered and stalled. Today it controls three small cities and the access roads to them.

THE IMPLICATIONS are these:

1—Their internal social and economic order should be a matter for the Yemenis themselves who should certainly be free to undertake far-reaching reforms so urgently needed without loss of their national independence. This is that premise of the UN presence in the Congo. It is equally applicable to Yemen.

2—The Egyptian intervention in Yemen, which has now reached the dimension of a full-scale invasion, is not serving to help a popularly-based new order through its first days. Rather, it is serving to impose a regime which has not earned popular support and which is being resisted by most of the Yemenite population.

3—IF THE EGYPTIAN intrusion into Yemen is to be accepted as a precedent, then any small rebel group in Arab countries that refuse to bow to Nasser's claim of hegemony in the Arab world may now be encouraged to proclaim itself a revolutionary government in the hope that Egypt will supply the troops to put it in pawer or keep it in power.

4—The events in Yemen are a threat to the very delicate equilibrium in the Arab Middle East and hold a particular peril to Saudi Arabia, Jordan, and other independent Arab countries.

This is the road to an expanding Egyptian imperialism.

An odd-ball came into a local radio station recently with a "singing dog" in tow. He explained, however, that the dog would only sing while his master was in the bathroom.

Used to just about everything by this time, studio executives obligingly stashed the man away in a hall bathroom—and, sure enough, the dog began to sing—or wail. That's when the lock on the bathroom door got stuck. By the time they got the door open, the dog's "singing" had been heard over a cooking program, and advice-to-young-mothers session, and a discussion about Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer."

Harlan Miller reports that the 14-year-old son of one of his colleagues has purchased a little black book for addresses and telephone numbers. On the outside, the lad, no blushing violet he, has confidently written "Volume One."

Tam, Redwood As Evenly Matched As Teams Can Get

REDWOOD'S OFFENSIVE STARTERS—This is the offensive starting lineup the Redwood Giants will throw at the Tamalpais Indians when the two teams meet Thanksgiving morning in the game for the Marin Athletic League title. Front row is end Joel Tobiason, tackle Bob Anderson, tackle Phil Weil, tackle Larry Koontz, center Fred Bunker, guard Paul Leslie and end Doug Houston. Rear row is halfback Jerry Rumsey, wingback Steve Solinsky, quarterback Jim Troppmann and halfback Dave Auerbach. (Independent-Journal photos)

TAM'S DEFENSIVE STARTERS—Here is the starting defensive team for the Tam Indians, with one change due to an injury, which will face the Redwood Giants in the Turkey Day battle. Front row is end Jim Durbin, tackle Tim Broome, middle guard Tony Houston (who will be replaced by either Donn or Dale Johnson because of an injury), tackle Bob Washington, and end Art Foster. Back row is Steve Hewett, Don Johnston, Bill McIntyre, Richard Hamilton, Ellis Williams and Warren Domino.

Looks Like Tossup In Prep Showdown

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Tam and Redwood are about as evenly matched as any two football teams can be as the two squads get ready for the Marin Athletic League grid championship battle Thanksgiving morning at 10:30 o'clock in College of Marin stadium.

According to statistics compiled by the Independent-Journal, only 48 yards separate the two teams in total offense and only seven points divide the two in the point-making column.

Tam, in winning its first five games in the league, scored 89 points and allowed only six. Those six points were to Novato in their game Saturday when the Indians whipped the Hornets 15-6.

Redwood also won its first five games this year in league competition, scoring 82 points and allowing only six. Drake was the only team to score against the Giants in the battle which Redwood won, 12-6.

TAM'S EDGE

In total offense, Tam has a slight advantage over Redwood, 1,168 to 1,120. And we mean slight!

Redwood has picked up quite a few yards in the air, passing for 322 as compared to Tam's 143. Tam has a big margin in the rushing department, running for 1,025 yards as compared to Redwood's 798.

Redwood's running game has improved more and more as the league has progressed. In their last game—a 30-0 whitewash over Marin Catholic—the Giants rushed for 206 yards.

And as the single touchdowns scored against the two teams indicate, both Redwood and Tam are rugged on defense. Tam has the advantage in rushing defense, allowing 277 yards in five games to Redwood's 291.

Redwood's defensive secondary tops Tam by 151 to 290. The impressive pass defense record for Redwood boosts the Giants in front of Tam in total defense, 442 to 567.

Individually, Tam's rushing game is led by hard-running Warren Domino who leads the league in rushing with 473 yards gained. Tracy Oldham, another of Tam's speedy backs, has been in the shadow of Domino but is an outstanding runner who has picked up 254 yards rushing in league play this year.

For Redwood, Dave Auerbach is the leading groundgainer, picking up 259 yards in the MCAL so far. Wingback Steve Solinsky has rushed for 214 yards for the Giants and is one of the best blockers on the squad.

Auerbach has scored six touchdowns to lead the league in points with 36. His only other rival for the scoring title is Tam's Warren Domino who has scored five touchdowns and four extra points for a total of 34 points.

Thursday's game may decide the biggest point-maker.

Redwood's quarterback, Jim Troppmann, is the third leading passer in the league, hitting his targets for 322 yards in league play.

CHIEF TARGET

Troppmann's chief target is end Joel Tobiason, who has received 104 yards worth of aerials. Second leading pass receiver on the Giant team is the other end, Doug Houston, who has caught 71 yards of passing from Troppmann.

Tam will be greatly hampered by the loss of two key players in its quest for the crown. Quarterback Bill Gillingham, who has picked up 128 yards on the ground while demonstrating a pretty change of pace on his sweeps around the ends, will be definitely out of the game because of pulled ligaments in his leg.

Another key man out of the lineup is defensive middle guard Tony Houston who suffered an ankle injury during the Novato game Saturday. Linebacker Rich Hamilton has been termed a "question mark" by head Tam coach Pete Belden after suffering an ankle injury in the Novato battle.

GIANTS HEALTHY

On the other side of the fence, head grid coach Bob Troppmann said his Redwood chargers are 100 per cent ready for the Tam battle. He reported no injuries from the Giants' game with Marin Catholic Friday as the regulars got a lot of rest when the Giants walked over the Wildcats 30-0.

The injury situation may have a big bearing on the outcome of the clash when the two undefeated teams meet to answer the question: "Which high school in the MCAL has the best team?"

TAM DISTRICT TROPHY ALSO UP FOR GRABS

Besides the championship crown going to the winner when Tam meets Redwood in the turkey day clash Thursday, the Tamalpais Union High School District perpetual trophy will go to the winning school since the battle will be between schools in the district.

The trophy was started in 1953 when the district consisted of two schools, Tam and Drake. In 1958 Redwood was added to the district and became eligible for the trophy which goes to the high school in the district which finishes highest in the Marin Athletic League.

The record of the trophy has been:

1953—Drake
1954—Tamalpais
1955—Tamalpais
1956—Drake
1957—Tam and Drake tied
1958—Redwood
1959—Redwood
1960—Redwood
1961—Drake
1962—??

49ers Lose Jim Ridlon

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Defensive halfback Jim Ridlon cracked two vertebrae in San Francisco's 24-17 win over Los Angeles Sunday.

Coach Red Hickey said last night that Ridlon would definitely miss Sunday's game against the Cards in St. Louis. A replacement wasn't named but Eddie Dove and Jerry Mertens are potentials.

Hickey and other coaches were to view films today of the Los Angeles win, which snapped a four-game losing skein for the 49ers.

Redwood Has Series Edge

Thursday's battle between Redwood and Tamalpais for the football championship of the Marin Athletic League will be the fifth meeting between the two schools on the gridiron.

Redwood has the edge on victories, 3-1, as the Giants beat Tam in their first three meetings and lost in their fourth. Redwood has outscored the Indians 52-38, in the total points over the five-year span.

The past results were:

1958—Redwood 12, Tam 8
1959—Redwood 20, Tam 7
1960—Redwood 13, Tam 6
1961—Tam 17, Redwood 7
1962 ? ?

Palms Baseballers Win Doubleheader

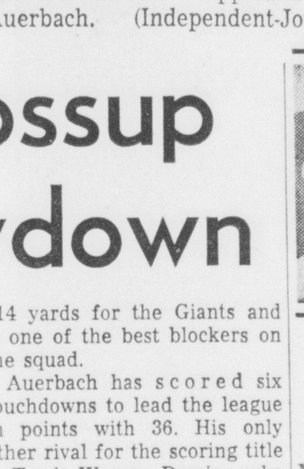

Litchfield's Bermuda Palms swept a doubleheader in San Francisco Sunday by whipping the Saints 8-4 and edging the Marina nine 5-4.

Skip Rush was the winning pitcher in both contests, relieving Mark Haas in the opener and Ken Fowler in the nightcap. Ken Erdman led the hitting for the day with five safeties, including four singles and a triple.

Maas collected three hits, a homer, triple and a single.

Yost Back With Nats

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Eddie Yost, former star third baseman who joined the coaching ranks with the Los Angeles Angels last July, has left the California team and will return to coach with the Washington Senators next season.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

San Rafael Should Postpone Its Game For Tam-Redwood Title Tilt

San Rafael High School administrators can do Marin County sports fans a great service by postponing their Thanksgiving morning game against Novato to Friday or Saturday so as not to conflict with the Tam-Redwood championship battle.

Everyone will want to see the title game, but some Novato and S.R. fans will go to their mean-nothing contest out of loyalty. Why penalize them? It's not too late to change it.

Prep Grid Classic Thursday A Duel Of Two Immovable Objects

Seems like everyone's talking about the championship battle between Tam and Redwood—a Thanksgiving Day menu even more appealing to grid addicts than the one they'll consume at home later in the day—so we might well put in our two cents worth.

Defensvie records of both club indicate a scoreless tie—a battle of two immovable objects.

But, each team has its irresistable force — the dynamic running of Warren Domino and Tracy Oldham for Tam and the passing of Jim Troppmann and running Dave Auerbach for Redwood.

In yesterday's account of Tam's 15-6 win over Novato last Saturday we erroneously credited Domino as the Marin League's leading scorer with 34 points. Auerbach has 36 for Redwood; sorry, Dave.

DAVE SCOFIELD will be public address announcer at the Kentfield Klassic Thursday ayem. If you've seen a 49er game at Kezar Stadium during the past 16 years the voice will sound familiar. Scofield has handled the P.A. system at every 49er home game. One of the best in the business and we're lucky to have his talents for this big prep battle.

RADIO KTIM will broadcast the game starting at 10:30 a.m.

TAM WILL BE gunning for its first varsity grid title since 1951 when Ed Nordstrom coached the Indians to the North Bay League championship.

IF SCHOOL enrollment means anything, Redwood has the edge with 1,667 students to Tam's 1,601. The Redwood advantage in number of boys is 871 to 810.

IF YOU want to avoid a rush at the gate, advance ticket sales are available at both high schools and also at Taveggia-

CAL STILL UNCERTAIN OF MORTON CONDITION

OAKLAND (UPI) — University of California's Golden Bears didn't pick on any sissies this year.

Coach Marv Levy revealed today that the nine opponents his club played so far this season have a record of 46 wins and 12 losses so far.

"And of those 12 losses, seven were against each other," said Levy, as he recalled his team's 1-8 record. "Of course, they got seven wins from us, too.

Getting ready for the 65th "Big Game" against Stanford on Saturday, Levy ordered secret practice for his club—and said he isn't even going to let in reporters.

"We still don't know if Craig Morton's knee will be well enough so that he can play," said Levy. "We'll know by mid-week. But we have other problems. One of these is how to keep the other team from scoring so many points."

California has scored 130 points this season, but the opposition has chipped in with 217. Stanford, however, has scored only 91 against 161.

"I believe it will be a close game," said Levy. "It's always 50-50, no matter what the records. I don't even expect the role of underdog."

Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford told the Northern California Football Writers that it's all a matter of emotion when it comes to the Big Game.

"These will be two of the finest amateur college football teams in the country in action," the Stanford coach cracked. "And in an ancient rivalry like this one, everything is based on emotion.

"We have a big, strong line. But our weakness is lack of speed in the backfield."

Coach Bob Titchenall of San Jose State said his club played its best game of the year in dropping a 21-9 decision to the Indians Saturday.

"And we lost to California, 25-8, earlier in the season. But I couldn't choose between the two clubs," he added.

SKI ADVENTURE MOVIE TONIGHT IN MILL VALLEY

"Some Like It Cold," a ski adventure movie, will be presented by the Marin Ski Club at the Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley tonight for two shows.

The film is 90 minutes long and is narrated by Dick Barrymore. There will also be door prizes, according to Scott Walterworth, vice president of the club.

On The Sidelines—Rookie Belden Vs. Vet Troppmann

By JIM GILMARTIN

The "rookie" against the wise "old" veteran.

In this corner, Pete Belden, in his first year as head coach of the Tamalpais High School varsity football team. In the other corner, Robert Troppmann, dean of the Marin Athletic League's mentors at Redwood High.

They'll match wits Thursday morning when their teams clash for the undisputed Marin championship in what shapes up as a classic prep gridiron duel.

Let's take a look at these men whose teams have swept past all Marin opposition and look so evenly matched that it appears a script writer has cast them into their grand finale at Kentfield Thanksgiving morning.

Belden, 30, a former assistant at Tam, took over the head job in September from James Hanretty who stepped out of football to devote full time as athletic director and counsellor.

The soft-spoken Belden was graduated from Roosevelt High School in Fresno in 1950. There he was a halfback and guard on the football team and an outfielder in baseball.

After two years at Fresno Junior College he attended Fresno State College where he played two years as guard on the Bulldog team. He also performed a year of graduate work at Fresno State.

After college Belden joined the faculty of Clovis High School and was assistant to Hanretty with the Class B football team. After Hanretty left Clovis in 1957 and came to Tam, Belden stayed one year and followed his former boss to Mill Valley in 1958. This is his fifth year on the Tam faculty.

In this, his first year as head coach, Belden was placed squarely on the spot when coaches in the Marin League rated his Indians as title favorites. But he confidently assumed the role of favorite, switched Tam's offense from Hanretty's straight T to the Wing T, and his team went out and won seven games, losing none and tying in the other.

Pete is quick to share his credit for success with his assistant, defensive coach Mike Davlin, former Notre Dame and Washington Redskins' lineman. Last Saturday Novato became the first Marin team to score against Tam.

Troppmann, 39-year-old San Francisco native, is in his ninth year of coaching in Marin, four at Drake High and the last five at Redwood where he has compiled a great record by winning two of the last three Marin League championships. His teams have won 19 and lost only 4 games since the league started in 1959.

Troppmann, an ex-Marine Corps lieutenant, is considered one of the finest coaches in Northern California. He is a master organizer whose teams execute assignments with professional-like poise and polish. And, they usually rise to their greatest performances for important games such as Thursday's, a credit to the inspirational coaching.

A former star athlete at Lowell High School, USF and University of Redlands, Troppmann admits football is his hobby "12 months a year, 24 hours a day." He originated the tremendously successful Redwood Football Coaches Clinic, largest in California, and through this work has been named clinic manager for the San Francisco meeting of the American Football Coaches Assn. meeting scheduled next February.

He also has written at least eight articles for the Athletic Journal, a national sports magazine.

When asked to describe his biggest thrill in football, he said, "Every time I step on the field with my team it is a thrill."

Troppmann's son Jim, the oldest of his five children, is Redwood's star quarterback.

And so, Thursday morning it will be the rookie Belden against the veteran Troppmann. It's too bad they both can't win, for Pete and Tropp have done outstanding jobs in their profession.

Jinx-Loaded No. 1 Rating For Troy

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California rushed in today where angels fear to tread and took over the jinx-loaded No. 1 spot in The Associated Press major college football rankings in a tight finish with Mississippi, another unbeaten power.

The fall of Alabama, last week's leader, after its upset by Georgia Tech, opened the door for Southern California, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Texas and Minnesota to rush past the Crimson Tide which dropped to the No. 6 rung.

(The United Press International rankings also gave USC No. 1 spot for the second straight week.)

Southern California's unbeaten Trojans, who just did get past Navy 13-6, drew 20 first-place votes to 15 for Mississippi, a 19-6 winner over Tennessee.

FOUR OTHERS

The remainder of the 48 votes from the guest panel of sports writers and sportscasters participating in the weekly Associated Press poll were spread over four teams with Wisconsin, No. 3, getting seven firsts, Penn State three, Texas two and Minnesota one.

On a point score with 10 for a first place ballot, nine for second and so on down, Southern California had a 439-403 margin over Mississippi.

The top 10 with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Southern Cal. (20) 439;
2. Mississippi (15) 403;
3. Wisconsin (7) 384;
4. Texas (2) 326;
5. Minnesota (1) 235;
6. Alabama, 232;
7. Arkansas, 209;
8. Louisiana State, 140;
9. Penn State (3) 94;
10. Oklahoma, 43.

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arizona State, Dartmouth, Duke, Florida, Georgia Tech, Michigan State, Missouri, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, Washington.

Along Marin's Sports Trail

YOU CAN THANK the weatherman for this attractive Thanksgiving Day sports feature. Tam and Redwood were originally scheduled to meet Oct. 13, but were rained out. This gave Redwood Coach Bob Troppmann his golden opportunity to play a Thanksgiving Day game," . . . Something I've always wanted." That both teams have gone undefeated makes it all the more appealing.

TAM COACH Pete Belden has more than casual interest in the progress of his guards—twin brothers Dale and Donn Johnson.

Belden himself is a twin and he and his identical-brudder, Tom, also were guards at Fresno State College. How's that for a coincidence?

The Tam coach and his lookalike brother caused confusion at Novato Saturday. His twin was here visiting from Fresno, attended the game and caused several double-takes. Couldn't tell who was the coach—even with a souvenir program.

Belden reluctantly admits his true moniker is Marion Orin Belden, but explains a sympathetic grandmother gave him the "Pete" nom de plume. "She felt sorry for me with a name like that," the grateful Pete says.

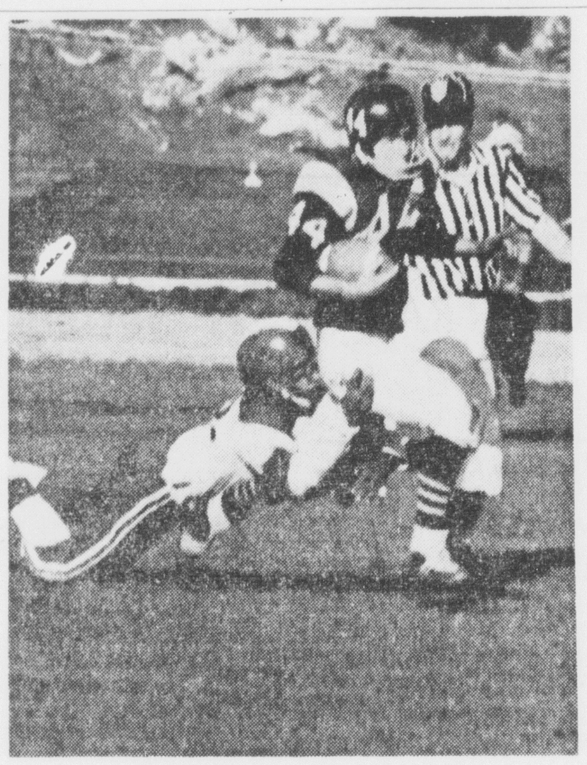

DOES ANYONE know the seating capacity at the Kentfield stadium. One college official guessed 7,000, another 5,000, I guessed 6,500.

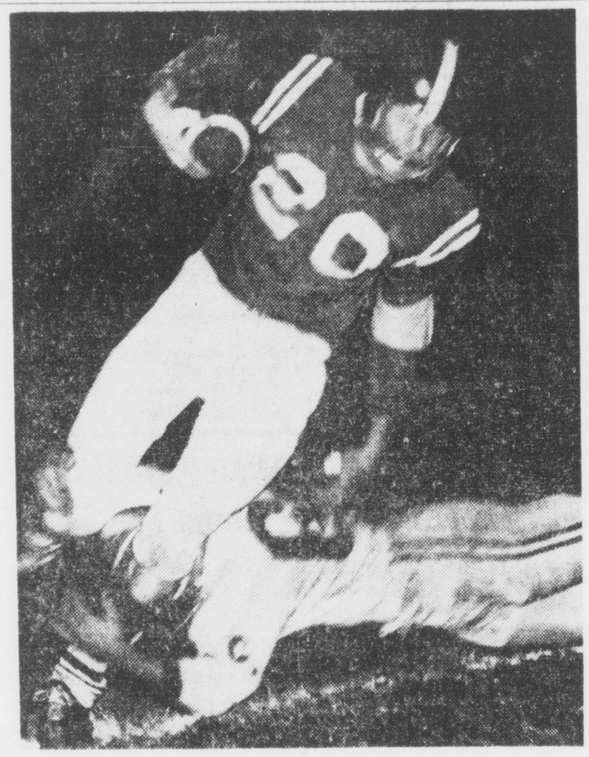

REDWOOD will be the home team, will occupy the north stands and wear the red jerseys; Tam will wear white uppers. Look for a surprise when the Redwood players come out for introduction before the game. Coach Bob Troppmann, a born showman, has more tricks up his sleeve than Sam Goldwyn.

Centennial Classic

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Duke, Ohio State, St. John's and West Virginia universities will play a two-day basketball tournament next year. It will be called the Centennial Classic tournament in honor of West Virginia's 100th year of statehood.

The games will be played Dec. 6-7, 1963 in the Mountaineer field house.

The San Francisco Giants, champions of the National League, open their schedule next year April 16 with the Houston Colts in the first of 81 home games.

The home schedule, which will end Sept. 29 against the Pittsburgh Pirates, will feature five double-headers, two of them against the Chicago Cubs, it was announced yesterday.

The Cubs will provide the opposition in the opening twin bill on Sunday, April 21, at Candlestick and again in the season's final doubleheader on Labor Day.

Of the 76 playing dates at home, 25 will be night games, including four against arch rival Los Angeles.

Box seats for next season are on sale at $266 per seat.

AFL Stars Will Play In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The second annual American Football League All-Star game, between the top performers of the eastern and western divisions, again will be held at San Diego.

Sponsors announced yesterday that the game would be held Jan. 13 in Balboa Stadium—home of the AFL San Diego Chargers—and site of the first game last year. The west won that one, 47-27.

The nationally televised game is sponsored by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce to benefit local charities. Coaches and players will be selected later.

New Worry For Coach

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Football Coach Fritz Brennecke, who seems to have more than his share of worries with the Colorado Mines team, learned that just before a recent game, an opposing player got sick and was given an anti-tetanus shot.

"What if that guy bites one of ours?" Fritz moaned.

Cal's Morton, Stanford End Patitucci Win Top Honors

OAKLAND (AP) — California quarterback Craig Morton, Stanford end Frank Patitucci and San Francisco State coach Vic Rowen were honored yesterday by the Northern California Football Writers Assn.

Morton, despite playing only four games to date, was named back of the year, Pattitucci the lineman and Rowen the coach for guiding his Gators to the Far Western Conference title.

Morton was out the first half of the season with a knee injury suffered on the first day of fall practice. He came back to play his first varsity ball against Penn State and has been guiding the California offense ever since.

He won out in close voting from Johnny Johnson and Ed Cummings, fullbacks for San Jose State and Stanford respectively.

Other nominees as the area's top backs were Aaron Youngblood of University of the Pacific, Ron Calcagno, Santa Clara, and Tom Manney of San Francisco State. Linemen nominated were Bill Turner, California, Roy Williams, University of the Pacific, Chuck Elder, San Jose State, Ron Cook, Santa Clara, and Don Briemle, San Francisco State.

All collegiate coaches in Northern California were eligible in the balloting for coach-of-the-year.

San Jose halfback Walt Roberts was named back-of-the-week for his play against Stanford while Cummings and Williams were co-linemen of the week. Cummings' honors came off his defensive linebacking.

Cougar End Is Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—End Hugh Campbell of Washington State, who tied an all-time college record last weekend, was named yesterday as the Big Six "lineman of the week."

In the Cougars' 22-14 victory over Idaho Saturday, Campbell caught four passes for a total of 63 yards and one touchdown and also snagged a two-point conversion pass.

The performance tied the all-time collegiate mark of Bill Klein of Hanover at 2,274 yards. Campbell should smash the old mark in Washington State's final game against Washington.

Stanford Runners Set New Record

BERKELEY (AP) — Five Stanford University runners completed the 3-mile team race in 70 minutes, 16 seconds for a national record at a cross country dual meet.

Their combined time in the meet against University of California yesterday eclipsed the old mark of 71 minutes, 20 seconds set by San Jose State. Cal won the meet, however, 47-15.

Stanford frosh Dave Debubner of Miramonte set the pace for the national record with a 13 minute, 57.7 second performance for the 3-mile event.

Russ Gals Whip Women Cagers Of Iowa Wesleyan

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa (AP)—Iowa girls definitely are no match for Russian women on the basketball court, and it's beginning to look as if the Soviet men may also win their duel with the Americans.

The Russian women overpowered the Iowa Wesleyan Tigerettes 88-38 last night, and the men nipped the NAIA All-Stars 83-82 on a desperation shot at the final buzzer.

The women's victory was their fifth straight over American girls, and the men's triumph was their third in a row and gave them a 3-2 edge with three games to play in the tour.

A crowd of 1,100 turned out for the exhibitions here and saw a blazing battle between the men with the lead changing hands three times in the last 40 seconds.

Pittsburgh Trades Groat To Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' long-time search for an experienced, good hitting shortstop has ended with the acquisition of veteran Dick Groat from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cards, the tradingest team so far in the off-season, obtained Groat yesterday in their second major swap since the 1962 season. Groat and relief pitcher Diomedes Olivo, 42, came to the Cards with right-hander Don Cardwell and young shortstop Julio Gotay going to Pittsburgh.

The deal came just 48 hours before the start tomorrow of baseball's annual three-week inter-league trading period.

The Cardinals have long had their eyes on Groat, 31, former Duke All-America basketball star who won the National League batting crown and was named the league's Most Valuable Player in 1960 when the Pirates won the pennant and beat the Yankees in the World Series.

CARD PROBLEM

Shortstop has been a Cardinal problem for years but St. Louis manager Johnny Keane believes Groat is the solution.

"He's one of the best in the league at handling the bat," said Keane. "He's as good as anyone in baseball in the No. 2 spot in the batting order. He can go to the opposite field, he can pull, he can hit and run as well as anyone and he can bunt. He's a real leader in every way."

Groat hit .294 last season, hit two homers and drove in 61 runs.

Gotay, 23, hit .255, also got two homers, and drove in 27 runs. His lack of experience, both at bat and in the field, had much to do with the failure of the Cards to play up to expectations as a pennant contender.

Joe L. Brown, Pirate general manager, said, "We regret losing Groat. But we are getting a great potential ball player in Cardwell. I feel we are strengthening our pitching staff."

Cardwell came to the Cardinals last month from the Chicago Cubs with George Altman and Moe Thacker. The Cards gave up pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

Cardwell, 27, had a 7-16 record last season and a 4.91 earned run average.

Joel Brower of Mill Valley bench-pressed 275 pounds and squatted with 400 pounds to place third in the annual Sacramento AAU Odd-Lift meet held last Saturday.

Frank Holton, a 12-year-older from San Anselmo, also participated but did not place as he bench pressed 170 pounds and squatted with 220 pounds.

Billy Cannon Says Raiders To Be Moved

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Houston Oiler halfback Billy Cannon says the sale of the Oakland Raiders for transfer to New Orleans has already been approved, but the club's president denies it.

Cannon told the Greenwood Quarterback Club here Monday night:

"I feel sure that Oakland will be playing in New Orleans next year. The sale has already been approved."

Cannon did not elaborate. But in Oakland, President F. Wayne Valley of the winless American Football League Raiders, said:

"No ball club has been sold. Period."

Valley said he had denied the same report five times in the past three weeks.

In Dallas, owner Lamar Hurt of the Dallas Texans, a member of the AFL executive committee said "I know the New Orleans people have been talking to the Oakland owners but I know nothing of what has been done."

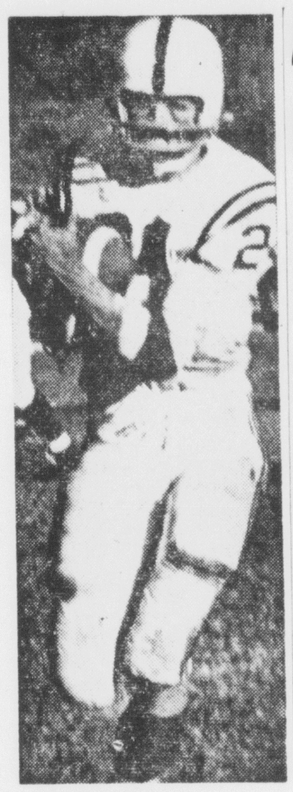

Hunt said he would favor the move if the Oakland people wanted to sell the franchise and got a satisfactory price.

The hapless Raiders have lost 10 straight games this season and are buried in the cellar of the AFL's Western Division.

A New Orleans syndicate headed by Dave Dixon has been trying to win an AFL franchise for the city. Its hopes were boosted when an exhibition game in August between Houston and Boston drew an overflow crowd of more than 31,000 to City Park Stadium.

LITTLE SPORT By Rouson

PREP OF WEEK—Mike Shafer, dazzling halfback for the San Rafael Bulldogs, was chosen by the Independent-Journal as the Prep of the Week for his one-man show last Saturday when the Bulldogs fell to the Terra Linda Trojans 15-6. Mike, who stands 5-11 and weighs 173 pounds, picked up more yards in that game than the entire team netted. He rushed for 128 yards and the team netted only 126 yards. In the team's total yardage were 16 yards gained passing, and those 16 were on two passes caught by Shafer. The senior athlete accounted for 144 yards, scored the lone S.R. touchdown on an 85-yard run and averaged eight yards per carry. (Independent-Journal photo)

Morris Steals Spotlight In Nave Bowling With Big 288

Keith Morris' brilliant 288 league game was the talk of Nave Lanes during the past week, but some other fine performances gained recognition at the Ignacio bowling center.

Morris' big game started with a spare, but then he reeled off 10 straight strikes and on the final frame finished with an eight count. His three-game series was 644, tops at the Nave house for the week.

Plenty Of Fish On Both Sides Of Bay In Spite Of Rough Water

STEVENS

To paraphrase Kipling's famous saying—The east is east and the west is west, but it seems that now the twain has met. Certainly the east and the west sides of San Pablo Bay have met fishwise.

In spite of rough water, cold winds and generally miserable fishing conditions, fish in fairly copious quantities have been unloaded at China Camp and Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia. Grace (or Alice—I always get the two mixed up) Quan marveled at the many anglers who bucked the adverse conditions and came back to port with bass. That was true of both Saturday and Sunday. The latter day proved so tough that most skiffs had to call it a day and return to port, but several of said rowboats came in with fish. China Camp reported two boats in with limits before noon on the Sabbath.

JOE NERVIANI of Santa Venetia reported only a very few boats ventured forth on Sunday, but the few made the brade—mostly at or near the shell banks. Joe, himself, with a friend, was out last Wednesday and took limits in about six feet of water off the shell banks. "It was fun," said Joe. "Shallow water, very little sinker and light tackle."

ON THE Contra Costa side of the bay the story was similar, not all limits but a flock of hefty fish came in from buoys six, eight and ten. For example, the Happy Days unloaded 12 bass to 17 pounds on her afternoon trip, the Lange had 8 bass to 10 pounds and the Sunfish, which fished all day, netted 42 stripers to 13 pounds. That was on the windy Saturday. On Friday, the Happy Days netted 13 bass to 16 pounds on the morning trip and the Dowrelio No. 5 took four stripers that ran from 13 to 14 pounds.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Ed Luccia, dispenser of bait and tackle in San Leandro, called to cite Hal Miller, skipper of the Phil Ray party boat, for 21 fish to 20 pounds for his passengers and a pair of 18-pounders and a 27-pounder personally caught. Also, Luccia reported a nice 28-pound striper taken by Dennis Tiedade of San Leandro in the Sacramento River under the Towers.

George Mura reported Bob Naruo of the Hayward Area Reel Rod Benders topping the derby entrants with a 13-pounder. Joe Navarro of Sportsmen's Center, Castro Valley, told me his store was the scene of some rabid raving on the part of a bunch of locals reciting tales of hungry fish and fast limits in the area from Honker Bay to Sacramento Point.

LOUIE PATRICK bewailed the windy weather and rough, dirty water in the Sacramento and San Joaquin near his Three Mile Slough resort, and yet said "Too dirty to troll, Ralph, but the bait fishermen are cleaning up, even in all this bad weather. Doc Lorenz came in Sunday noon with a nice limit."

JOE NAVARRO reported easy limits of pheasants on Grizzly Island Wednesday. He hunted with the president of the Niles Sportsmen's Club and his buddy, Dick Kielty, behind Max, a wonderful dog.

Bolero's Lead Is Slipping

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Bolero's lead over the rapidly gaining Escapade had narrowed to only a few miles early today as the two craft slid through the water toward Mexico and the finish of the 1,000-mile Los Angeles-to-Mazatlan yacht race.

Late yesterday, the 73-foot-long Bolero was reported 329 miles out of Los Angeles—leading both in actual position and corrected time. However, the Escapade of Baldwin M. Baldwin had moved up and was only 14 miles behind in the boat-to-boat competition.

But the Escapade was listed third in corrected time, with Ben Williams' Capricious — leading among the Class C vessels—second in the corrected time. The Capricious was 256 miles out of Los Angeles Harbor.

PURSUIT THIRD

The Pursuit, owned by Ronald MacAnnan of the San Francisco Yacht Club, was in third place in actual position, 301 miles out.

Whipped on by winds ranging from 3 to 18 knots, the Bolero should reach Mazatlan late Thanksgiving Day — five days after the yawl left Los Angeles with the 29 other contestants.

Other yachts turned in these mileages (actual or corrected positions not available):

Morning Star 250 miles, Sirius II 257, Kamalii 280, Tenderfoot II 263, Kwan Yim 282, Santana 272, Khamsin 248, Westward 259, Ichiban 256, Bongo 241, Sqwall 237, Kitten 264, Gossip 223, Andale 238, Jinker 232, Cytee 250, Princess 256, Malobi 256, Poco Loco 256, Passat 202, Coronet II 248, Malad 238, Misty 230, Circe 228 and Tiki 223.

The Rascal, owned by Bill Wilson, was the only yacht not reporting her mileage. She was reported to have had some minor difficulties.

U.S. Waiting For Russ Word On Castro Giving Up Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. authorities said today the United States is holding the Soviet Union responsible for carrying out the withdrawal from Cuba of bombers which Prime Minister Fidel Castro now offers to give up as obsolete.

This wait-and-see attitude was an initial Washington reaction to a letter to the United Nations quoting Castro as saying he is ready to let the Soviets take back the jet bombers if the Soviet government "considers it convenient for the good development of negotiations and a resolution of the crisis to withdraw such airplanes." Castro said his government therefore will not block the Soviet decision.

Removal of the jets could mark a breakthrough in stalled U.S.-Soviet negotiations on a Cuban settlement. President John F. Kennedy has insisted the planes must go as part of the Cuba deal with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

But the United States has been holding the Soviet Union responsible for the presence of the bombers in Cuba. Therefore, U.S. officials said, the United States is looking to the Soviets—over the Cuban leader's head—to indicate that the bombers are going out.

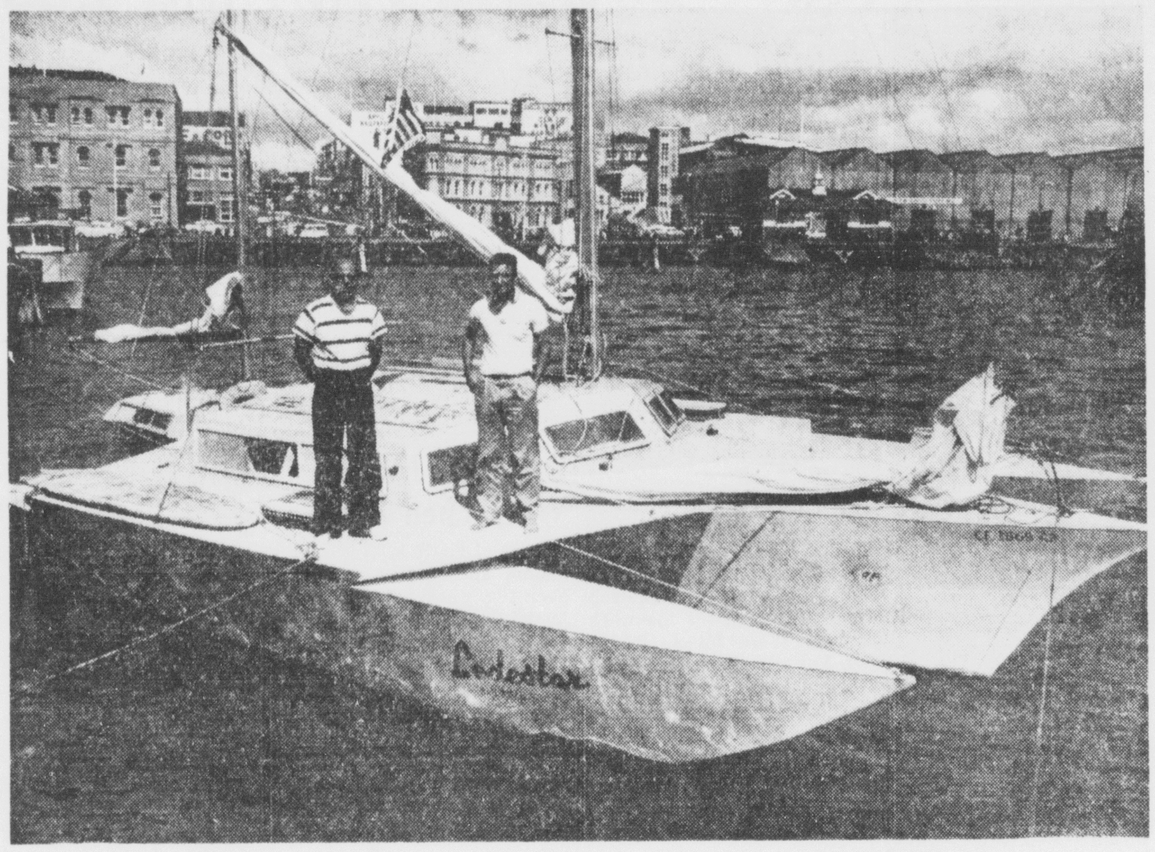

Kennedy is slated to talk publicly about the Cuban situation in a news conference at 6 p.m. (EST) today. The president's meeting with the press will be on national radio and television. It is his first news conference since before the start of the Cuban crisis.

U.S. authorities made it clear that what Kennedy says tonight will be affected by any word—or lack of word—from the Soviets during the day about removal of the bombers.

Without setting up a definite timetable that would give the proposition one of the major elements of an ultimatum, U.S. negotiators nevertheless have emphasized to the Soviets at the United Nations that they were in a hurry for a satisfactory response on the point. The schedule for the Kennedy broadcast provided an implied time marker.

Soviet negotiators are reported to have contended so far that the planes are outdated, implying the United States should not be so insistent on their removal. The Cubans have sought to give the impression the planes belong to them.

Castro's declaration that he is willing to give up the craft because they are out of date would appear to be a face-saving solution for the Cuban leader.

TRIMARIN SAILOR 'DOWN UNDER'

Arthur L. Piver (left) of Mill Valley stands on deck of the Lodestar, a 35-foot trimaran, in harbor at Auckland, N.Z., after sailing it 10,000 miles across the Pacific. He left home two months ago with two crewmen, who were replaced at Tahiti by John Daigneault (right). Piver designed and built the Lodestar. It carries sail and a small outboard motor for entering and leaving port. He expects to return by Christmas to his home at 50 Marlin Avenue, Mill Valley.

West Marin Classroom Needs Told

If growth continues at its present rate in the West Marin School District, there will soon be need for additional classrooms, Supt. George R. Stratton told trustees last night.

Stratton cited attendance figures showing from 20 to 23 pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades but nearly twice this many in the first through fifth grades.

He said the district has a remaining bonding capacity of $50,000. When bonded to capacity, the district should qualify for state aid.

Board chairman Gordon J. Plattes said pending federal purchase of the Point Reyes National Seashore would cut the district's bonding capacity. He thought this might make the district eligible for state aid automatically.

Trustees decided to wait and see.

The West Marin School District board also:

1. Decided to try to interest the Parent-Teacher Assn. in a book drive to fill the shelves of the recently formed school library.

2. Learned that intelligence and achievement tests given sixth through eighth graders put them at or slightly above the average of pupils at the same level throughout the nation.

State Asked To Go Slow On Shoreline Highway Decision

A resolution asking the State Highway Commission to go slow on relocation and improvement of Shoreline Highway was unanimously adopted by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs was instructed to present this to the state group with a full explanation of the commission's reasons.

Discussion centered around the point that the commission has set a Nov. 29 public hearing for planning 20.5 miles of the Shoreline road, from Highway 101 to 2.8 miles south of Olema—an area of vital importance to the West Marin Master Plan.

The resolution asked that state decisions about the road be delayed "until such time, approximately six to eight months hence, as the county can evaluate the information it will have developed" and can make recommendations on the general location and treatment of the highway.

Federal planning assistance on preparation of the master plan has been asked, but Dobbs said it cannot reach the stage of public hearings before about next July.

David Van Pelt of the planning staff said that the Shoreline Highway can't be considered alone because one or more high standard roads to West Marin are needed and these would reduce the importance of Route 1.

"High-capacity roads," he pointed out, might be built through Lucas Valley or along the course of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Moreover, standards for scenic treatment might be changed so that the route through Tamalpais Valley might be developed with less destructive effect than under present law which requires four lanes for a freeway.

Both Dobbs and Van Pelt indicated belief that the Shoreline might eventually be of less than four-lane construction.

Chairman William Upton said conceivably one or more other routes might be developed to take most of the Shoreline traffic, "and be easier to build."

Commissioner Felix M. Warburg said that although the Shoreline was given top priority some time ago, actually other routes now should have priority over it.

Citizens Get No Positive Answer On West Marin School Unification

There was no positive answer for 35 citizens who appeared before trustees of West Marin School District last night to find out what will happen next toward unification of school districts.

Last month, the state board of education turned down the proposed unification of all districts within Tomales High School District.

West Marin has now been included in a study of unification possibilities for the Tamalpais High School District. The augmented committee studying this move will meet Nov. 28. Trustees promised they would attend that session.

Most of the citizens were worried lest unification with Tomales might be revived through a unionization move.

Supt. George R. Stratton explained that if all the elementary districts within the boundaries of the high school district "unionize"—that is, merge into one large elementary district—unification with the high school district would become automatic.

The West Marin trustees have received an invitation to attend a meeting of the Tomales Elementary School District to discuss unionization next Monday.

Stratton suggested other unionization possibilities: West Marin with Point Reyes School District, and both with Bolinas-Stinson Elementary School District.

Trustees promised to have more information at their next meeting Dec. 10.

San Rafael To Do Battle With NWP

The San Rafael City Council decided last night to take the offensive against Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. to try to restore rail service to the city.

Mayor John F. McInnis asked City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw if the city "can bring a cross-action" against NWP and its parent firm, Southern Pacific Co., for failure to restore service despite an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner's finding that its application to abandon the San Rafael portion of the NWP main line was unjustified.

"I think legally your position is sound," said Bagshaw. He said he would ask Boris H. Lakustra, the city's special counsel in its battle with NWP, to prepare the action.

Lakusta might be encouraged to act by the fact the council also approved payment of his bill of $18,956 for services to date in the fight to win back rail service.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said the county had budgeted $5,000 toward this and the board of supervisors had assured him it would add to the amount to make up half the total.

2 Mendocino Judges, Ex-Deputy Arrested

UKIAH (UPI)—Two Mendocino County judges and a former sheriff's deputy were arrested yesterday on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice and "maliciously" issuing arrest warrants against county and state officials.

Justice Court Judges Maurice Tindall and Glenn W. Evans were released on their own recognizance several hours after the county grand jury handed down the indictments against them. Former Deputy Robert Morton, whose bail was set at $10,000, was jailed on a charge of contempt as well as the complaints issued in the indictment.

In San Francisco, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk called the indictments "courageous examples of official action taken to protect the orderly process of government and the administration of justice.

"We will not tolerate those who would make a mockery of our laws through vexatious and repetitious proceedings," Mosk declared.

Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Sleepy Hollow, a special assistant to Mosk, brought the issue before the grand jury after a series of arrest and contempt orders had been issued by Tindall and Evans.

A fourth person, Mrs. Shon Salisbury, was also named in the jury's complaint and a warrant was issued for her arrest. Earlier this year, she filed a misdemeanor wife beating charge against her husband, Darrel, a Ukiah hairdresser.

Dist. Atty. Frank Peterson conducted an investigation and then dismissed her charge. Morton, a friend of Mrs. Salisbury, induced Tindall to charge Peterson and Sheriff Reno Bartolomie with "conspiracy to obstruct justice."

Mosk then stepped in and obtained dismissal of the charges through Ukiah Judge Fred Goss. Tindall responded with a contempt order against Mosk, Goldstein and Goss.

These charges were dismissed but Morton, Tindall and Evans continued to make complaints until more than 50 warrants of arrest had been issued.

Others charged by the three men included Edward O'Brien, deputy attorney general; Dale Underwood, county deputy district attorney, and Mrs. Katherine Hunter, a reporter for the Ukiah Daily News.

Post Office Action Urged

The Corte Madera Town Council last night adopted a resolution urging quick action on selection of a new post office site.

The council, however, rejected the recommendation of Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow that the Sanford property at Tamalpais and Meadowsweet drives be mentioned specifically as the preferred site.

Brandow said the council "should not sit quietly while the site decision is made." He urged councilmen to take an action that would encourage developer Fred Sanford to reopen his shopping center for consideration of a post office.

Councilmen, not wanting to show a preference, deleted a specific reference to Sanford from the resolution and voted to urge "all bidders" to keep sites available for the post office a few more weeks.

Approval Is Won For Medical Unit

Dr. I. N. and Betty Tucker yesterday at last won Marin County Planning Commission approval for rezoning to provide a complete medical unit just south of the Mill Valley city boundary.

For several weeks they had been asking that property on Reed Street near Ethel Avenue be rezoned from one-family residence district to administrative and professional, contending against opposition of neighbors that little traffic would be generated.

Dr. Tucker, who already has adjacent property of this character given over to medical use, declared that more doctors will be establishing offices in the locality.

Raymond De Young Quits Town Council

The Corte Madera Town Council last night accepted the resignation of Councilman Raymond L. DeYoung and directed that he be written a letter of appreciation for his services.

De Young, in a letter to the council, said he was resigning because of heavier business duties. His resignation is effective Dec. 3.

The council last night held no discussion on when a successor would be named. An appointment must be made within 30 days of the effective date of resignation or else an election has to be held.

Novato Chamber Kicks Off Its 1963 Membership Drive

The 1963 membership drive of the Novato Chamber of Commerce was kicked off last night at the board meeting at the chamber office when all board members renewed their memberships.

Eugene Trombley of Trombley's Novato Hardware was named chairman of a committee to relocate the office.

The board voted a $35 contribution to the swimming pool bond drive fund and $25 to the Christmas home decoration contest.

The monthly breakfast meeting for December was cancelled because of the rush of December business.

New by-laws will be submitted to a membership meeting at a luncheon at Cloud 5 on Monday.

Donald Webster, manager of the Novato Collection Agency, will address the retail merchants committee at 8 a.m. Friday in the chamber office.

THE DEPENDABLES FROM DODGE!

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE
The low-price field is about the last place a traditionalist would expect to find Dodge. The Dodge name has been associated with the medium-price boys since Hector was a pup. But the fact remains: the '63 Dodge is priced down with good old cars "F" and "C". Now, you can stay with a low price and get a lot more car. The name proves it: Dodge! You get the comfort Dodge is famous for. You get a smooth torsion-bar ride; experts call it best in the business. You get a V8 loaded for bear. (Or, the famous gas-saving 6 with the muscle of conventional V8's.) If that isn't enough to turn the other two green with envy, how's this for a clincher? Every 1963 Dodge is backed by a revolutionary new 5-year/50,000 mile warranty.*
*Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair without charge for required parts or labor for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first: on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers); rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Iowa Couple To Be Honored At Dinner On Anniversary

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Werts of Spencer, Iowa, who are spending the winter in Marin, will be honored at a dinner Nov. 28 to be given by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Werts of San Rafael. The dinner will mark the visitors' fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Werts and son, Howard Jr., were in Spencer when an open house was given for the Iowa couple at the Grace Methodist Church. That evening the golden wedding celebrants had a party at their summer home in Spencer Beach. Also present for the events were the Spencer couple's two other sons, Marrell D. Werts of Washington, D. C. and Jack Werts of Madison, Wis. and their families.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Werts arrived here early in November and will remain six months.

MISS LOIS WALKER of Mill Valley recently returned home from a cruise around the world. She is a retired Tamalpais High School teacher. She sailed from San Francisco April 1 for Japan where she traveled for 18 days. It was the end of the cherry blossom time there and she went from Yokohama to Tokyo and Beppu, a spa on the arm of the Inland Sea.

Miss Walker was in Hong Kong 12 days. She was particularly interested in the life of the natives on their boats, their homes. They have stores on small barges and have recreations halls on them. Next port was Singapore where the traveler spent most of her three weeks shopping. In Bangkok she marveled at the fabulous temples with their gold pagodas. She traveled along the Malayan Peninsula to Malacca and Kuala Lumpar where the big thrill was riding in a trishaw (a rickshaw operated by a bicycle). Next stops were in Penang, Ceylon, Colombo. There Miss Walker made an overnight trip to the tea plantations. In India Miss Walker went to the large cities and in New Delhi saw the area dedicated to Gandhi, which will be completed in 1965, and to the Taj Mahal.

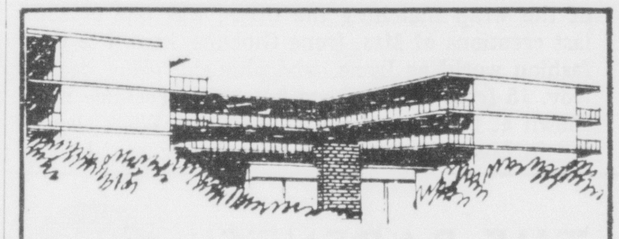

Miss Walker returned to Bombay where she experienced the first monsoon of the season. She sailed to Karachi, then through the Suez Canal; and left the ship in Genoa. She was two and a half months in Italy, Germany and Switzerland. She was in Grindelwald when the Swiss celebrated their inpedendence day with yodeling, dancing and fireworks. Miss Walker went to Rotterdam where she boarded a Dutch freighter for the cruise home.

GORGEOUS GOWNS and magnificent decorations highlighted Saturday night's dinner dance of the San Francisco Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home in the Grand Ball Room of the Fairmont Hotel. Jewels of the Nile was the theme of the annual event. Lotus blossoms centered the tables which were lighted by blue, black and copper candles. Spectacular was the procession of waiters who carried flaming dishes of cherries jubilee for the dessert.

About 800 members and guests attended the dinner dance. Two San Rafaelites, Mrs. Robert Greene and Mrs. Jerry Hoyt, wore beautiful gowns. Mrs. Greene's was white satin and chiffon with a jeweled top and floorlength boufafnt skirt. Mrs. Hoyt's short formal, was green covered with tiny green beads.

Betty and George Fay of Strawberry entertained at a large cocktail party before the dinner dance, and another was given by Jeannette Barnhard of Loch Lomond, president of the auxiliary, and her husband, Howard Bruce Bernhard, in their suite at the Fairmont.

CAPTAIN JOHN MEYER, (USN., ret.) and Mrs. Meyer of Mill Valley are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Nancy Strawbridge, and Howard Haven Jewel. The marriage took place in Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 16. Mrs. Jewel is administrative secretary to Attorney General Stanley Mosk, and Mr. Jewel is an assitant attorney general.

DESIGNER'S LAST WORK

This afternoon costume, with the flowered lining of the wrap matching the dress, was one of the last creations of Mrs. Irene Gibbons, known to the fashion world as Irene, who plunged to her death Nov. 15 from a Hollywood hotel. Shaft And Shift News Of California Designers

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — California designers served a multi-coursed banquet of fashion that began with the crisp efficiency of Jim Church's daytime costumes and ended with the shimmering glamour of Mr. Blackwell's evening creations.

The occasion was the dress section of the weeklong California fashion creators program, attended by newspaper fashion editors from across the country.

The big dress news from California designers was the skimmer with eased waist and skirt and its variations, the shaft and the shift. Tunics also were high on the designer's popularity polls, but the ever champion fitted sheath held its own among the newcomers.

AND THE costume went everywhere, to the office in the morning, to cocktails in the evening and to the ball at night. Many of the suit-dresses borrowed the two-piece look with contrasting top and skirt and jacket matching the skirt.

The influence of the free relaxed life in sun oriented California was reflected in the easy comfort of the styles and in the brilliant colors: the yellows, hot pinks, oranges and limes.

Prints were inspired by the orient, the middle east, the African jungle, and the abstract painter.

JIM CHURCH of California Girl led off the day with costumes and simple dresses perfect for travel or office that delighted the audience. His beautifully sculptured suit-dresses had the contrasting top and skirt with matching jacket. His skimmers won over even the more skeptical critics of that innovation. He also showed the "overshirt" dress: a two-piece pullover dress with carefully hidden zippers in the back to facilitate egress. His colors ranged from the solids of enamel yellow, china blue, wild pink and wet sand to a lovely Spanish print inspired by Moorish grillwork.

MR. BLACKWELL completed the day with his cocktail and evening collection that ranged from the sexiness of body moulded crepe sheaths to the feminine softness of cascading chiffon. His gowns included an ankle length leopard sheath and a similar style in solid sequined splendor with the highest of high necks.

Nothing Stops Her

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—A housewife paralyzed from the neck down by polio, is studying in a hospital here for a B.A. degree.

Mrs. Rosemary Sumter, mother of three children, has been paralyzed since 1959. Wearing a jacket-like respirator which does her breathing for her, she studies English, German, Nederlands Afrikaans and criminology.

She writes by typing with a stick held between her teeth on a typewriter suspended above her. She can type 300 words in an hour.

Mrs. Sumter, who was born in Germany in 1931, will take her first year B.A. examinations at the end of next year.

"It's going well, but of course it's difficult," she says.

Old, New Cooks Urged To Gobble This Turkey Talk

NEW YORK (UPI)— Turkeys bring questions as well as delicious eating. The following queries and answers, suggested by the American Gas Association, may help you get more flavor and food value from your noble bird this Thanksgiving.

Q. What's the fastest way to thaw a frozen turkey?

A. PLACE unwrapped bird in oven with low temperature control set at 155 degrees. An 8-pound bird will thaw in 3 hours, a 20 pound bird will reach 32 degrees F in 5 hours.

Q. How do you prepare a turkey for roasting?

A. REMOVE the giblets and pinfeathers. Feel inside along the ribs to remove bits of lung. Singe off hairs. Wash the bird, inside and out under cold water. Remove oil sac above tail. Pat dry and place in refrigerator until ready to cook.

Q. How much stuffing will a turkey hold?

ABOUT a scant cup of stuffing for each pound. A 15-pound bird will hold about 15 cups.

Q. Is it possible to roast a large turkey partly one day and complete cooking the next?

A. THIS IS NOT a good idea. The roasting process should not be interrupted until the temperature of 195 degrees for an unstuffed or 165 degrees for a stuffed bird is reached.

Q. How should smoked turkey be cooked?

A. LIKE ANY cooked meat. To serve it hot, place it on a rack in a pan, add 1 cup water, cover and heat in a low oven (325 degrees F) approximately 8 minutes per pound.

Greeting Goes Up And Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — Put the welcome mat in your window this Christmas! Decorating a window shade on the street side for visitors to see.

Inscribe a cheery greeting in glue-on-glitter, available in a variety of colors at five-and-dime stores), and add a border of same. Or, use the glitter with some fake spray-on snow. You can create appropriate symbols such as reindeer, bells, trees.

Just draw or trace these on lightly in pencil, then block out the surrounding area with masking tape before applying the glitter or snow. To make your holiday welcome stand out even more, use this technique on a dark green cloth shade.

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

Keep Household Chemicals Out Of Children's Reach

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was a common household accident. The children, playing with mother's nail polish, spilled it on the bathroom floor.

Mother grabbed a bottle of spot remover. She closed the bathroom door to keep the kids out, and went to work.

When her husband came home, he found her unconscious on the bathroom floor. She died in a hospital a few hours later.

This tragedy happened in a suburb of Washington. But it could happen anywhere. It may happen to you if in a closed room you use a cleaner containing carbon tetrachloride.

Carbon tetrachloride may be fatal if inhaled. But it is only one of hundreds of deadly poisons in everyday household use in American homes.

Although these poisons occasionally claim an adult life, their principal victims are children.

In New York, a six-year-old boy recently took a swig from a soda pop bottle he found on his father's workbench. Despite emergency surgery to remove his stomach and part of his esophagus, he died two hours later. The bottle had contained a soldering compound made of highly corrosive zinc chloride.

The U.S. Food & Drug Administration reports that about 90,000 children similarly are poisoned by household chemicals every year. At least 200 of them die.

Under a new federal law, which became fully effective last Feb. 1, all hazardous household chemical products are required to bear warning labels which include such signal words as "Danger," "Poson," "May be fatal if swallowed or inhaled," and—on all labels—"Keep out of reach of children."

"These labels are not intended just to scare you," says an FDA spokesman. "Your children's lives may depend on the care you take in keeping household chemicals out of their reach."

Here are some of the things which the FDA urges you to do to protect your family against poisoning:

—Lock up all dangerous substances. Children can climb. An unlocked cabinet is not safe storage. Not even if it's high overhead.

—Do not store poisonous or inflammable substances, such as kerosene, rat poisons, or soldering compounds, in food or beverage containers.

—If for any reason a hazardous substance must be transferred from its original container, make sure the new container is clearly marked with warnings. This can be done with adhesive tape or a special marker.

—Always be sure there is adequate ventilation when you are using cleaning fluids.

—Do not give or take medicine in the dark. Be sure you can read the label. Never take medicine from an unlabeled bottle.

—Safeguard tablets, such as "baby aspirin," which are candied, flavored or colored. Children eat them like candy.

—Use a prescription drug only for the patient for whom the physician ordered it. Weed out "left-over" medicines from your cabinet regularly. Never try to treat a new illness with the left-overs of an earlier prescription, without consulting your physician.

—Date all drug supplies when you buy them.

—When you throw away drugs, cleaning fluids or other hazardous substances, be sure the contents cannot be reached by children or pets.

—Warn small children never to eat or drink any drugs, chemicals, plants, or berries they find without your express permission. Insist on this. Deal firmly with any infraction, even if it turns out to be harmless. The next adventure might be fatal.

Poisons may lurk not only in the kitchen and bathroom, but even in your jewelry box. The FDA has taken action recently against colorful bead necklaces and bracelets which are being sold in many parts of the country.

Some of them are made of exotic beans, seeds, berries and other vegetable matter that are deadly poisonous if introduced into the mouth.

How To Survive Christmas Rush, Shopper's Crush

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Christmas shopping rush starts the day after Thanksgiving.

How to avoid the pressure and rush of an otherwise pleasant shopping trip? That is the big question! Here's the answer:

First, go through with that promise most shoppers make after each season to "plan ahead."

Draw up a gift list and decide in advance what a friend or relative would like to have, instead of roaming through stores wondering "What can I get for him?"

Once your planning is over, consider ordering gifts through mail order or "home shopper" services of department stores.

With specific gift ideas in mind, you can arm yourself with Christmas Club savings or charge plates and head for your favorite stores. If you have many presents to buy, plan several shopping trips or a "coffee break" to refresh yourself.

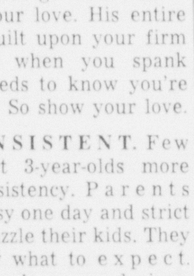

Another way to take the headache out of the season is to file Christmas Club lists on small index cards, much like your recipe file. Instead of crossing out old addresses and crowding in the new ones in your directory, index cards leave room for additions and can be discarded easily.

With the file organized, you can start addressing a few cards each day. When the mailing date draws near there will be plenty of time to add any personal messages. Rolls of stamps help to simplify this sticky job.

What will you do with your free time while everyone else is racing to complete last minute shopping? Enjoy the season by leisurely decorating the home or planning holiday parties that you could not find time for in past years.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

Independent Three-Year Old Needs Plenty Of Understanding

Can you remember when you were 3? You began to think for yourself then. You learned the difference between right and wrong. You fought, and were naughty. It was a very busy year for you.

Do you have a 3-year-old? He's learning the same things. You can help him. Here are some suggestions:

SHOW YOUR LOVE. Nearly all 3-year-olds are rebellious. They seek out forbidden things, and do them. They taunt their parents in many ways. You'll be shocked at your little boy. You'll have to scold and punish him, but don't go so far as to withhold your love. His entire future is built upon your firm love. Even when you spank him, he needs to know you're on his side. So show your love.

BE CONSISTENT. Few things hurt 3-year-olds more than inconsistency. Parents who are easy one day and strict the next puzzle their kids. They don't know what to expect. They can't draw conclusions. So? So don't laugh at an offence one day, and punish it the next. Don't let him play one parent off against the other. Present a united front to him. Agree on what is right and what is wrong. He needs clear ideas, consistently presented.

PUNISH WISELY. Nearly all 3-year-olds must be punished at times. The punishment will enforce the lessons you teach. But most folks overdo, and punish too much. The rule is to use the mildest punishment which will teach the needed lesson. Reserve your spankings for the few most dangerous offenses your youngster commits. Then he'll learn fast.

SHARE YOUR FUN. Play with your 3-year-old. Take him on jaunts with you. Laugh and sing with him. He needs to enjoy your companionship, whenever possible. Good luck!

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes

"According to my calculations, if I hadn't married you I'd have $93,465 in the bank instead of $1.63."

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

At about 3 to 4 months a baby "comes of age" as a personality. Now baby recognizes you. Eyes light up at the sight of you; ears rejoice at the sound of your voice. Offer a smile and you'll probably get a smile back. Look and you'll see little fingers dare to play, to touch. Listen and you'll hear new coos in his self-styled vocabulary.

Now's the time to help baby up the ladder of learning by encouraging his efforts, stimulating his imagination. Watch that personality blossom!

The growth picture. Your baby grows faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs plenty of protein . . . the most important "growing aid" in his diet. Gerber Strained Meats, made from selected Armour cuts, are high in protein; good sources of iron and niacin, an important B-vitamin.

• Gerber Strained Meats are easy to digest because most of the fat and fiber is removed.

• All 9 varieties are pure meat with just enough broth for a smooth, moist texture.

Helping hand dept. "Will too much attention spoil a baby?" asks many a mother. Well, experts today say that, in general, babies whose emotional needs are satisfied at an early age make fewer demands later on. After all, when you cuddle your baby for comfort or croon away his loneliness, you're giving him a sense of security and helping him to develop into a happy, well-adjusted personality.

Nutrition notation. Specially prepared baby cereals play an important role in your baby's diet because of the special nutrients they supply. Gerber Cereals are enriched with the iron babies need shortly after birth. (Milk does not supply enough for babies' needs.) In addition, they contain calcium and important B-vitamins. THE PILGRIMS—One of two paintings contributed by Arnold Blanch to the United Nations Children's Fund for use as a UNICEF greeting card—shows a small group of people converging on the outskirts of a Middle Eastern town. The early morning sky is orange with the mounting heat, but an outsize star continues to glitter high above.

CARDINAL AND CHICKADEES, is typical of Spain's Roser Agell's sense of color and genuine feeling for her characters. Set in a snowbound North American village, the design depicts children, bundled in gay snowsuits, feeding the birds who rely during the long winter on the thoughtfulness of their young friends. This card is one of the UNICEF "Festival of Birds" series.

Woodgrain Decor Popular In Homemakers' Kitchens

Woodgrain decor is most popular for kitchens among homemakers throughout the nation, according to a survey of leading interior designers and kitchen planning centers by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Natural wood cabinets are popular in a full range of finishes from light birch to dark walnut and style-conscious women prefer wall and floor coverings that simulate wood tones and are easy to keep clean.

METAL CABINETS are also becoming part of this new look in kitchen interiors. New styles include cabinets with wood veneers over the metal that give the illusion of natural wood finishes. And, although beige and yellow accent colors are most popular in woodgrain kitchens, many items such as cannisters, bread boxes and wall decorations are being made in natural wood.

Homemakers have found that natural wood is a practical material. Wood cabinets can be custom - made for kitchen arrangements that will save steps and provide maximum storage areas.

ALSO, wood doesn't easily show fingerprints and repeated cleaning doesn't mar the finish.

And wood can easily be refinished to eliminate scratches.

Growing in popularity is a trend to combine wood cabinets with appliances in stainless steel and copper tones which blend well with wood. However, pastel colors are still favored by a great many and are expected to be in wide use for many years to come.

IN COORDINATING the cabinets with the floors, a woodgrain effect is achieved with modern easy-to-maintain solid vinyl woodgrain planks, which are 4-inches wide and 36-inches long and look as rich as actual wood flooring. The planks are often installed in a random pattern of shades, each with a blending of delicate wood tones, in staggered lengths to add to the natural look And they are also available with simulated pegs.

The advantages of smooth-surface vinyl planks, which come in natural-grain tones of birch, teak and limed oak, are that they have anti-slip properties and resist grease, ink and cleaning fluids. And they can easily be kept luxuriously clean with only light soap-and-water mopping and an occational waxing.

MANY HOMEMAKERS are using solid vinyl woodgrain planks on walls too—in shades that either match or contrast with the floor. Often, they use 9" x 9" squares which are available in harmonizing beech and elm woodgrain tones in vinyl asbestos tile.

Although most cooking is done in ovens and on ranges, many kitchen interiors today have open barbecue grills, which express a rustic motif blending with the overall woodgrain decor.

Hap Head Code Take This Advice

CHICAGO —"You can't cure a cold, despite many patent medicine claims to the contrary," the American Medical Association cautions as the cold season gets underway.

Normally a cold lasts from five to eight days, but sometimes a fever or cough hangs on, or the cold keeps recurring. If this happens, the AMA advises consulting a doctor.

A few simple rules usually will ward off a cold, says the AMA.

—Keep your body in best condition by eating a well-balanced diet of good, nutricious foods. Get enough sleep every night.

—Don't it or lie in a draft. Beware of chilling or of overheating, either of which can weaken resistance.

—Dress appropriately for cold or rainy weather, and avoid dressing or undressing in a cold room.

—Try to avoid close contact with others who have colds.

Variety Of Tastes Shown In Series Of UNICEF Cards

Greeting cards which will bring health and hope to needy children in more than 100 countries helped by UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, will be sold locally through the Marin Chapter of the American Assn. for the United Nations, it was announced by Mrs. Hale Benton of San Rafael, chairman of the drive.

The chairman of the UNICEF Greeting Card sales program pointed out that the proceeds from each box of 10 cards would mean a daily cup of milk for 45 hungry children for one week, or the vaccine to protect 60 youngsters from tuberculosis.

THE 1962 series will meet a variety of tastes. The spirit of Christmas is especially evident in two designs donated by Fritz Busse, "Christmas Morning," and "The Creche." In "The Messenger," America's famous Arnold Blanch shows an angel bringing glad tidings to a sleeping town, and his second card portrays Middle Eastern pilgrims about to start out on their quest under the guidance of a brilliant star.

OTHER DESIGNS include two African folklore scenes: "Winter Carnival" by American "primitive" painter Leo Schutzman, and a series of five colorful cards, "Festival of Birds," contributed by Spain's Roser Agell.

The entire UNICEF selection can be seen or purchased by calling Mrs. Benton or Mrs. Eric Moeller of Ross.

City Life Aid To Turkish Women In Fight For Rights

ISTANBUL (UPI) — Four out of five Turkish women still live in some of the most primitive social and political circumstances in the world.

Paradoxically the remaining one in five is surrounded by exactly the reverse.

This is the difference between living in a village and in a city in Turkey. And 80 per cent of the country's 15 million women live in villages.

IN THEORY there should be no contrast, because Turkish women have equal rights in inheritance, in marriage, in salaries and in politics. But in practice it does not work out that way.

In the villages there are far more women than men who still practice illegal polygamy. But it is not so in the cities, where the women are in the minority.

A woman in a village has no right whatsoever to speak her mind about social or political problems, and she votes according to instructions the leading local landlord has given to her husband.

BUT IN ISTANBUL, Ankara and Izmir women led students against the police and army during the anti-Menderes riots in April, 1960. The riots culminated in a military coup.

Most of the women in villages work as field hands. Yet among the female population in the cities there are teachers, industrial workers, doctors, professors, parliamentary deputies, lawyers, judges, jet pilots, naval officers, engineers and policewomen.

IN THE VILLAGE, the woman covers her face and wears the robes created by her ancestors. In the cities, she follows the latest French and American fashions, and displays the tiniest bikini on the beaches of the Bosporus in Istanbul.

She plays or listens to Oriental music in the village and cannot read or write.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Art Of Bridge Is Losing Right Tricks At Just The Right Time

Bridge may be defined as the art of losing tricks. (In fact, this definition is just right for some of our regular partners.)

East put up the king of spades at the first trick, and South won with the ace. Declarer saw that he could easily win two tricks in each suit and that his best chance for a ninth trick was in clubs.

AN ARTIST

Considering himself quite an artist, South led a low club from his hand and played a low club from dummy.

South meant to lose this trick, of course, and he succeeded. It was the only success he had.

East returned a spade, and South stepped up with the queen of spades. Then South led another club to dummy's king.

BREAKS RECORD

When the clubs failed to break South broke the record for the sitting jaw-drop. There was no ninth trick. South's artistry, to put it another way, had enabled him to lose five tricks.

We artists can't snicker at the very idea of losing the first trick in a suit. It's often the right play, but not in this hand.

South should start the clubs by playing the ace and king. If nobody shows out, declarer can continue with a third club to set up two tricks in dummy.

TRICKS LATER

He can get to those tricks later by way of the ace of diamonds.

Actually, South finds out that the clubs are not going to break. Now he must play for a 3-3 break in diamonds. He takes the king of diamonds and deliberately loses the next diamond.

This time the artistry is necessary. South can win the spade return and lead a diamond to dummy's ace.

When the suit breaks favorably, dummy can cash the last diamond to assure the game and rubber.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Peptic Ulcers In Children Seem To Be Increasing In This Country

VAN DELLEN

Peptic ulcer in children is on the increase. According to one authority, the condition is more common than diabetes and rheumatic fever among the small-fry. An upsurge of emotional problems appears t o be the most logical explanation.

Dr. Margaret Prouty of Madison, Wis., and her colleague, Dr. Dorothy Oakley, diagnosed 34 new cases of ulcer in youngsters in the 12-month period ending March, 1961. All had X-ray evidence to prove it. Many had one parent with ulcer and, in one family, three children and both parents were afflicted.

DOCTOR PROUTY SAYS the majority in this series were intelligent children but they were perfectionists who "want everything just right." These boys and girls were highstrung and jittery as a rule with strong needs for praise, appreciation, and love. The craters developed when there were personality clashes or other emotional problems.

One of the group was a 6-year-old boy who had been bothered for more than a year with abdominal distress. Hospitalization was advised when pain b e c a m e more severe, awakening him at night. Stomach X-rays revealed an ulcer.

THE LAD COME from a family where the mother was emotionally disturbed and the father insecure. He usually gave in to his wife's judgment, which was not as sound as his because she was riddled with fears. She blamed the father for the child's condition. The nurses in the hospital said the youngster was smart alecky and talked back frequently. Pain subsided but returned soon after he got home.

Doctor Prouty lost track of the family but was pleasantly surprised when the mother and son came to the office eight months later, calm and relaxed. The mother told of having developed a lung condition that required 10 weeks of hospital care. The father took over at home and, for the first time, he and his son began to understand each other. They became f r i e n d s and enjoyed doing things together. The child's ulcer healed, pain disappeared and everyone was happy.

STUDIES HAVE shown that the ulcer personality is not easily changed. There is a 50-50 chance that a duodenal ulcer beginning in childhood will erupt again in adulthood. Victims of this disease apparently have a stomach that overreacts to emotional upheavals. The pattern may be inherited because changes have been noted early in life, event hough not every adult with ulcer tells of having been bothered along this line in childhood.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

International Imported Car Show Opens, Drawing Many Spectators

The International Imported Car Show opened at Brooks Hall in San Francisco today with many hundreds turning out to see new models and special displays.

Among the latter, the "fastest car on earth," the Railton Napier Mobil drew throngs of lookers. This is the first time Americans have had a chance to view it since 1947 when the late John Cobb roared the speed giant over the Bonneville Salt Flats to capture the world's land speed record. In the flying one mile he traveled 385.6 mph in one direction and 403 in the other for an average of 394.196. In the flying kilometer he averaged 393.825. Recent unsuccessful attempts to topple those long standing records dramatize them as among the most challenging of our times.

The Railton Napier Mobil continue to be shown throughout the show which ends next Sunday. A priceless collection of royal cars has been assembled for the Concours d' Elegance — a custom Mercedes-Benz complete with telephone and wireless facilities belonging to King Ibn Saud of Arabia; Czar Nicholas the Second's 1911 Rolls-Royce; King George the Fifth's three and a half ton 1910 Daimler and many others.

There's a continuous film festival of road races and car action; sports car clubs are running rallies every night of the show starting at 7—except Thanksgiving; Autocross and Gymkhana contests are scheduled for Thanksgiving, Saturday and Sunday.

Name any one of the imported makes of cars sold in Marin and you'll find them on display at the show—plus several others seldon seen. Also a number of exhibits of parts and accessories, trophies and foreign motorcycles.

Many Marin imported car dealers and their salesmen are taking part in floor exhibits throughout the week.

CLIFFORD A. LIONBARGER of San Rafael, quality assurance manager at the Terra Linda plant of Fairchild Semiconductor, spoke before the engineers' club of the Institute of Radio Engineers today in Los Angeles. His subject was "Cost of Reliability Specifications from the Vendor's Viewpoint."

OPEN SIX DAYS. Last Wednesday we listed Bon Air Cleaners in Greenbrae as open from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays—and started a flurry of worried houseswives telephoning the plant to inquire if it had decided to close on Saturdays.

No, it didn't. The fault is ours. It's open on Saturdays, too.

ACACIA MUTUAL LIFE which claims to be one of the first companies in this state to use the Table of Mortality adopted by California in 1961 and which will become mandatory for all companies on Jan. 1, 1966, is now offering two policy lines. One with premiums based on the 3 per cent reserve basis and the other on the 2.5 per cent reserve plan.

The company has established graded premiums for policies over $4,000, lower rates for women and a number of low cost contracts. Acacia is a 94-year-old company with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Women's Wear Shop In Novato Changes Hands

Gwendolyn's Style Shop at 1518 Grant Avenue, Novato, has been sold to Mrs. Willeta Moore, she announced today.

Mrs. Moore bought the shop from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cleland. She said she will remodel the store gradually, adding more stock. She will keep the same employees, she announced.

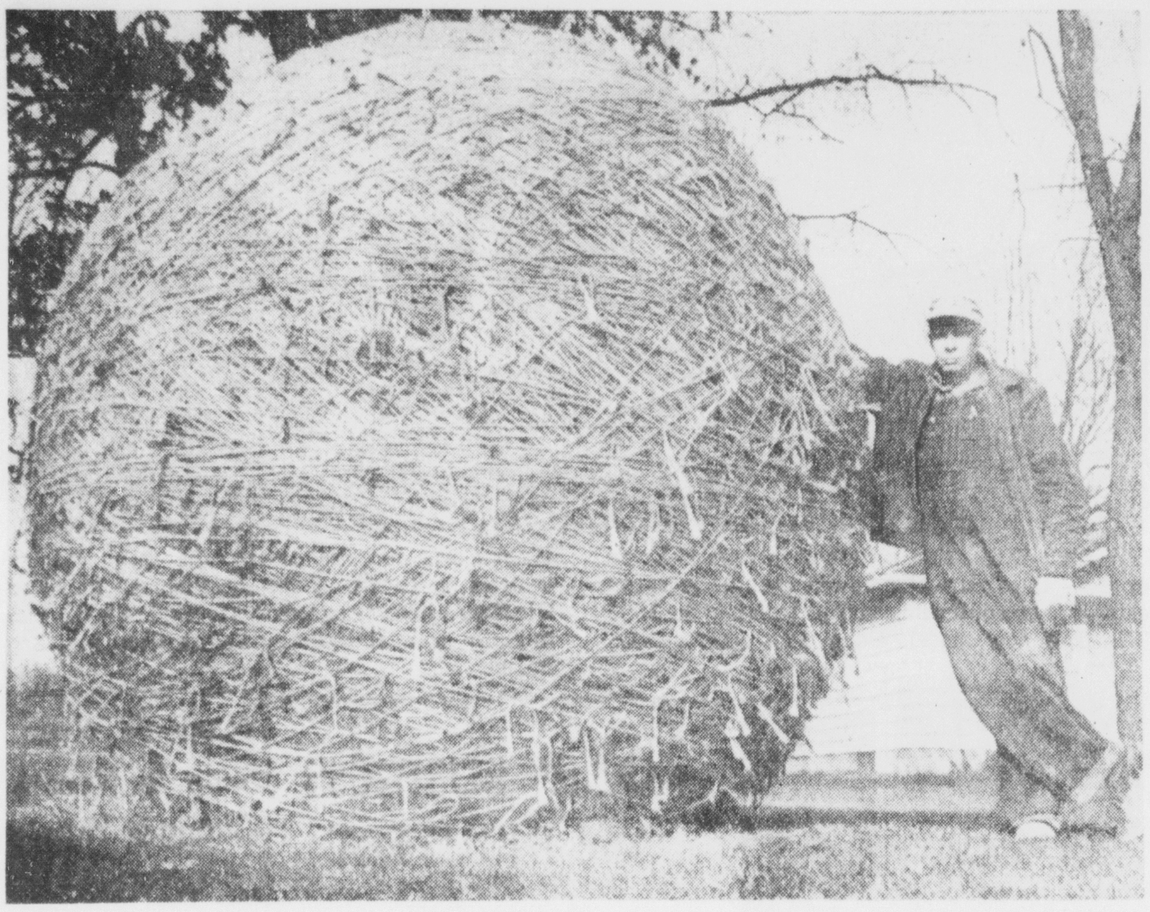

Mrs. Moore is not a newcomer to Novato business. Originally she came from Spokane, Wash., where she had an infants' children's and maternity shop. She also manufactured children's dresses under the name of "Nancy's Originals." She opened Moore's department store in the same building as Rayburn's Market in Novato and operated it until the building burned four years ago. Later she had a square dance and yardage shop in the Patio building.

Virginia had a system of government-supported mental hospitals, in 1773. Kentucky was the second state to set up a state-supported system of mental hospitals, doing so in 1816.

FARMER GATHERS A LOT OF STRING

Farmer Francis A. Johnson of Darwin, Minn., started saving twine about 12 years ago, and he now has it wound into this ball, eight feet in diameter and weighs two tons. Unraveled, it would stretch more than 240 miles. Johnson gets most of the bits and pieces from farmer friends who have it left over from baling. A son of the late Magnus Johnson, former U. S. Senator from Minnesota, Johnson also has collected nail aprons and 4,000 pencils. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Postmasters Urge Early Mailing

Marin County postmasters today urged early and careful mailing of Christmas cards and gifts in order to assure safe delivery in time for the holiday.

Post offices are adding extra clerks and expanding facilities to handle an anticipated record volume of mail.

San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams offered the following advice on holiday mailing:

1. Use sturdy corrugated cardboard cartons for packages, binding with heavy paper adhesive and strong cord. Contents should be cushioned with tissue or old newspaper.

2. For parcels of unusual size and bulk, check with the post office on size and weight limits.

3. Put extra labels carrying both sender's and recipient's addresses inside cartons and parcels.

4. Send Christmas cards by first class mail, using 4-cent stamps. This assures quicker delivery, forwarding and return privileges and permits inclusion of written messages.

5. Include your return address on every greeting card envelope; it helps keep friends' mailings lists up to date.

6. Sort cards into two bundles, for local and out of town delivery, facing all one way and securing with free labels available at post offices for this purpose.

7. Mail cards and gifts to distant destinations first, preferably before Dec. 10. Mailings to nearby points should be before Dec. 15.

Marin Foundation Group Asks Road Decision

The executive committee of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, in a communication to the State Highway Commission, has called for early determination of routing for the proposed San Rafael-West Marin highway.

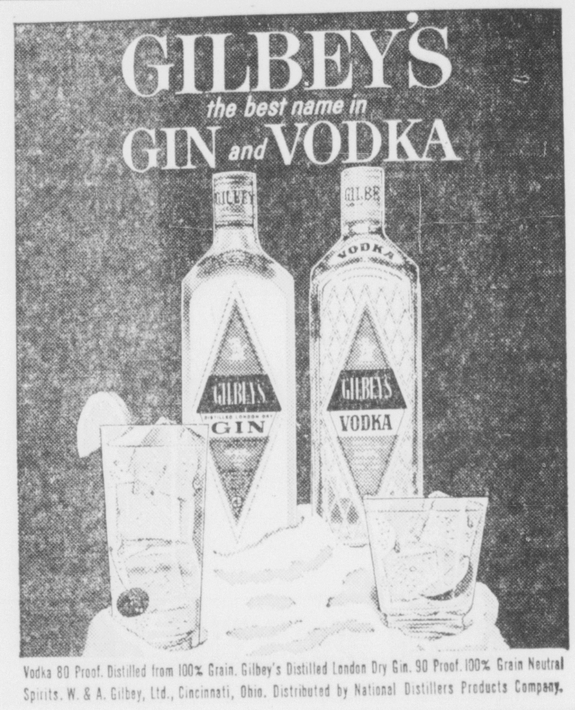

The committee recommended to the commission the route be drawn "with particular reference to the Point Reyes National Seashore."

The natural beauty through which the route will pass, should be preserved, the committee stressed.

State engineers, at an Oct. 27 public hearing at San Rafael High School, said it would be two years before a route is selected and five years before the road is built.

Convalescent Hospital Approved For Santa Venetia By Planners

Construction of a 30-bed convalescent hospital at 24 San Pablo Avenue in Santa Venetia was approved yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The hospital, on a 34,000-square-foot parcel, was approved subject to conditions including 25 parking spaces, a fire hydrant and approval of landscaping and architectural plans. Although a use permit for the hospital was approved last year, applicant Doreen M. Nelson had to request a new permit because of density changes in the Gallinas Valley Master Plan.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Approved plans for a concrete mausoleum in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. It will be built near two existing mausoleums at the cemetery entrance near the end of Fifth Avenue.

2. Approved construction of a wooden sign, 24 feet long and six feet high, at the entrance of Gallinas Village Shopping Center on North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia. Staff planner Edmund Kagi said the sign, identifying the center, is part of a landscape improvement project.

3. Approved plans for a Union Oil service station at the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard and Blackfield Drive in Tiburon. The station is designed in a "Japanese style." Commissioner Felix M. Warburg said he was opposed to service stations in the area, but "this one is well-designed."

4. Continued to Dec. 3 consideration of plans for an interior decorator's shop at 915 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield. Applicant John DeVries asked for time in which to request a variance to allow four off-street parking spaces instead of eight.

5. Approved revised plans for a convent at the St. Hilary Church and School at 761 Hilary Drive, Tiburon. The building will adjoin the school on a site including 130 parking spaces. Approval is subject to review of a landscaping plan.

6. Continued until Dec. 3 consideration of plans for a nursery school at the Westminster Presbyterian Church 240 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon. The one-story building will be used as a nursery on weekdays and a church school on Sundays.

Sausalito City Job Holding On Council Agenda

Sausalito city councilmen are to discuss the propriety of one person holding both an elective and appointive job with the city at their meeting tonight in city hall.

Two letters have been received, one from the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, the other from John J. Gallas, questioning the dual role of Charles A. Brown as city manager and city clerk.

Also on the agenda at the 8 p.m. meeting is a subcommittee report on the proposed new zoning ordinance, the lease of Shelter Cove by Portofino Marin and a request by Stanley P. Berney for use permit and Variance to build 13 apartments, eight commercial units, and some professional offices in the Bridgeway-Princess Street area.
